Monango community betterment supports community projects

Dickey County Leader March 14-1988

The annual meeting of the Monango Community Betterment Corporation will be held Monday, March 14, at the Monango City Hall at 8 p.m. Business for the annual meeting will include annual reports and election of three directors. Directors whose terms expire are Mildred Gebhardt, Dale Radermacher and Walter Rithmiller. Each director will be elected for a three year term.

Since its organization in 1983 the Monango Community Betterment Corporation has held numerous and varied money making events. These include the annual Fall Festival and Turkey Bar-b-que, Craft Show, Card Parties, concession stand at the Dickey County Fair and "Oh, Yes! The Fry Bread Wagon! Their original goal was to raise money to put on a celebration for the Monango Centennial. Since the fulfillment of this goal the Monango Community Betterment Corporation has continued to make contributions and support numerous community projects.

In August 1986 the Betterment assisted in the combined community effort of the AAL of Monango, in operating the concession stand at the Dickey County Fair. Also proceeds from the Pie Auction at the Fall Festival were contributed to this community project. Local funds were matched by the AAL and a power wheelchair was purchased for Michael Norman.

A contribution has been made to the Monango Softball Club for the 1988 season.

Other members of the Board of Directors are Ellen Fiechtner, Benny Bardell, Kenneth Kellogg, Bertha Knox, Brenda Radermacher, George Speidel. All Betterment members and community residents are cordially invited to attend the Annual Meeting to be held March 14. Prizes will be awarded and lunch will be served.

Proceeds from a day with the Fry Bread Wagon were donated to the Ellendale Swimming Pool Fund.

In November 1986 an appreciation supper was held to show their thanks to all members of the community who helped in any way to make the Monango Centennial a success.

In 1987 a new LP gas furnace was installed in the Monango City Hall by the Monango Community Betterment Corporation in appreciation of using the hall as its meeting place.

Having encountered the problem of birds roosting in the picnic shelter, it was decided to install a metal ceiling in the picnic shelter. This addition, which was paid for by the Betterment, greatly aided in deterring the birds from frequenting the building. Also a metal storage room was constructed in one corner of the building to facilitate storage of folding tables and chairs and other equipment used in the building.

A contribution was given to the Fullerton Community Betterment's Carroll House restoration project. A contribution was also pledged to the Whitestone Battlefield Historical Association for the fencing project which they are planning.

Centennial History Books were donated to the Monango School Library, Ellendale Public Library, and the Dickey County Museum in Ellendale.

An appreciation gift was given to the Tom Norman family for all the work that Mike and Joel, especially, did during the Centennial, addressing and stuffing envelopes, reading and searching for information for the history book, numbering tickets and countless other time-consuming jobs.

The annual meeting of the Monango Community Betterment Corporation will be held on Monday, March 14, at 8 p.m. at the Monango town hall. 1988

Sunliner convertible to be a real classic

Bernie Schaffer, Monango, North Dakota had an idea and decided to run with it. He wants to restore a 1956 black and white Sunliner Ford convertible to its original sheen. How do you take a rusted-out, non-running piece of history and make it a work of art? Dale Aman, the body man, would tell you to do it step by step and carefully. He explained that the first step is to cut the rusted metal out with a grinder, replace it with new metal, and weld it in.

"Some of the spots you could see right through the metal. There were bad spots," Dale explained. "I've done a couple cars. This is the main one I've gotten this involved in." It took three weeks of work just to cut rust and weld.

Dale said the car rusted out naturally from sitting out in the cold, rain, and snow. Next Dale put on a primer and plastic. He must also apply a metal conditioner to prep the metal and to keep the rust from returning. The surface must be sanded down so that the primer stays on. Dale roughed out the dented areas for more plastic work and primer. He will use black and white paint on the finished product.

The body is mounted on a rotating axle in case Dale needs to flip the whole body over to work on it.

Bernie has titles on the car from five owners. It was manufactured in San Jose, California in January 1956. It originally had a 292 C.I.D. Thunderbird Y-8 engine.

The car's first owner was Larry Don Mason from South San Francisco. He sold it to Wolfgang Pukollos from Huron, SD in August of 1966. December 1969 it was given as a gift to Suzanne Richman, a high school student in Huron. She sold it to John Giesler of Murdo, SD in 1974. It was displayed in the Pioneer Auto Museum in Murdo for 12 years until 1986. The pioneer Museum displays atleast 700 cars, all different makes and models according to Bernie. Bernie purchased the Sunliner in December of 1987. He even intends to use the initials SUN LNR for the license plate. He expects to spend around $8,000 for the total restoration. He has already completed $1600 worth of chroming on the ornaments, fenders, and other chrome parts.

"We should have it done by July, maybe sooner," Bernie said. He will then enter the car in parades and car shows. He intends to keep the car himself, since it is a classic.

The 1956 Sunliner convertible, the Crown Victoria and the Victoria two-door hardtop were always something special. All three are collectors editions. Bernie says he has two Crowns to restore after the Sunliner is completed.

Steve Bollinger, Monango, son of Delane and Betty Bollinger, will graduate from the University of North Dakota School of Medicine on Saturday, May 14, at the Chester Fritz Auditorium, the UND campus in Grand Forks. He is graduating from the Internal Medicine Residency, Bundersen Medical Foundation, LaCross, Wisconsin.

Monango Community Betterment 1988

Monango Community Betterment Corporation's 5th Annual Fall Festival and Turkey Bar-B-Que will be held Sat. Sept. 3, 1988.

Activities will begin at 1:30 p.m. with entries for the pie contest and vegetable contest due at that time.

Categories for the largest vegetable contest are: tomatoe, potato, cucumber, carrot, pumpkin, onion, pepper, water melon and corn.

The pies entered in the apple pie contest will be auctioned off prior to the serving of the Bar-B-Que. Proceeds will go towards the summer activity programs initiated by the Monango Community Betterment Corporation this year and which they hope to make an event. The 4-week program included sessions of basketball and volleyball for both grade and high school students.

This year's program was instructed by Paulette Radermacher.

A new feature at the Fall Festival will be the Barn Yard Olympics.

A fun flea market will be held and the public is invited to display their items.

Monodak Homemakers and Monango Community Betterment invite everyone in the area to the second in a series of drought stress discussions and potluck suppers to be held in the Monango School lunchroom Sunday evening, Sept. 11 at 7 p.m. A videotape will be shown. Beverages and utensils will be provided; please bring a dish to share. 1988

Aug 29-1988 Monango Teacher Fall Festival

right on target Sept 3-1988

The Monango Betterment has many activities in store for their 5th annual Fall Festival, under the direction of Dale Radermacher. They have added some new events in addition to the usual turkey barbecue. These include the "Barn Yard Olympics" and volley ball. There are many other games for all ages. Prizes will be awarded to the winners.

The games begin at 1:30 with the tricycle race for kids under 5. Please bring your own tricycle. Children's games will follow. The games include pie eating, watermelon eating, nail pounding, sack racing, and a scavenger hunt. The children's games are for all children 12 and under.

The Barnyard Olympics will follow the children's games. It will take teams of two (1 male and 1 female) to participate in the games, so find your favorite partner and get ready for a series of 10 events. The 10 events are corn shucking, milk chugging, taking the obstical course (egg), wheelbarrow race, inflation relay, watermelon seed spitting, square bale toss, the shoe kick and the balloon pop. The top 3 winners in each event will be given points: 5 for first, 3 for second, and 1 for third. The points will be tallied for an overall winner of the Barn Yard trophy. Prizes will also be awarded to the first place winner in each event. The Olympics are open to anyone of any age and all are encouraged to participate in the fun.

Adult games of the square bale toss, nail pounding, and the horse shoe throw will convene later in the afternoon. The pie auction is set for 4:30 and the meal begins at 5 p.m.

The monango Softball team will give some entertaining exhibition of volleyball at 6:30 p.m. at the brand new volley ball court built by Monango Betterment. At 8 p.m. another volleyball exhibition is scheduled. The dance will be held in the park shelter at 9 p.m.

Aug 22-1988 Leader.

The Monango Community Betterment Corp. sponsored a summer recreation program for grades 4 through 12 for 3 days a week for 4 weeks.

The 30 participants were from Fullerton, Merricourt, and Monango and received instruction in basketball and volleyball.

Paulette Radermacher who is entering her third year as head basketball coach and also is assistant head coach in volleyball and track at Bagley, Mn. was the instructor.

Proceeds from the apple pie auction at the Monango fall festival on Sept. 3, 1988 will fund next summer's activities program.

Monango softball team does well

Aug-29-88

There were nearly 130 teams in Fargo, for the 1988 Class F State Softball Tournament which was held on August 13 and 14. The Monango softball team pleased their hometown fans by making it to the top 16. Despite wet, soggy fields and rain on Saturday and a major injury to one of their players, Monango players managed to play tough defense, and score many runs to advance through the tournament, with a record of three wins and one loss.

The first game against a team from Pembina started slow for Monango, as they only scored two runs in five innings. However, in the sixth inning patience and persistence paid off as they scored a whopping 14 runs.

Pat Nelson lead the way, hitting four for four. All four of his hits were doubles as an added bonus. Four other players showed hot bats as well. LeRoy Gruenich, Darrell Bardell, and Mitch Carlson each were three for four, while Mike Young was three for five. Mitch managed a variety in hitting as he had one single, one double, and one triple in the game. LeRoy Gruenich pitched the full seven innings for the win.

The Fireside Lounge from Embdin ran into the late hitting Monango buzz saw in the second game on Saturday. As in the first game, Monango put most of their runs together late in the game. Roger Hildenbrand started the rally with a base hit, followed by a series of hits by the rest of the team, scoring a total of eight runs. Roger was perfect with the bat as he went three for three. Additional batting help came from Mike Young, Dale Radermacher and Darrell Bardell each going three for four. Darrell Bardell held the team from Embdin at bay for the full game.

Bright, warm sunshine greeted the Monango players Sunday morning as they met the team from Grafton. Very tough defense kept the opposition from scoring many runs, while the Monango bats kept hovering, waiting for their chance to score big. Monango struck late in the game once again, scoring six runs in the bottom of the sixth. Ryan Scallon lead the way with a double, just one of his three hits from three times at bat. Dale Radermacher and LeRoy Gruenich also proved to be supermen from the plate as they went three for three. For LeRoy, his batting proved to be the bright spot in his day as he was unable to finish the game or play again in the rest of the tournament after suffering a severe hand injury in a gallant, but futile effort to stop a line drive. Darrell Bardell finished the game for the save, LeRoy was credited for the win.

The final game of the day was not as bright as they had hoped. The Sports Lounge team from West Fargo managed to find the holes in the Monango defensive wall and strip the bats from the steadily swinging men. Monango could only muster up two runs the whole game, these came in the fourth inning, with Mitch Carlson and Pat Nelson each on base with singles, Ryan Scallon brought them home with a double. Ryan and Pat each had two hits from three times at the plate. Darrell Bardell went the distance from the mound.

Manager Jeff Fregien, along with the team sponsor, the Triple R. Bar and Grill, were very pleased with the team's performance. The team appreciated their local fans, as well as those from Fargo, and Minneapolis, who cheered and supported the team throughout the tournament.

The scores at the end of the four games were as follows: Game one, Monango 16 and Bob's Tax Free Liquors (Pembina) 7. Game two, Monango 13 and Fireside Lounge (Embdin) 4. Game three, Monango 9 and Grafton 3. Game four, Monango 2 and Sports Lounge (West Fargo) 9.

The Pie auction netted $157.50 for the Monango Youth Summer Recreation Program. The pies were the three winners from the pie baking contest. 1st place pie - Florence Ulmer; 2nd Place Ruth Rithmiller, and 3rd Esther Wolff. The kids will really appreciate your pie next summer.

The Fullerton and Monango match up in Volley ball later in the evening was not so evenly matched, as the visitors proved to be "tall" boys, not only in size but in their game too. Fullerton won both games quite easily. Although things were uneven everyone enjoyed the game on the new sand court. The Betterment encourages all who wish to use the court. A ball can be obtained at the Triple R in Monango.

A big thank you is extended ^{From the Monango betterment} to all who worked so diligently, those who donated their time and equipment, and you that attended to Make this years Fall Festival a big success

Monango's Fall Festival Hi-lighted

Over 310 people enjoyed the fantastic meal served by the Monango Betterment at their 5th annual Fall Festival, making it a big success. Everyone enjoyed games, prizes, ribbons and trophies.

Winners for the events are:

Tricycle race (5 and under) Amber Smith.
Pie Eating (12 and under) Patric Bollinger.
Watermelon Eating (12 and under) Sheldon Leppert.
Sack Race (12 and under) Jenny Fregien.
Scavenger Hunt (12 and under) Alyssa and Crystal Werre.
Nail Pounding (Sheldon Leppert and Sandi Radermacher.

Many adults especially enjoyed the tiny tots tricycle race, and other adults enjoyed the lemon and banana cream pie and watermelon while others jumped and pounded their hearts out during the children's games during the afternoon.

Fun, excitement, and even a little tension were felt by those daring 16 couples that participated in the first "Barn Yard Olympics." They considered it great fun too.

Cindy Fiechtner and Toby Rath were the grand champions. They won 3 of 8 events and placed in all the others except for two. Tim Bollinger and Beth Wagner came on to win the last 2 events to take second. Games and winners are as follows:

1st Place: Cindy Fiechtner and Toby Rath.

2nd Place: Gene and Michelle Bollinger.

2nd Place—Crystal Werre and Jenny Fregien, and 3rd Place—Cindy Fiechtner and Toby Rath.

Balloon Pop:

1st—Cindy Fiechtner and Toby Rath, 2nd—Tim Bollinger and Beth Wagner, and 3rd—Alyssa Werre and Todd Petersen.

Corn Husking:

1st—Gene and Michelle Bollinger, 2nd—Brett and Bev Todd, and 3rd—Mitch Carlson and Darlene Fregien.

Bale Toss:

1st—Cindy Fiechtner and Toby Rath, 2nd—Brenda and Al Bollinger and 3rd—Mitch Carlson and Darlene Fregien.

Wheel Barrow Race:

1st—Sandy and Shorty Radermacher, 2nd—Brett and Bev Todd, and 3rd—Cindy Fiechtner and Toby Rath.

Shoe Kick

1st—Tim Bollinger and Beth Wagner, 2nd—Cindy Fiechtner and Toby Rath, and 3rd—Nickie Fregien and Sheldon Leppert.

Egg Race: (Obstacle Course)

1st—Tim Bollinger and Beth Wagner, 2nd—Sabrina Radermacher and Bev Leppert, and 3rd—Brett and Bev Todd.

The adult games showed very fierce competition as all the games stayed close until the very end. The winners were:

Mens Bale Toss: Toby Rath
Women's Bale Toss: Michelle Bollinger.
Mens nail pounding: Dale Radermacher
Womens nail pounding: Jo Rithmiller.
Mens Horseshoes: Don Hoops
Womens horseshoes: Sandy Radermacher.

Gardners from all over showed their prowess as they displayed their largest vegetables, despite poor growing conditions this summer.

Tomato: Esther Wolff

Cucumber: Jordan Hamilton

Onion: Tom Norman

Pepper: Rachael Gebhardt

Corn: Dale Radermacher

Watermelon: Jamie Mattson

Pumpkin: Jason Richter

Cabbage: Viloa Rithmiller

Beet: Rachael Gebhardt

During the day everyone had a chance to sign up for door prizes, and play guessing games. The guessers had to be pretty good since most of the winners were within one number. The winners were:

No. of Candy in jar: Tuesday Bardell, No. of Candy in Jar (donated by Esther Wolff) Marie Radermacher. Cost of the bag of groceries—Steve Fiechtner, Weight of honey (donated by Esther Wolff) Marie Radermacher, total weight of Brenda and Gene Radermacher—Troy Radermacher, number served at BBQ—Rachael Gebhardt, Childrens door prizes ($10 each) Heidi Mills and Tyler Pernsteiner, Jar of honey: Victor Bollinger.

$25 gift certificates:

Ulmers Super Valu—Don Moore
Houghton's Meat Market—Sam Gebhardt

Kosel's Four Seasons—Wilbert Otterstetter.

The pie auction netted $157.50 for the Monango Youth Summer Recreation Program. The pies were the 3 winners from the pie baking contest. 1st place—Florence Ulmer, 2nd place—Ruth Rithmiller and 3rd place—Esther Wolff.

The Fullerton and Monango match up in volley ball later in the evening was not so evenly matched as the visitors proved to be the "tall boys", not only in size but in their game too. Fullerton won both games quite easily. Although things were a little uneven, everyone enjoyed the game on the new sand court. The Betterment encourages all who wish to use the court to check at Triple R in Monango for a ball.

A big thank you is extended from the Monango Betterment to all those who worked so diligently, those who donated time and equipment, and you that attended to make this years fall festival a big success.

The Descriptive Marker depicts the events leading to and following the battle at Whitestone Hill on September 3rd and 5th, 1863. The cost of the Marker is shared by the Whitestone Hill Battlefield Historical Society and the State Historical Society of North Dakota.

The dedication program is sponsored by the Whitestone Hill Battlefield Historical Society. For more information you may contact Arvin Hauck, Forbes, ND, (701-357-7651) or Dorene Brandenburger, Monango, ND, (701-396-7241).

In case of inclement weather the program will be held in the Kulm High School Gym, Kulm, ND. Notice will be given over KSJB and KFJR radio stations.

Descendent of Chief Two Bears to speak at Whitestone

A program to dedicate the descriptive marker which was erected at the Whitestone Battlefield historical site earlier this year will be held on Sunday, Sept. 4. The battlefield is located 13 miles southeast of Kulm (roads are posted). A performance by the Kulm City Band will begin the program at 1:30 p.m.

Karl Limvere, a State Historical Society Board of Directors member from Ypsilanti will give the dedication speech on behalf of the State Historical Society. The cost of the descriptive marker was shared by the State Historical Society of North Dakota and the Whitestone Hill Battlefield Historical Society. The marker depicts the events of the battle and the dedication of the marker commemorates the 125th anniversary of the battle at Whitestone Hill.

The featured speaker for the afternoon is Susan Power of Chicago, Ill., Museum of Science and Industry. Power, a great-granddaughter of Chief Two Bears, has entitled her speech, "Two Bears, a Peaceful Chief."

Two Bears, chief of the Yanktonnai, fought his last battle with the U.S. government in 1863 at Whitestone Hill. After the battle, he settled on the Standing Rock Reservation in 1873 for the survival of the remaining members of his tribe.

Power proudly speaks of the legacy of the Two Bears family. People such as her mother, Josephine Kelly, who always patterned her life after that of her grandfather's life, which was a life dedicated to caring for his people.

This program is being sponsored by the Whitestone Hill Battlefield Historical Society. For more information, contact Arvin Hauck of Forbes, Society president, 701-357-7651. In case of inclement weather, the program will be held in the Kulm High School gym. Notice will be given over KSJB and KFJR radio stations.

VOLUNTEERS RESCUE CATTLE

THIS was the sickening scene Saturday, Mar. 5, at the Chris and Victor Bollinger farm near Monango when volunteers from Ellendale attempted to rescue some 90 head of Angus cattle from a pole barn which had collapsed under a 10-foot accumulation of wet snow. In all, 66 animals died in the crush. (Photo by Jim Stinson.)

St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Monango, N.D.

In 1903 the first church building was erected three miles west of Monango and dedicated in October. The congregation had the joy of hearing their first shepherd, Pastor C. Bode, at the dedication of the church building. The first church is pictured here.

During the night after Ascension Day -- May 15, 1915 -- the church was struck by lightning and burned completely.

A prayer service was held soon after in which the congregation decided to rebuild. The cornerstone was laid on August 15, 1915, and the structure completed in the summer of 1916.

The first services were in German. Then, once a month they held an English service. By 1943 the entire service was in English.

In 1947 St. Paul's Lutheran Church was moved from its site three miles west of Monango into the city. The church was placed on a new foundation and still sits there today. The congregation is being served by Pastor Stephen Juergensen.

St. Paul's Lutheran Church held a special service for the centennial of Monango, June 29, 1986. -- pictures and write-up supplied by Mrs. Richard Wolff.

President Dale Radermacher
Monango Community Betterment Corporation
Monango, ND 58471

Dear President Radermacher:

I have examined the statements of Revenue and Expenditures for the fiscal year ended February 28, 1989. My examination was made in accordance with generally accepted accounting standards and accordingly included such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures as I considered necessary.

Since no discrepancies were found, it is my opinion that the requirements set forth by the By-Laws of the Monango Community Betterment Corporation concerning financial record keeping and control have been met.

This is an uncertified audit.

Sincerely,
Walter E. Rithmiller

Monango to Hold Fall Festival

Monango Community Betterment Corp. will hold its annual Fall Festival. This year's event will feature a Community Centennial pot luck picnic on Sunday, September 10th, at 1:00 p.m., at the Monango City Park.

The Betterment will furnish beverages, dessert and utensils. All present and former Monango area residents, friends, and relatives are invited to attend. A short program will follow right after dinner. The Monango frybread wagon will be in operation throughout the afternoon.

There will be a vegetable contest with ribbons for the following: longest ear of corn, largest onion, cabbage, cucumber, carrot, pepper, potato, pumpkin, muskmelon, watermelon, squash, and tomato. There will also be several guessing games with prizes. There will be games for kids of all ages including tricycle races, money in straw pile for the younger ones, foot races, 3 legged race, egg race, water bolloon race and a volleyball game for all the young at heart. The afternoon's events will conclude with centennial cake and ice cream furnished by the Monango Community Betterment Corp.

The Monango Community Betterment Corp. does plan to continue its turkey bar-b-que in the future years but due to numerous centennial celebrations in the area this year, they will not have the bar-b-que.

As a part of their special centennial activities, the Monango Community Betterment Corp. will be having a special cleanup of the Monango City Cemetery. Head stones which have been undermined by gophers and rodents will be reset in concrete. Trees and brush which have overgrown the entrance to the cemetery will be removed and new signs will be erected on Dickey County highway 3 indicating the cemetery location.

Business to Relocate

July 15-1989

This week Robert Coleman, former owner of Coleman Clothing, presented Walter Rithmiller with the keys to the Coleman building at 55 Main Street which has been a landmark in Ellendale for years.

Rithmiller is the owner of the Rithmiller Tax Service which has been located at 58 South 1st Street. He stated that due to an increase in his tax and accounting business, which at times employs as many as seven people, more space was needed for the business operation. Rithmiller said that he will be utilizing the entire building. Renovation of the building should be completed sometime in the month of August when the Rithmiller Tax Service will be moving to this new location.

MONANGO: Damaged

Someone may have been getting in a little target practice in anticipation of the hunting season when they opened fire on two lawn ornaments Sunday.

Emil and Hulda Retzlaff returned to their home four miles north of Monango Sunday evening to find their two cement deer shattered by gunfire.

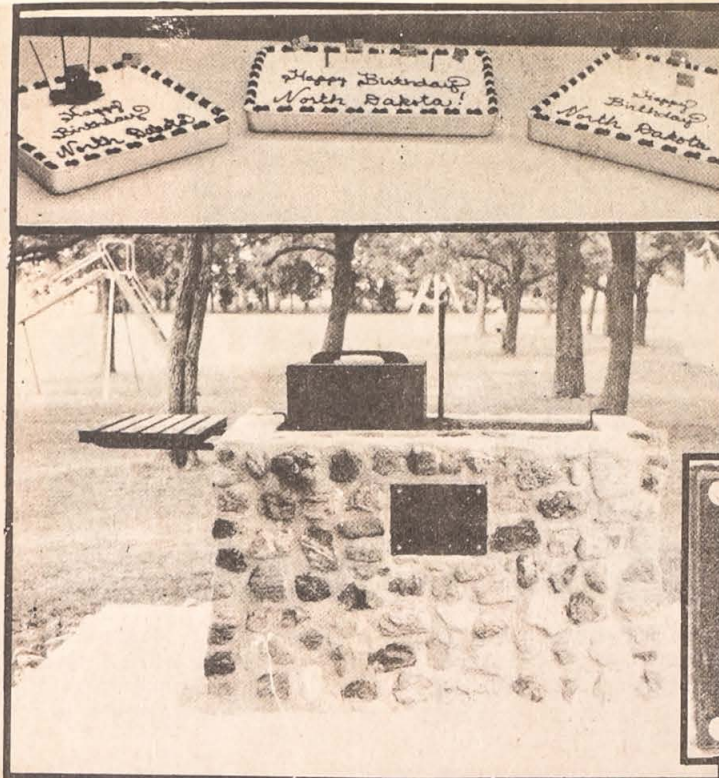

Dickey County Sheriff Walter Raugutt said a $300 reward is being offered for any information regarding the incident.

Monango Fall Festival And Centennial Picnic

Department had been contacted and improvements were made to the road leading to the cemetery. Also signs have been purchased indicating the location of the cemetery, on Dickey County Highway # 3.

Trees and brush which have over-grown the approach to the cemetery will be removed. Tombstones which have been undermined by rodents will be raised and reset in cement.

About 75 residents of Monango and the surrounding community gathered Sunday, Sept. 10, 1989 to celebrate Monango's recognition of the 100th Birthday of North Dakota. Cool temperatures, cloudy skies, and the threat of showers didn't dampen the spirit of those in attendance as there was food in abundance at the Pot Luck Picnic which began the afternoon's events.

Following the noon meal, Monango Community Betterment Corporation President Dale Rademacher welcomed everyone who had come to participate in the days events. Dale called attention to the stone bar-b-que grill and fireplace which had been constructed in the Monango Park. Construction of the grill was done by Douglas Gohman. A plaque was mounted on the grill inscribed, "Dedicated to all who helped to make the 1986 Monango Centennial a Success". Built by Douglas Gohman. Donated by Monango Community Betterment Corporation 1989.

It is hoped that everyone will feel free to use and enjoy this fine addition to the Monango Park.

Kenneth Kellogg, Vice President, of the Betterment spoke on the Centennial projects which the Betterment has been working on. He made special mention of the five evergreen trees which Orlin and Ruth Hartman had donated to the Betterment for the City Park. The Betterment hired Earl Gall to move these trees to the park.

Kenneth mentioned the clean-up project and restoration of the Monango City Cemetery. The Dickey County Highway Kenneth Kellogg introduced Don Frigen who was chairman of the Monango Centennial History Book Committee. Don reflected upon the History of the Monango Cemetery as it appeared in the History Book. He noted it was not purchased until 1892 even though Monango was settled in 1886, indicating that early burials may have been in the Keystone Cemetery. It was originally maintained by the Monango Cemetery Association but due to the declining population of Monango, was turned over to the City of Monango in 1947. It is presently kept up by the City of Monango.

Don stated that many of the Founding Fathers of Monango had been layed to rest there including the town's doctor, Dr. H. R. Gundermann. Along with these pioneers rests the answer to Monango's Secret, the origin of the name of Monango.

Don said that he had read through the Journal of Centennial Events and projects being held throughout the State of North Dakota this 100th Year, and that he thought this was one of the few, if not the only project to restore a community cemetery. He felt that the Betterment should be commended for so honoring our forefathers in doing this restoration project.

Haystacks Burn in Monango

Ellendale Rural Fire Department were summoned early Tuesday morning to extinguish a haystack fire just slightly northwest of Monango. The department was summoned back again in the afternoon when the fire flared again. An outside stack had to be removed in order for the fire crew to get at the fire. The burning stack

1989 Dairy Princess Crowned

The reception was held for the new Dickey County Dairy Princess at the Farmer's Union Meeting Room in Ellendale on Saturday, June 3 at 2:30. Beverly Leppert, Merricourt, was crowned the new Dickey County Dairy Princess by the current North Dakota State Princess, Kerry Miller, who is also from Dickey County.

Beverly will go on to give her speech at the state contest held in Jamestown on June 29 and 30, during the Stutsman County Fair which coincides with the State Dairy Show. Beverly, who is sponsored by Land O' Lakes of Oakes, will be promoting dairy products for the next year. Please request Beverly for any dairy promotions in the area.

Wilson Dam Informational Meeting to be Held

An informational meeting will be held at the Merricourt Fire Hall next Tuesday, October 17th, 1989, at 7:00 p.m. on issues involving the Wilson Dam. The dam is located approximately 8 miles west of Monango.

Landowners and interested parties are invited by the North Dakota State Game & Fish Department, to attend this meeting and any and all issues will be discussed and resolved if possible.

Wilson Dam was constructed in 1968, through a Cooperative effort of the Dickey County Wildlife Association, the Dickey County Water Board, North Dakota State Water Board, and North Dakota State Game & Fish Department. Throughout the years, from 1968, silt had settled on the bottom of the lake and a variety of rough fish inhabited the waters, which includes a number of bullheads. According to those in charge, bullheads multiplied tremendously and game fish were few and far between. A decision was made to drain the lake behind the dam and kill the rough fish. Also, as long as the lake was drained, some of the bottom would be dredged or bulldozed out to make it slightly deeper in areas to help prevent winter kill of game fish.

The project was decided upon last year and drainage of the lake began last fall. The entire lake was emptied except for a couple of deeper areas that had served as planting and survival areas for fingerlings to survive in. The deeper areas, called stockponds, were then poisoned to kill all bullheads and rough fish. Several more areas were improved, this summer when the lake was empty, to provide better off-shore fishing areas. These areas were bulldozed out, a plastic sheeting laid, and the plastic was then covered with sand. This would provide a place for fisherman to cast from shore and not get hooks caught in weeds. The plastic is to eliminate the growth of weeds from the lake bottom. The fishing areas on the shore were also improved to better accommodate the fisherman.

According to our town-guide, Art Markhart of Ellendale, and a long-time member of the Dickey County Wildlife Association, was a project that does presently create some controversy, but in his estimation, will be a great improvement for the lake and its users. Fishing, he states, will be much better and the entire lake will be improved for whatever recreation you anticipate in enjoying there.

The lake is from 10 to 12 feet deep on the ordinary with the stock ponds approximately 20 feet deep. It is about 1/2 mile wide and 1 mile long. Plastic laid on the bottom of fishing areas are 40 to 100 feet pieces and in some areas several pieces are laid together to cover an entire fishing area. There is a boat ramp for young and old. Excellent picnic and camping areas also prevail.

In the near future, the Merricourt Volunteer Fire Department has committed themselves to burn the grass and weeds from the lake bottom and the Game & Fish Dept. will put tires and such on the lake bottom to provide areas for fish spawning.

The lake will be filled next spring from run-off and there will be adult perch planted early next spring. Later in the season, some Northern Pike will also be planted as an added game fish plus controlling the perch's population. If you have an interest in the Wilson Dam, be sure to attend the informational meeting.

Wilson Dam Project Gets "Green Light"

The Wilson Dam project got a green light all the way. Everyone that attended the meeting last Monday evening primarily agreed to go ahead with the project as planned beforehand. The project consisted of draining the lake, adding to the offshore fishing areas and trying to keep the lake free of bullheads and other rough fish.

Wilson Dam had been drained this year, the bottom dredged in places and the lake improved entirely. All areas possible were drained, the rough fish poisoned and all tributaries whether they be creeks, stockponds or whatever were either drained or poisoned for rough fish.

There however, was slight controversy as to whether live minnows could be used for bait in the future. The consensus was that no live bait should be used to try and keep the small lake free of rough fish that would, in time, eliminate the game fish.

Fish habitat is planned to be placed on the bottom of the lake. This consists of old tires, fastened together, old Christmas trees, and also some types of plastic pipe. This would enhance shelter from the sun, for the fish breeding and spawning grounds and also for microorganisms to grow that fish feed on. A lot of these are on an experimental basis but, by those knowledgeable in this area, feel it will all be beneficial in the future. However, this is strictly speculation and outcome in future years will determine the benefits.

There are other improvements contemplated for the lake and area. One is to light the picnic - camping and playground area near the lake. No definite decision was made on this but future plans will be assessed if money is available.

Several area residents have contributed to the lake and surrounding beautification and enhancement. These include from contributing rocks for rip-rap to supplying man-hours for some work that was not included in the original plans. All-in-all, the people living in and around the Wilson Dam area and many other sports-minded people have put a lot of effort into making this an exceptional recreation area for area residents as well as travelers. It is in the most part, an experimental project and hopefully will turn out to benefit many.

The lake will be filled next spring, weather permitting, and the fishermen, boaters and so forth will have lost one year of recreation on the lake, but future benefits hopefully should outweigh the loss. - Oct 21-1989

New Fire District Formed at Meeting Held Monday Evening Oct 28-1989

Seventy-nine people were present last Monday evening to form a new fire department. The meeting was to combine the Ellendale Fire Department with the Ellendale Rural Fire Department.

The meeting was held in the courtroom of the Dickey County Courthouse. Bob Bechtold, the Ellendale Fire Department Chief, was elected temporary Chairman and Bob Bradkey was elected temporary Secretary.

A motion was made to establish the new fire district and seconded so discussion could be held. Bob Bechtold fielded quite a number of questions from those present as did Erv Raymond, City Auditor, and Dan Diemert, City Attorney. Chief Bechtold explained to those present that at the present time, Ellendale had its own officers, as did the rural department. The new district would eliminate the duplication. Also there were two different sets of books and Ellendale City also paid some expenses. The new district would eliminate basically three sets of books and would all be incorporated into one set of books as with officers. He explained, it would be easier to set up a budget under one set of books, as the present system, it was difficult, if not impossible to figure income and expenses to the penny. Bechtold also explained that there is some misconception as to what it takes to run the fire departments, but he said the budgeted amount is approximately $17,000. The state rebate is near $11,000 so the new fire department would have to raise, by taxation or whatever way the board of directors would decide. Monies could be raised for the budget, by taxation, assessment, fire call charges or however the board would decide. Budgets of the past were misleading as funds were accumulated over the years to purchase a new fire truck which has been already purchased, paid for and in use.

Bechtold also told those in attendance that the City of Ellendale would turn over the fire hall, all equipment, tools and accessories plus cash reserve to the new district. He explained that there is a cash reserve of about $36,000 but there are bills outstanding. He estimated though, that there would be in access of $20,000.

Erv Raymond explained that although the present fire department shares a building with the Senior Citizens Center and the Library, there is a separate roof over the firehall. They would only be sharing common walls inside. Raymond also explained that the City of Ellendale would turn over, together with the fire department, the fire hall and related equipment but should the newly formed fire district dissolve, all would revert back to the City.

After the discussion was over, a call for the questions was made and ballots were passed out. Ballots counted showed seventy of those present voted for the new district and eight voted against it. The motion carried and the new district was born.

The new district consists of the cities of Ellendale and Monango and approximately 8 3/4 townships. Townships included Elm, Ellendale, Van Meter, Ada, Kentner, Elden, Albion, Hamburg, & Keystone.

The next order of business was to elect the board of directors. Each subdivision has to have a director from the respective areas but are elected at large. Of the eleven members, half will serve a one year term and the other half a two year term. The newly elected directors will determine who serves one year and who serves two. However, because there are eleven directors it obviously cannot be half and half. The board will also decide whether 5 will serve one or two year terms.

Two burglaries were investigated by Deputy Tim Griffin of the Dickey County Sheriff's office. Both burglaries were in bars and both occurred the early morning hours of October 31, 1989.

The Ranch House at Fullerton was broken into by forcing the deadbolt lock on the north door of the building. Money from the cash register was taken and also two pair of beaded mocassins and a pair of beaded leather gauntlets.

The Ranch House is operated by the Wayne Ulmers.

The Monango Bar was also broken into and money from the cash registers was also taken there. The Monango Bar is operated by the Walt Rithmillers.

In both break-ins, no liquor or cigarettes were taken. The thief or thieves were primarily interested in money and antique collectors items. Both are still under investigation and no arrests have been made.

Residential Campaign Completed in Monango Nov 4-1989

The Dakota Chapter of the Arthritis Foundation is pleased to announce that the Arthritis Residential Campaign has been completed in Monango. Mildred M. Gebhardt, local chairperson, has successfully completed the project, raising $45.00 for the arthritis cause.

Arthritis is America's number one crippling disease. There are 94,381 people in North Dakota who are affected by arthritis. The monies raised in Monango will be used to support local patient programs and services. The Arthritis Foundation supports local and national research, self-help courses, water exercise programs, professional education, information, referral, and support groups.

For more information about arthritis, persons should contact the Arthritis Foundation at (701) 237-3310 in Fargo, (701) 224-9747 in Bismarck, and (701) 772-5943 in Grand Forks.

Amy Hartman chooses career in Mechanical Engineering

Nov 4-1989

In one of her mechanical engineering labs at UND, Amy is working on a turning lathe (a machine for use in working pieces of metal by rotating them against a tool that shapes them). Several students in the class have never seen one before. Amy learned about turning lathes from her dad before she attended college. The equipment she uses for projects feels comfortable and she enjoys using what she learned at home.

Her parents, Orlin and Ruth Hartman, have always encouraged their daughters; Amy, Becky, and Vicky, to do well in school and be involved in extra-curricular activities. That balance has paid off in Amy's academic and social activities.

She was recently selected as a member of the Outstanding College Students of America and the Outstanding Young Women of America. These awards are in recognition of outstanding ability, accomplishments, and service to the community.

Amy has been active in the Society of Women Engineers on campus. She was the co-chairperson of an engineering conference held at UND in 1988. In that position, she was active in the organization of the conference which had several nationally recognized engineers as presenters.

One would imagine that Amy spends all her time studying. "No way," she replies. She enjoys playing racquetball, water and snow skiing, riding bicycle and lifting weights. Even with all of her honors and activities she maintains a 3.5 grade-point-average.

Her parents live south of Minnegan. The Hartmans build a new house on the farm this summer. 1989

When Amy Hartman was in the third grade, she repaired a broken starter cord on a three-wheel bike at her parent's farm near Ellendale, North Dakota. Little did she realize this and many other experiences on the farm would lead her to a career in mechanical engineering -- a field that is comprised of about 10 percent females.

After graduating from Ellendale High School in 1985, Amy enrolled at the University of North Dakota (UND) in Grand Forks where she is currently a senior. During the first semester she took a variety of subjects including some mechanical engineering courses. It just seemed natural for her to choose mechanical engineering because of many of the experiences she had growing up on a farm.

Amy has run every piece of equipment on her parent's farm. If there's a problem with the machinery she can find out what's wrong and repair it. Her dad calls her his "little mechanic".

For the past two summers Amy and her two sisters have farmed 500 acres near Ellendale. Amy will miss farming this year since chances are she'll be working for a company far from North Dakota. She describes farming as a learning experience. "Having my dad teach me how to run equipment was one thing. The actual farm work was another thing because I had to make decisions like what chemicals to use, what type of wheat to plant, and when to plant. A lot of people didn't think three girls could farm, but we did it and we made money. And that's the bottom line".

Amy also shares her talents in a community activity in the Greater Grand Forks Area as the district secretary/treasurer for Circle K, a service organization sponsored by the Kiwanis. In 1988, she was awarded the R.P. "Rag" Merridew International Award as the most distinguished secretary/treasurer. She also submitted an essay and received the Kiwanis Foundation Scholarship.

Amy feels her educational experience at UND has played an important role in her life and she is concerned about the referendum vote on December 5. She doesn't think that education and medical care should suffer because people don't want to pay a few more dollars in taxes.

"I'm only 22 years old now, but when I'm in my 70's, I want nursing centers to be around and I want to be able to afford them. I also want my children to be able to afford a college education."

Amy stresses that in departments across campus there aren't sufficient funds available for adequate laboratories and equipment for students to use. "Education needs money and the state has to find the departments that don't get monies through grants and other revenue projects."

Her biggest concern is that departments will lose their accreditation because the quality of faculty will suffer. Enrollment inevitable will decline since most students want to enroll in an accredited department.

The future holds exciting possibilities for Amy after she graduates from UND next May. She wants to work for a big company where she will have ample opportunities to move around and get a variety of experiences before deciding where to concentrate her efforts. Her primary interest is in design engineering which studies why things break and how you can design them to work more efficiently.

Amy describes her parents as her mentors. "They are just the greatest. They have given me confidence to do everything. Other kids living on farms just mowed the lawn or something like that. My dad told me to go out and run the tractor."

The days of repairing three-wheelers and tractors will soon seem like small potatoes to Amy as she begins a challenging mechanical engineering career next year.

Virgil Newman Named To Baseball Hall Of Fame

Jan 20-1990

By Elaine Babcock

On January 10, 1990, at a banquet in Dickinson, Virgil Newman was inducted into the North Dakota Amateur Baseball Hall of Fame. The main speaker at the banquet was the well-known major league player, Moose Skowron of the New York Yankees.

"It was quite a thrill for this 'yokel farm boy' to meet up with Moose. He was very personable and we had one thing in common - our short haircuts!" quipped Mr. Newman.

Inductees into the Hall of Fame in addition to Mr. Newman were Homer Madison, Beach, ND; Albert Anderson, Klamath Falls, Oregon; and Jerry Krueger, Billings, Montana.

Mr. Newman (it somehow doesn't seem respectful to call him Virgil) played centerfield or first base for a total of thirty years on teams in Fullerton, Monango, Ellendale, and Forbes. His batting averages were roughly .350 in high school and between .290 and .320 on city teams.

Of his teaching experience he said, "I taught for 41 years and I loved every minute of it. I never met a kid I didn't love. I didn't always like what they did, but I loved the kids."

He taught a rural school for one year in MacIntosh county, the remaining forty years of his teaching career were in Forbes, Ellendale, Ellendale College where he was Dean of Men, Fullerton and Monango. In addition to being full-time superintendent from some of those years, he taught a full class load. He was a girls' basketball coach for twenty years and boys' basketball coach for about twelve years in addition to his seven years of baseball coaching.

Mr. Newman's basic philosophy of coaching was, "Give 100% at all times. Always be gracious to the opposition. Sportsmanship is equally as important as winning. Play for the FUN of it." He sees somewhat of a change in this attitude, which he calls, "Win or else!"

Mr. Newman's love of baseball is illustrated by this family story. When the Newman's son was born, he was named Connie Mack after Cornelius McGillicuddy, owner-manager of the Philadelphia Athletics. When their daughter was born, she was named Lonnie for Lonnie Fry, a player for the Cincinnati Reds. He joked that her middle name isn't Fry. Both Connie and Lonnie are very athletic and were involved in high school sports. Connie teaches and coaches at Ortonville, Minnesota, and Lonnie taught school for a time and is currently the city librarian.

Yes, Mr. Newman's first love in sports has always been baseball, and this love for baseball continues as he works out with his son, Connie, and grandsons, Clay and Cale Wagner.

When Mr. Newman gave his acceptance speech at the banquet, he said in part, "I accept this plaque in my name, but also in the name of all my teammates, many of whom are no longer living. So many of them were as great as, or greater than I."

His wife, Chickie, said she was embarrassed when he said, "I'd rather play baseball than go out with my best girl!"

As to how, or why, or by whom he was nominated, Mr. Newman said that he has no idea. It's certainly a possibility, however, that some of his former students and teammates would be able to explain why he was elected to the Hall of Fame.

Congratulations, Mr. Newman.

Letter to the Editor

Sure don't understand the going-ons hereabouts lately.

Some, not all, small cities have fine parks or a firehouse and a fine new fire engine with no ready supply of water or maybe a fine new school which is setting closed, while other even smaller cities are fighting to raise taxes and keep their older schools open.

Many next-door neighbor cities have so called "combined" for keeping their schools open but in reality they just shuffle young students from here to there and from there to here for classes so as to nearly balance the tuition fees.

There are many large cities who have just closed-up their school doors and are busing all their students to even larger better - equipped schools in much larger cities than theirs.

There are some city businesses done by only one designated person while some others must have a large number of well paid council members to get the city business done.

Now if anyone can explain these happenings, I am sure others would be interested in the answers also.

RE: National Celebration of the Outdoors
DATE: January 23, 1990

The upcoming month of April marks the National Celebration of the Outdoors with the year 1990 commemorating the 25th Anniversary of the Land and Water Conservation Fund Grant Program (LWCF). To celebrate this event the North Dakota Parks and Recreation Department is initiating an awards program to choose the best LWCF project in each population category from the past 25 years.

The North Dakota Parks and Recreation Department has chosen your community to participate in this contest and has pre-selected the attached project for the competition. If you have another area or facility developed with LWCF monies which you would rather have considered, please submit it by filling out the enclosed form. We encourage you to participate in the competition which highlights the LWCF program success, therefore will need some additional information. We request you complete the attached application form and return no later than March 1, 1990. If we do not receive a completed application from you we cannot process the nomination and will assume you have chosen not to recognize your communities project.

Also enclosed is an information flyer which outlines contest details. As noted, an awards banquet, recognition presentation, tours, and grants workshop are scheduled for April 27 and 28, 1990. Special events will continue through April 30 winding up the Celebration of the Outdoors.

On behalf of the North Dakota Parks and Recreation Department, I urge you to participate and commend you on your support of the Land and Water Conservation Fund Program over the past 25 years.

12. Does your community follow a master plan for community development or provide public meetings for input on community developments?

OTHER COMMENTS

Please feel free to provide any additional comments which you feel have not been covered and would add to your project evaluation.

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

- 1: Having a functional facility such as the Monango City Park and Softball Field has instilled a sense of pride in the local citizenry. Many activities that were previously held in other communities are now held "at home". Parents of young children are also grateful to have a well equipped playground nearby and out of heavy traffic areas.

Photos #1,2,3 & 4.

- 2: Hiring of a local caretaker of facilities and also a keeper of the grounds and tree trimmer on a part-time basis.
- 3: Volleyball and softball tournaments are held. Volleyball and basketball workshops have been conducted the past two summers for the local youth.
- 4: Economic benefits will stay about the same.

PUBLIC/PRIVATE PARTNERSHIPS

- 5: Community groups which have supported development of this project are:
 - a: Monango Community Betterment Corporation.
 - b: Monango Softball Team.
 - c: Keystone Stars 4-H Club.
 - d: Monodak Homemakers Club.
 - e: Aid Association for Lutherans.
 - f: City of Monango.
- 6: Community groups which have helped : Monango Community Betterment Corporation takes care of the upkeep of the existing facilities; the City of Monango insures the properties and maintains the grounds; the Monodak Homemakers Club takes care of the flower beds. Once a year the Community has a park clean-up day.
- 7: Community groups which have been involved with the use of this facility are:
 - a: Monango Community Betterment Corporation.
 - b: Monango Softball Team.
 - c: Keystone Stars 4-H Club.
 - d: Monodak Homemakers Club.
 - e: Aid Association for Lutherans.
 - f: City of Monango.
 - g: Dickey County Farmers Union.
 - h: St. Paul's Lutheran Church.
 - i: Monango Public School.

8. No special populations are served through use of this facility.

IMPROVEMENTS - PAST/FUTURE

9. This facility has been maintained largely through the efforts of the Montego Community Betterment Corporation. Monies generated from Montego's Centennial celebration have been funneled into this project. The Community Betterment also sponsored an annual fund raiser, a turkey barbecue and fall festival, and some of these funds are used to further the project.

There is no budget.

10. Improvements made to this project since the original development are:

- a. Ceiling has been installed in the picnic shelter to keep birds from nesting in the rafters and also to keep bird droppings and other debris from falling onto the tables and other areas. Total cost: $2,000.00.

Photos #1 & 5.

- b. Storage has been built into one corner of picnic shelter to house folding tables, cooking utensils, dishes, etc. which are used for large groups and events. Total cost: $400.00.

Photo # 6.

- c. Concrete and stone barbecue grill was built, a plaque was installed and formally dedicated to all who helped make Montego's Centennial celebration a success. Cost: $175.00.

- d. Playground equipment. Donated by Kid Association for Lutherans.

Photos #9, 10 & 11.

- e. Ten folding tables. Cost $900.00.

- f. Five six-foot evergreen trees donated by a local church were moved to the park. Cost: $172.50.

- g. Flagpole was donated. Flag was given and dedicated by German-Schlesier Legion Post of Ellendale.

12: The Monango Community Betterment Corporation holds monthly meetings which are open to the public and receives input at these meetings. The Monango Community Betterment Corporation works in conjunction with the City of Monango in carrying out projects.

OTHER COMMENTS

The Monango community has received many favorable comments on the facilities in the park and especially the picnic shelter which is widely used for family reunions and gatherings for birthdays, graduation receptions etc. On June 9, 1990, the ND Rabbit Breeders Ass'n. are sponsoring a rabbit show in the park.

Monango is proud and pleased to have this facility.

Dear President Radermacher:

I have examined the Statements of Revenue and Expenditures for the fiscal year ended February 28, 1990. My examination was made in accordance with generally accepted accounting standards, and accordingly included such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures as I considered necessary.

There were no discrepancies found in this review of the books.

It is my opinion that the requirements set forth by the By-Laws of the Monango Community Betterment Corporation concerning financial record keeping and control have been met.

this is an uncertified audit.

Sincerely,

Walter E. Rithmiller

Monango Community Dev. Receives 2nd Place Award

The Monango Community Development is pleased to announce that it has received a second place award in the North Dakota Parks and Recreation 25th Anniversary Celebration of the Land and Water Conservation Fund Program (LWCF). The North Dakota Parks and Recreation initiated a program to choose the best LWCF project in each population category from the last 25 years. Monango received second place in the population division of 0-750 for its improvements made to the city park.

The original project was to build a picnic shelter, comfort station, softball renovation, and the building of six picnic tables, with funds received from LWCF. This project was started in 1984. Since then many other improvements have been made to the park. A ceiling was installed and a storage room was added to the picnic shelter. A concrete and stone BBQ grill, playground equipment, trees planted, flagpole, a regulation size sand volleyball court, a sand box with two backhoes, park benches and flower beds have all been added to the park. Future plans for the park include planting more trees, and to install several smaller BBQ grills and more playground equipment and build 25 smaller picnic shelters.

The Monango Community has received many favorable comments on the facilities. They are extremely proud of what they have, and pleased that their efforts have been rewarded with this award.

The Monango Community Development was represented by Bertha Knox and Brenda Radermacher who attended the Awards Banquet as representatives of the organization.

Rabbits in Monango park June - 1990

The rabbit show in Monango park on June 9 had 191 rabbits and 36 exhibitors entered. The exhibitors came from as far away as Belfield, ND, Yankton, SD and Blooming Prairie, MN.

Judge Sonny Lucas selected a copper Satin owned by Nita Hinnners of Huron, SD as best six class and Best in Show. Best four class and runner-up in the show was an opal Rex also owned by Nita Hinnners.

The youth division had 68 rabbits entered by 15 exhibitors. Best youth rabbit was a black Rex shown by Sandra Gores of Lisbon. Runner-up was a chocolate Jersey Wooley shown by Reada Woehl of Menno, SD.

The North Dakota Rabbit Breeders Association sponsored the show and sold lunch and held a raffle.

Monango park workday

The Monango Community Betterment Club has approved the construction of two picnic table canopies for the tables in Monango Park.

A workday is scheduled for Sunday, June 24 at 2 p.m. Any interested individuals are encouraged to come and help with the project. A dish to pass for supper is requested and the club will furnish meat to be grilled and the beverage.

DICKEY COUNTY, N.D.: Schools join consortium

Three schools in Dickey County were invited last week to join a restructuring consortium of 13 school districts in southeastern North Dakota.

School districts in Ellendale, Monango and Fullerton were among nine schools asked to join the consortium, which was originally composed of school districts in Montpelier, Kathryn, Litchville and Marion.

The consortium was designed to help provide better programming and increased educational opportunities to districts in southeastern North Dakota.

The group will enroll 1,510 elementary students and 635 secondary students. The consortium covers 2,145 square miles, making it the largest one in North Dakota.

Other new districts in the group are: Edgeley, LaMoure, Gackle, Jud, Kulm and Nortonville.

Betty Haussler in first grade again

By Elaine Babcock

On August 27, Betty Haussler will begin first grade again — just as she has done for twenty plus years. "I love first grade," Betty said. "There is something special about every day of teaching. I see so much progress. When I see what first graders can do at the end of the year, it is so rewarding."

Betty's first teaching job was in Cogswell where she had 31 first and second-graders. It was really a load for a beginning teacher and she stayed at the school and worked until 9:00 at night. Her salary was $2100 for the year.

Betty always wanted to be a teacher. Her mother, Dagmar Schnoor, taught school for 33 years. When Dagmar was correcting papers and copying worksheets on a hectograph tray, Betty would watch her, and help her, and look forward to the day when she would be able to be a teacher. She remembers going to her mother's Christmas programs in the country schools. She credits her mother with being the most important influence in her teaching career. Betty remembers her mother as being very soft-spoken, not needing to raise her voice to have children respond.

Betty and her husband George farmed southwest of Monango and Betty stayed home to raise their five sons. (She said, "George still has some cattle to keep him busy!") One of their sons, Jim, is an assistant principal in the Bismarck schools, so there are three generations of teachers in the family. George was also involved in education for 15 years.

Betty went back to teaching after her children were in school. She taught six weeks of kindergarten in Monango with a Standard Normal Degree. She hadn't considered the possibility of going back to school until her superintendent asked her when she was going to get her degree. She took his advice and she's glad that she did.

Mrs. Haussler said that the most important way in which parents can help prepare their children for school is to read to them and to allow the children to see their parents enjoying reading. "Read to them before they can walk, and long after they start school. Read to them even if they appear not to be listening, because they can be learning when they appear not to be learning. They are also catching attitudes about learning."

Her advice to any high school student who is considering becoming a teacher is to sign up for the JET program. This will give them an opportunity to get into the classroom to observe and work with the children. Sometimes actually working with children is different than the student thought it might be. Dedication is very important. A person should really want to be a teacher before considering this occupation.

Mrs. Haussler has seen changes in education throughout the years, and believes there have been many improvements, especially in areas such as speech, special education, and learning disabilities. Today there is a more widespread acceptance and understanding of learning disabilities. Because of continual research, Betty thinks it is important for all teachers to keep learning as much as they can in this area of education so that they can diagnose and help those students who need it.

As for changes in children over the years, Mrs. Haussler sees that children are more outgoing than they used to be and that they feel free to express themselves. She believes that television has some worthwhile programs, but if children watch for excessive periods of time, it diminishes their creativity. Children used to make their own fun and activities, now it's all laid out for them and they expect to be entertained.

Betty Haussler's philosophy of education can best be summed up in her own words. "It is necessary to recognize children as individuals with different personalities, learning styles, interests, and abilities, and to organize activities with this in mind. Self-esteem must be preserved at all costs. Every child needs to be successful every day. A child should be challenged to better his own previous effort rather than to compete with others."

Mayor of Monango Albert Gebhardt dies

Albert Arndt Gebhardt, 74 Monango, died October 6, 1990 at the Veteran's Medical Center in Fargo. Funeral services were held October 10, at St. Paul's Lutheran Church at Monango with Rev. Leo Deltmeyer officiating. Burial was in St. Paul's Lutheran Cemetery.

Albert A. Gebhardt, son of John and Wilhelmina (Nehls) Gebhardt, was born December 1, 1915 at his parents home in Hamburg township near Monango. He received his elementary education in a rural school near his home and his secondary education at the State Normal and Industrial High School at Ellendale. Albert joined the CCC in 1935 and helped put in dams on the Sheyenne River in Valley City and Dazey and on the James River at LaMoure and Huron, SD. Other dams were built at Miller and Presko, SD. He also worked for the ASC surveying land and for the NYA building lockers, painting buildings and planting trees at Arrowwood Game Refuge at Kensal, ND.

Gebhardt was drafted into the Army, Company F of the 129th Infantry in 1942, receiving his basic training at Camp Forest, TN and was sent to the Fiji Islands in the Pacific, then to New Hebrides, Guadalcanal and Bougainville in the Solomon Islands. General McArthur then ordered the 37th Division to the Philippines, landing on Lingayan Gulf on Luzon. They took possession of Clark Field and the Rice Beer Brewery. Albert led a scouting party to Manila. From there he led the first US Troops into Baguio, the summer capital of the Philippines. He attained the rank of Staff Sergeant, received a Purple Heart with Oak Leaf Cluster, three Battle Stars for three major battles, Presidential Unit Citation, Philippine Liberation Ribbon, Asiatic-Pacific Theater Service Medal, Combat Infantryman's Badge and Expert Marksman's Badge.

After his discharge in 1945, he farmed and was auxiliary mail carrier for two winters. In 1948 he received the appointment as Rural Mail Carrier. On October 17, 1948 he married Mildred M. Ulmer at Fullerton. They bought a house at Berlin, ND moved it to Monango where they made their home. Albert carried mail and also had his own carpentry business. Albert was very active in civic, community and church affairs. He was elected to the Monango Village Board of Trustees in 1965 and has served as Mayor since 1968, a position he still held at the time of his death. During his tenure as mayor, Albert was instrumental in securing a adequate water supply for Monango and also developing the Monango Park. He also served as Elder and Trustee of his church.

Survivors include his wife, one son James A. of Fargo, two daughters Jean M. (Mrs. Wayne) Mahlum of Glyndon, MN and Susan J. of Grand Forks; three brothers John L. of Ellendale, Henry of Monango and Frank of Kalispell, MT; two sisters Marie Busch of Monango and Alma (Mrs. Henry) Forsman of Jud; two grandchildren, four step-grandchildren.

He was preceded in death by his parents, one brother and one grandchild.

Casket bearers were Daniel Ulmer, Edward Forsman, Ryan Heldinger, David Radermacher, Thomas Norman and Ralph Fiechtner.

Special music at the service by Ann Jermiason and Sharon Langley.

Gebhardt begins medical studies at UND

Susan Gebhardt, daughter of Mildred and the late Albert Gebhardt of Monango, has begun studies as a freshman medical student at the University of North Dakota School of Medicine in Grand Forks.

Gebhardt is one of 56 entering freshman medical students who will take their first two years of education at the UND campus in Grand Forks, third year either in Bismarck or Fargo, and fourth year in Bismarck, Fargo, Grand Forks or Minot. Students also take shorter training periods in smaller communities throughout the state during their third and fourth years.

Freshmen began their medical studies Aug. 6 with a two-week session known as Phase I during which they take a long view of the process that they are beginning and the profession of medicine itself. Special emphasis is placed on making the transition from college to medical school, finding a good balance between academic and personal lives, and avoiding burnout.

They are introduced to Oct- 1990 personnel on campus who are available to provide assistance in health matters, financial aid, the library, and learning problems. They receive training in basic life support techniques and the basics of problem-solving through small group sessions.

The importance of primary care and the need for family physicians in North Dakota's rural areas are illustrated by guest speakers and faculty members. Questions concerning medical ethics are discussed in small group teaching sessions.

After Phase I, freshmen begin the first two years of study, called Phase II, at the UND School of Medicine. During the first year they will concentrate on subjects such as biochemistry, histology and organology, human behavior, gross anatomy, physiology and neuroscience. They will also continue to learn problem-solving in small group settings in which they are introduced to patient "paper cases" and begin to apply theory to practical health care problems.

Dear Esther,

Thank you again for making our short visit to Monango such a wonderful and happy occasion. We cannot possibly forget your gracious hospitality, help and just plain old fashioned friendliness.

I did not stay up all night reading the book. I got up at 3:00 o'clock next morning and started!

My mother, Lena Angeline (Stephenson) Williams, was born in Monango on 9-16-89, two weeks before North Dakota became a state. Her parents, William Sullivan Stephenson and Ida Oliva Taylor, were married 12-31-88 and the wedding must have taken place in or near Monango.

I found the following interesting stuff in the book;

Page 19. "Stephenson Brothers erected the Half-Way House between Ellendale and Grand Rapids...." These brothers were my grandfather William ("Will") and, as I surmise from elsewhere in the book, his half-brother John.

Page 74. "Two books written by Don Alonzo Taylor...." "Lon" Taylor was my second cousin. His daughter, Hazel Lucille (Taylor) Hohanshelt, was born 20 miles from Monango and now lives 15 miles from us in Alpine. She just celebrated her 85th birthday.

Page 78. "About Christmas time in 1884, Frank T. Deane and Anna Stephenson appear to have been the first couple to marry in Valley Township." Anna was my grandfather's half-sister. One of their daughters is still living in Portland, Oregon. cont. under next

Turning the Clock Back

By Hazel Hohanshelt

(Mrs. Hohanshelt began teaching in Alpine in 1928 and writes about her experiences that spanned 34 years of teaching in a country school.)

My Genesis

For some time when I'd sit down to write something about Alpine School, I'd wonder if anybody really was reading it. One day, two people called and said they were enjoying it. One had even bought a bottle of Mrs. Stewart's Bluing. I was impressed. I felt a resurgence of self confidence. What had happened in my life, that gave me those 34 wonderful years in Alpine School? Exceptional people and exceptional times were the greatest factors.

My father, Don Alonzo Taylor, taught me to think. He taught me to read. I was an eager listener to Thornton W. Burgess' Mother West Wind Series that were published in our daily newspaper, the St. Paul Dispatch. By the time I was four years old I could read them myself. We always had lots of books around. He had a set of Nelson's Loose Leaf Encyclopedia which he religiously kept up-to-date each time new material arrived to put into it. Schoolmates were always coming to our house to get help with their work.

When my father was a young man he began to lose his hearing. He had to quit college because of it. I learned in early childhood to speak loud and plainly. It was my private course in elocution. He was the first exceptional person who influenced my life.

I had one teacher who stood out among all others. I had the great privilege of having her for five years. She was my English and Latin teacher from the eighth grade through the twelfth grade. Her name was Mrs. Ruth Denning. Her porcelain frailness of body belied her great strength of spirit. Latin I, Latin II, Caesar and Cicero, came to life under her tutelage. She taught us the beauty of the written word. She inspired us to seek perfection.

It was during my last year with Mrs. Denning when she unhesitatingly entered us into a letter-writing contest for twelfth graders in the United States and Hawaii. Oakes wasn't even a dot on the map, but we had one great teacher who had confidence in us. We were a proud school when a letter came announcing that Mrs. Ruth Denning and her twelfth grade English class in Oakes, North Dakota had won first place for our school, our teacher and our pupils. Mrs. Denning's award of $100, and mine for $25 as first prize was the last hurrah for the graduating class of 1923. I still have my check. My father said, "Keep that check. Don't cash it. It's worth much more than money." It cost two cents to mail a letter in 1923. A loaf of bread cost ten cents. So $100 and $25 were no small prizes for just writing a letter, thanks to Mrs. Denning.

My father and mother, three brothers and I, left for Alpine, California that fall, and Mrs. Denning and her husband left for Washington, D.C. She taught English and Latin to hundreds of children during the 44 years before she retired. She became one of my dearest friends and we corresponded regularly.

Shortly after her husband died she wrote this to me, "If I am tempted to depression, I hope I will allay it by looking up your generous letters over the years. I always tried to be a good teacher, but sometimes I think I missed the mark. It is reassuring to have one pupil who knew me well, and loved me anyway."

In her last letter to me before she died at age 96, she wrote, "Every once in a while I get a spurt of giving away things that will be thrown away if they are still around when I am not." How neatly she said that! She went on, "Among these things I found this enclosure, which I thought you might like to have again, after forty-odd years."

It was a story I had written when I was in her eighth grade English class. At the top of the yellowed page one, was the title—The Journey of Prince Chao Fun. As I read on I began to remember. She had asked us to write a story about people who lived in a foreign land in ancient times. Not history—fiction. "Make the characters come alive." I must have lived up to her expectations for her to have kept that thing for 40 years.

Browning said it well, "Ah, a man's reach should exceed his grasp, or what's a Heaven for?"

Silent Rebel

By Hazel Hohanshelt

(Mrs. Hohanshelt began teaching in Alpine in 1928 and writes about her experiences that spanned 34 years of teaching in a country school. In her last article, February 28, she delved further into her past, to describe the events and people who led her to teaching. This article continues her story from that point.)

We were on the last lap of our 1,200 mile journey from that little prairie town in North Dakota to a small mountain village in California. We had come across plains, mountains and deserts. Seventy years ago most roads were just plain dirt except for the wooden plank road that crossed the desert.

I was driving. The headlights on our old Paige car picked out the sign by the side of the road, "You Are Now Entering the State of California". My father and the three boys, Bayard, 12, Maylon, 10, and Don, 4, were in the back seat. I heard my father say softly, "We're in California now, Don".

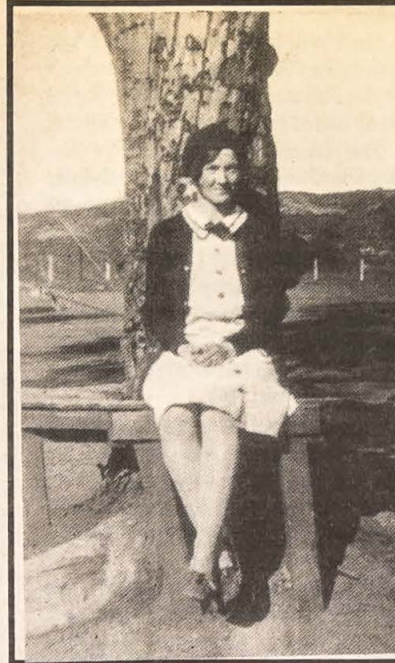

Came the sleepy reply, "I thought it never got dark in California."

At last after months of talking about "sunny" California we had arrived! In a few hours we would be welcomed by Aunt Ida and Uncle Will Stephenson who were my father's aunt and uncle, and who had lived in Alpine since 1891. They were old now, and their three children were grown.

My father and mother and the three boys got settled in Alpine, and I stayed with Uncle Will and Aunt Ida while she recuperated from a serious operation. The four months I spent with them on that peaceful spot are my first memories of Alpine. I was soon to leave them and my family and go to a strange city. There I hoped to fulfill my dream of becoming a teacher.

It was the fall of 1924. At this time there were tests that high school graduates could take that would allow them to begin teaching in California when they became eighteen years of age, if they passed the tests. My father took me down to the old court House on Broadway in San Diego and I took the tests. I passed all but one. I didn't know how to teach reading.

I can remember the man laughing when he read what I had written.

My method seemed so simple. It was the way my father taught me along with Mother WestWind Stories. As well as I can recall, I had said that first graders should master the sounds of the letters of the alphabet first, move on to syllables, and finally to "sounding out" words.

Alas, the education advocates had pretty well established a philosophy of teaching reading that I had never heard of. It was called the "look and say" method and was the beginning of the great controversy over why Johnny couldn't read.

I entered college that fall after passing the English entrance exam. It was up to me to help pay for my education. My parents were adjusting to a new life and there were my three younger brothers to care for. Many students, like me, whose parents lived elsewhere had to find a place to live. I got a job with a young couple who had two lively boys. I washed dishes, helped clean house and "babysat". My room was pleasant, I ate my meals with the family and was paid $10 a month which paid for my streetcar fare.

The dean of women looked after all of us who lived this way, checking to see if any of us were so over-worked we didn't have any time to study. We really had a wonderful time with Sundays off so we could go to Tent City in Coronado, or to Mission Beach. No one ever had to worry about getting "mugged". We made a pact, that if we went together, we came home together. Sometimes a friend who had a car would take us out to the Mission Beach Ballroom. There were lots of sailors to dance with, but we always came home with the same girls we went with. Just one got acquainted with a sailor, quit college and married him and they lived happily ever after.

Great emphasis was placed on theoretical courses in Education. I could see very little, if any, real knowledge or intellectual self-discipline in these. Then came the "methods courses". We were preached the theories of Dewey and Thorndyke. Dewey called his theory "immediate empiricism". In short that means if a kid wants to try flying by using an umbrella and jumping off a roof, let him do it. Thorndyke was another so-called "educator". These fellows and several more like them dominated the faculties of teacher-training institutions. They wielded a controlling interest over the publishing of reading primers that went with the "look and say" method of teaching reading. I silently rebelled and often talked with my father who gave me confidence and guidance.

Things I learned in my music courses under Deborah Smith, who also directed Treble Clef, the college women's Glee Club of which I was a member, followed me right into my own classrooms. Professor Skilling, an elderly man reminiscent of the kindly old absent-minded type, made astronomy a real adventure.

I did my practice teaching and found there were some children who would learn to read in spite of anything.

With diploma in hand, I left that institution of learning with confidence. It had been no easy task. But as Shakespeare so aptly put it,

"Sweet are the uses of adversity,
Which like the toad, ugly and venomous

Wears yet a precious jewel in his head."

The friends I made I kept for a life time. I was now just a step away from attaining my dream.

N.D. school consortium finalizes plan

Montpelier, N.D.

The New Horizons Consortium, a group of 11 school districts in southeastern North Dakota, has finalized a general plan that provides for varying degrees of restructuring among the districts.

Rick Maddock, a spokesman for the consortium, said the plan must now be approved by local school boards before it is submitted to state officials later this month.

The Kulm School District recently dropped out of the consortium, citing uncertainty over what may happen in the next legislative session, Maddock said.

The remaining districts are Edgeley, Ellendale, Montpelier, Marion, Jud, Nortonville, Litchville, LaMoure, Fullerton, Gackle and Monango.

Maddock said the Monango district has already decided it will close its Dickey Central School, which houses grades 7-12, at the end of this school year. Those students will then attend other schools in surrounding districts, he said.

Maddock said it is possible other districts will take the same course of action, but that decision will be left to local boards.

For next year, he said, a plan is in place to hire several coordinators, a business manager and secretarial help to administer programs for the consortium. Some of those positions may be filled by individuals already involved in the consortium, he said.

Also, Maddock said, several other positions will be filled, including two guidance counselors, two foreign language instructors, an art teacher, a coordinator for gifted and talented student programs and a library coordinator. Money for those positions will be made possible with state incentive funding, Maddock said.

He said the plan will allow for joint purchasing arrangements and coordination of actions such as textbook purchases.

Open enrollment for certain secondary electives may be developed through talks between officials of the school districts in the consortium.

Maddock said the next several years will basically be a trial period and changes will be brought before district patrons in a public ballot by the 1993-94 school year.

The consortium covers an area of 2,423 square miles and has a total enrollment of 1,773 students.

Fullerton, Dickey Central High School Christmas Concert

Fullerton Elementary School and Dickey Central High School will hold their annual Christmas concert on Monday evening, December 17, at 7:30 p.m. in the Fullerton School gym. 1990

The combined 5th and 6th grade bands will perform several selections. Grades K-6 will present the musical entitled, "Little Lamb". This musical is a delightful account of David, a shepherd boy; his little lamb, Baba; the angels, shepherds, and wisemen as they prepare their gifts to present to the newborn King.

DCHS groups include a combined 7-12 grade chorus singing a variety of Christmas music, and the Dickey Central High School Band.

The concert is free of charge, and the public is cordially invited to attend. The concert is under the direction of Mrs. Susan German.

An organizational meeting of St. Paul's Cemetery Association of Monango will be held at St. Paul's Lutheran Church on Sunday afternoon, March 17th at 2:00 p.m. All people who are concerned about the future care of St. Paul's Cemetery are urged to attend.

Maple Valley Farmers Cooperative of Ellendale held their annual meeting on Thursday noon and had good news for their members. The company has been able to turn the operation around and show a profit.

Tim Petersen, president of the coop gives the credit to manager

Quinton Goehring and the efforts of the entire staff for their diligence and concern.

Although most dividend checks were mailed to members a special recognition was given and a dividend check was presented to Lorna Sand. In making the presentation Petersen stated that success of the coop is also because of loyal customers such as Lorna and the late Pat Sand.

Maple Valley showed a profit in 1990 of nearly $250,000 compared to $56,000 in 1989. In addition the coop constructed two new grain storage bins at their Monango location at a cost of $276,000. Petersen added that this greatly helped their grain handling ability and increased their volume considerably. They also purchased a new forklift.

The Edgeley plant was the largest feed dealer in 1990. They increased sales by 434 ton this past year.

Three directors were re-elected to the board for another three year term. Dale Groop was elected from Frederick area, Marvin Grueneich from Ellendale area and Darwin Nill from the Monango area.

Postal Carriers Honored

Postmaster Larry Catlette presented rural route 1 carrier, Derril Wedell with a 5 year pin for completing 5 years with the postal department. Roland Tank, rural route 2 carrier, received his 10 year pin. Roland

Essig, who retired from the postal department earlier this year, received a plaque for being a member of the One Million Mile Club and a pin designating his 30 years as a Safe Driver while being rural mail carrier.

Community Benefit for Grueneich Family 1991

A benefit dinner is planned for Sunday noon, March 10, at the Ellendale Public School Multipurpose Room. The proceeds of the benefit will be applied to expenses incurred by LeRoy Grueneich, a recent kidney transplant recipient.

LeRoy was thirteen years old when his case of diabetes was diagnosed. As time went on, LeRoy experienced other diabetes-related health problems, including a bout with hepatitis. More recently he experienced kidney failure, a problem diagnosed this past October. The condition progressed rapidly and would have required treatment with kidney dialysis by the end of January, 1991.

After researching the possibility of a kidney transplant, LeRoy was placed on the transplant waiting list. Then on January 24 LeRoy was notified that a kidney was available. Although the primary recipient was another person, LeRoy was invited to come to St. Luke's Hospital, Fargo, on a standby basis. Lab tests revealed LeRoy to be a better match. He received the kidney early on January 26, just shortly before dialysis would have been needed.

The transplanted kidney continues to function very well. However, rejection is a real concern. The situation must be monitored very closely. Following the surgery, LeRoy made three trips a week to Fargo to monitor the new kidney. Now he makes two trips to Fargo and one trip to the Ellendale Clinic per week. Looking to the future, LeRoy believes he will need to make at least one trip per week to Fargo for the rest of 1991.

At this point it is estimated that some 20 to 30% of the transplant surgery costs and the trips to Fargo will need to be paid out of the pocket. The benefit dinner will help meet those costs to the Grueneich family.

All are invited to patronize the benefit's spaghetti dinner, served from 11:00 a.m. through 2:00 p.m. on March 10. This benefit will qualify for "matching money." It is sponsored by Aid Association for Lutherans, Branches 1406 and 6421, both of Ellendale. Tickets are on sale at First National Bank, Ellendale and from Joe and Sherry Maly. Tickets will be on sale at the door.

Letter to the editor

To the editor:

Would like some information on the Knox family out of Monango, ND. Also the Wagner family. Our mother was married to Lewis Solum. I think her name was Elizebeth, would like to find out where she is buried and what she died from. Anyone who has any information on these families send it to Mrs. Betty Ann Nevded (Solum), W 303 S 10490, Sandy Beach Road., Mukwanago, Wisc. 53149. Maybe there is a family tree somewhere.

DICKEY CENTRAL BOYS CLOSE OUT TRACK SEASON

The Dickey Central boys track team closed out their track year by participating in the North Central Invitational and the Regional Track Meet.

In the North Central Invitational, the boys tallied 29 points. Derick Gemar led the way by throwing the discus 123 feet 6 1/2 inches good for a second place finish. Philip Gramlow placed in two events by taking third in the 400 meter open with a one minute even. He also placed fourth in the 3200 meter open with a 12:27. Bob Hagen placed fifth in the 3200 meter open and fourth in the 300 hurdles. This was Bob's first time he had run these two events. Also, the relay team of the 400 and 3200 relay placed sixth and fourth in the meet.

In their last meet of the season, the Dickey Central team placed one person in the meet. Derick Gemar was the only place winner for the team as he placed third in the meet throwing the discus. Derick barely missed qualifying for state as the top two place winners advance to state.

Cougars tally 49 points

The Dickey Central girls team scored 49 points to finish in fifth place in a field of 12 teams this past week in the Milnor girls meet.

Teri Kelsh had a good afternoon as she placed in four events for the day. In the long jump she took first, by jumping 15'8" to break the school record at Dickey Central. She also placed 3rd in the 200, 3rd in the 100 and 4th in the 400. Roberta Lonski placed 2nd in the javelin with a toss of 104.4. Tuesday Bardell placed 3rd in the 800 with a run of 2:47. Carrie Radermacher placed 4th in the 1600 with a 6:28. Kim Radermacher placed 5th in the javelin with a toss of 84.9. Two relay teams placed as the 3200 meter relay team took 5th at 11:40. members were Radermacher, Radermacher, Bardell and Jennifer Frigen. The 1600 relay team of Frigen, Lonski, Radermacher and Bardell placed 6th.

Oakes won the meet by tallying 141 points. Cold and wet conditions cut the times down at numerous events.

DICKEY CENTRAL GIRLS ADVANCE TO STATE

The Dickey Central girls track team will be sending five girls to the state track meet in Grand Forks this weekend.

Teri Kelsh, Carrie Radermacher, Tuesday Bardell, Roberta Lonski, and Sadie Glynn will be making the trip. Teri will be in three open events as she will compete in the 100 meter, 200 meter, and the long jump. Teri qualified earlier in the year in the long jump by jumping a state qualifying jump of 16 feet 3 inches.

Roberta Lonski will also be in the state meet. Roberta will be throwing the javelin. Currently Roberta owns the second best throw in the state with a 123 feet 4 inch throw.

The other event the Dickey Central track team will participate in will be the 1600 meter relay. Tuesday Bardell, Carrie Radermacher, Sadie Glynn, and Teri Kelsh will comprise the relay team.

Cougar Girls place 2nd in conference

The DC girls track team recently participated in the Little Yellowstone Conference meet. The Cougars placed 2nd while Maple Valley came in 1st. There were seven teams in the meet.

Teri Kelsh had an outstanding day for the Cougars as she racked up 34 points for the team. She placed 1st in the 100, 1st in the 200 and 4th in the 400. The most impressive 1st place she had was in the long jump. She jumped 16 ft. 2 in. which automatically qualifies her for state.

Roberta Lonski bettered her javelin throw by tossing it 123 ft. 4 1/2 in. which puts her in the top 4 in the state for throws. She also long jumped 14 ft. 2 1/2 in. for third place.

In other individual events Carrie Radermacher placed 1st in the 1600 meter run. Kim Radermacher also placed 1st in the 3200 meter run.

Other place winners were Tuesday Bardell in the 800 meter run with a 3rd; Sadie Glynn 4th in the 800 run; Beth Wagner 5th in the discuss.

DICKEY CENTRAL GIRLS TAKE SECOND AT REGIONALS

The Dickey Central girls track team placed second in the region IV track meet this past weekend. Maple Valley-Oriska took the top honors, then Dickey Central took second with 69 points. Right behind Dickey Central, was Kulm and Ashley who each had 68 points.

Maple Valley-Oriska had to much depth for the region but, the real question was who was to take the other spots for second and third. Dickey Centrals balance paid off as Kulm and Ashley had many first place finishes, but Dickey Central who placed in 11 different events took the second place trophy home.

The track meet ended on an exciting note. Going into the last event of the day, the score tallied that Ashley and Kulm each had 68 points and Dickey Central only had 59 points. The last event was the 1600 meter relay. The Dickey Central girls needed a first place finish to pull into second place and hope Kulm and Ashley did not place in the event. All the cards fell into place for the team as the 1600 meter relay team of Bardell, Radermacher, Glynn, and Kelsh ran a strong race of 4:25 to take first place, good for 10 points to put the team total at 69.. Ashley did not field a 1600 meter relay team and Kulm did not place.

Event winner in the day was Teri Kelsh who placed second in the 100 and 200 meter. Teri ran her best time of the year as she ran a 13.07 and a 26.9 in the events. She also placed second in the long jump. In the 400 open, Sadie Glynn and Jennifer Frigen placed as Sadie took fourth with a 1:06 and Frigen took sixth with a 1:10. the 800 open saw Tuesday Bardell go against stiff competition and come away with a sixth place finish. The 1600 open saw Carrie Radermacher place fourth in the event. The 3200, Kim Radermacher ran a good race with a third place finish. In the relays, the 400 of Jennifer Frigen, Kim Radermacher, Roberta Lonski, and Carrie Radermacher placed fifth as they ran the best time of the year. The 3200 relay team of Bardell, Glynn, Radermacher, and Radermacher placed third in the meet. The only first of the day for the Dickey Central team was the 1600 relay team. rounding out the scoring was the javelin as Roberta took second and Kim placed fifth. Roberta also placed sixth in the long jump.

This was the last meet of the year for the girls. The only meet left is the state meet as Kelsh, Bardell, Radermacher, Lonski, and Glynn will be participating in it.

Monango School to present program

The Monango Public School (Dickey Central High School) extends an invitation to all alumni, teachers (past and present), parents, patrons of the Monango and Fullerton communities, to attend a program on Wednesday, May 22, 1991, from 2:00 to 3:00 p.m.

The program will be in the Monango School Gymnasium. Come and join us for coffee and cake.

The relays were also strong as the 3200 relay team ran the best time of the year with a 11:13. Members are Bardell, Radermacher, Radermacher and Frigen. The 1600 relay team of Radermacher, bardell, Frigen and Glynn ran an exciting race but were nosed out at the finish line by Maple Valley with a 4:36 time.

109 year tradition ends at Dickey Central

School in Monango*

The Monango School Board hosted a program and open house at the school gymnasium on May 22 to mark the closing of Dickey Central High School at the end of the recently completed school year. Marcia Wagner, president of the Board, welcomed the guests and gave a brief history of the school.

The first school in the district began in 1882 in the town of Keystone, located northeast of Monango. When Keystone was abandoned in 1886 and moved to the Monango site, school was held in section 12 of Keystone Township. Classes were conducted in Monango homes from 1888 until the first school was built there in 1901. An election for consolidation of the Keystone and Monango Schools was held in 1918. (Records indicate there were 178 eligible voters; currently there are about 63 eligible voters in those two municipalities). The school building constructed in 1920 is the one used until the present. The original building was moved to an area east of the current gymnasium and used as a gym and storage space until it burned in 1937. A new gym was built in 1938.

In 1950 Hamburg, Valley and Potsdam school districts consolidated with Monango. Other additions to the district came from Berlin in 1960, from Merricourt in 1964, and from Whitestone in 1972.

The fall of 1977 saw the beginning of a co-operative arrangement between Monango and Fullerton Schools. Grades kindergarten through sixth were taught at Fullerton and grades seven through 12 at Monango, which became known as Dickey Central High School (DCHS). The recently completed term was the 14th year of this co-

The following statistics were recited: Graduates from Monango High School (1924-1977) 477; graduates from DCHS (1978-1991) 150; largest graduating class from Monango High School was 16 in 1940; largest class from DCHS was 17 in 1978; smallest class was 1 graduate in 1964.

Next on the program the fifth and sixth grade classes from Fullerton Elementary School presented a play, "A Talent for Friendship", and two recitations written especially for the closing of the high school. Their teacher is Corrine Radermacher Glynn, a member of the first class to graduate from DCHS.

Emphasis on the friendships that have grown through the years of school operation in Monango continued with the singing of "Friends" by the mixed chorus directed by Mrs. Susan German.

Mrs. Wagner introduced the faculty and supporting staff and expressed appreciation for their contributions to the education of area students. Principal and teacher Ray Peterson was recognized for 12 years service to the district. Other teachers and years at Monango School were Ton Norman, 24; Ramona Kelsh 14; Virginia Kleven 12; Floy Wetzel 12; Mitch Carlson 4; Mary Steele 3; and Susan German 2. Other staff members introduced were Mildred Gebhardt, school board clerk and business manager 40 years including 12 years as school secretary; Bernie Schaffer, custodian 21 years; Donna Nelson, cook 10 1/2 years; and Carol and Steve Petersen, bus drivers 7 years.

Student Council President Bryan Wagner and Secretary Derick Gemar presented gifts to faculty members on behalf of the student body.

Mrs. Wagner introduced the other members of the Monango School Board: Dale Radermacher, David Radermacher and Kenneth Scallon. The remaining member, Betty Bollinger, was out of town and unable to attend. Special guests recognized were former DCHS principal Virgil Newman; former superintendent Ralph Flechtner; Fullerton School Board members Lowell Gemar, Gene Lonski, Allan Glynn, and Geraldine Glynn; former Monango Board members Brunno Kinzler and Kenneth Kellogg; and former Fullerton School Board member Jerry Kelsh.

Principal Ray Peterson reminisced about his 12 years at DCHS and wished faculty, staff and students well in future endeavors.

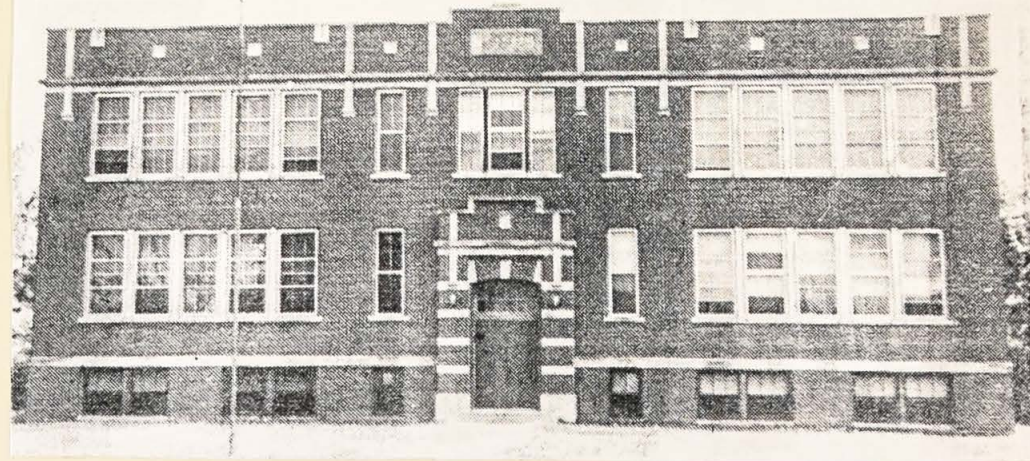

Brenda Radermacher, president of Dickey Central Parent-Teacher Organization, spoke on behalf of that group. Kim Radermacher, member of the sophomore class, read an essay she had written entitled "Farewell", recalling the special relationships that have developed at DCHS.

Last on the program was the final performance of the often-complimented Dickey Central Band directed by Mrs. German. The band played "Magnificent Seven" after which the audience sang along as the band performed the school song. Dickey Central PTO served punch, coffee, bars and a cake especially decorated by Pat and Geraldine Glynn.

Thursday, May 23, marked the final day of school at DCHS, thus bringing to an end a 109 year tradition of quality education in Monango and adjoining townships. Graduates of this school have distinguished themselves in many areas of higher education, professions, and trades. Unfortunately, declining enrollment and increasing costs combined to force its closing, as is happening to schools throughout the state of North Dakota.

The district will remain an entity for the next two years as allowed by law, and students will attend nearby schools. At the end of this two year period land in the Monango district will be annexed to adjoining school districts.

My name is Edwin Wiederrich. I was born in Monango, N.D. and I lived in the Monango-Ellendale area until 1953 when I moved to Portland, OR.

I would like some information on Richard G. Colbert. Myself, Richard and Willard Hill were drafted into the service the 21st of October, 1941. Willard has since passed away about 2 or 3 years ago. I was with Colbert when he was killed and just received a roster with his name buried in and around Oran, North Africa. I would like to find out if he still has relatives in Guelph or Ludden where he came from.

If you have any information on Richard Colbert please write to: Edwin A Wiederrich, 3232 SE 167 Ave., Portland, OR. 97236.

In Honor of the 40th Wedding Anniversary of Arlan and Ellen Fiechtner, their children and grandchildren invite you to a celebration Saturday, June 29, at the Monango City Park. Serving will begin at 6:30 p.m. Program at 8:00 p.m. The couple request no gifts, please.

Monango to hold Fall Festival

The Monango Community Betterment will be holding its annual Fall Festival on Saturday, September 7. Various activities will be held throughout the day. These include a hobby show, guessing games, largest vegetable contest, pony rides, and kids games.

The vegetable contest and guessing games will begin at 1:00 and be held throughout the day. The vegetables available to be judged are: tomato, potato, cucumber, carrot, pumpkin, summer squash, winter squash, onion, garlic, green pepper, cabbage, beet, muskmelon, watermelon, long ear corn, sunflower head, and most original wild flower arrangement. The kids games also begin at 1:00 p.m. in the Park.

At 1:30 the shopping cart races begin. The shopping cart races should prove to be the most interesting event of the day. The race will consist of 2 person teams of men's and women's divisions. One person on the team will ride in the cart while the other will push the cart through the course and finish line. The winners of each division will then compete in a challenge of the sexes. Anyone interested in participating is asked to contact Joleen Rithmiller or

Christy Klipfel. If you cannot contact them you are still more than welcome to participate. All participants are asked to be at the picnic shelter by 1:00 p.m.

The Old Timers from past Monango ball teams will be challenging this years team to a best 2 of 3 softball game. Any Old Timers that have not been contacted and would like to play are encouraged to join the fun. During the game the Betterment will be collecting free-will donations that will be going towards the LeRoy Gruenich Benefit. Please help us in this cause with your attendance.

Also starting at 3:00 p.m. is the Hobby Show. The Hobby Show is open to anyone with a hobby that would like to display their collection. Anyone who is interested in displaying their hobby should contact Dorene Brandenburger. Collections from baseball cards, rocks, Indian artifacts, glassware, stamps, coins, etc., are welcome. These displays will be available for showing until 8:00 p.m.

At 4:00 members from the areas girls volleyball teams are taking on any and all challengers in a game of volleyball. There will be an entry fee of $1.00 per player. If the girls win they will keep your money and donate it to the LeRoy Gruenich Benefit fund. If you beat the girls you get your money back.

The days events will conclude with the Turkey BBQ. Serving begins at 5:00 p.m. There is advanced ticket sales at a price of $5.00 for adults, and $2.50 for children 12 and under. Tickets at the door will be $5.50. Advance tickets can be purchased from any of the Betterment members or at Rithmiller Tax Service in Ellendale and the Triple R in Monango.

Everyone is encouraged to attend, participate, and have a great time with the various activities. We hope to see you there.

ENC Fund donated to Grueneich 1991

The proceeds from a fund established by the Ellendale Nursing Center employees was presented to Luella Grueneich at the ENC on Friday, May 24. Due to the enormous amount of expenses incurred because of a kidney transplant, a fund was set up at the First National Bank in Ellendale to help LeRoy Grueneich defray some of the costs of this operation. A bake sale at ENC earlier in the year in addition to donations from ENC employees and other people in the community had resulted in a fund of $920 for the Grueneichs. Previously the proceeds of a dinner which was held at the Ellendale School had been given to them also.

Dickey County Fair Board members

County Fair most successful

by Livy Hird
of the Leader

Dickey County Fair board vice president, Lyle Morrison, said that this year Dickey County had a most successful fair. New additions had been made to the fair grounds which included an area where three flag poles had been erected and flower beds and other landscaping improvements made. Yard flood lights installed, new siding on the poultry house and ticket booths, gravel placed on the east entrance driveway, and a suggestion box placed on the grounds were other enhancements made.

Morrison said "The 4-H exhibits at the 1991 fair certainly displayed the talent of the youth in Dickey County. Fair goers had the opportunity to view over nine hundred 4-H exhibits. Those attending were exposed to the fine details of the static exhibits and saw one of the largest livestock displays at the Dickey County Fair in recent years. The 4-H premium and market animal sales are a big event for the 4-Hers. Area individuals and businesses supported the 4-H purple ribbon and market animal sale with contributions of over three thousand dollars as a reward to the 4-Hers. Several new 4-H events this year included a 4-H Cloverbud day camp for area youth. Another event was the pre-teen 4-H livestock showmanship."

Winners of the local talent contest held on Friday evening in conjunction with the Zuchinis grandstand show were Cassandra Glynn in the 0 to 12 age group, Michelle Mueller in the age 13 to 18 group, and Layna Morrison and Faith Webster in the adult group. Saturday evenings entertainment was furnished by Matt and Robyn, a brother and sister singing team.

A new feature added to the fair this year was a classic car showing promoted by Mr. Merc. Saturday morning the main street block east of Highway #281 was filled with classic cars in all shapes, forms and ages. Later in the day the cars were moved to the Dickey County Fair grounds where people attending the fair were treated to the spectacle. The cars came from all of the surrounding states and Canadian provinces.

Pony rides offered by Dennis Whelan were also a new attraction at this year's fair and were enjoyed by many of the young people in attendance.

The fair board reported that this year set a record of cutting and serving 660 pounds of watermelon in 17 minutes on Sunday afternoon. The demolition derby entries also increased substantially this year.

The fair board members are Bertha Knox, President; Lyle Morrison, Vice President; Sandy Dietz, acting secretary; LeRoy Wolff, treasurer; Gwen Hanson; Willie Blumhardt; Doug Zahn; George Johnson and Joel Sullivan. They expressed pleasure with the fair attendance, participation and help in preparation for the event.

Rithmiller runs in city election

by Livy Hird
of The Leader

Walt Rithmiller, who started the Rithmiller Tax Service in Ellendale in May of 1979, will be on the city election ballot on April 7 as a candidate for the office of mayor.

When asked why he wants to become mayor, Rithmiller said, "I hope to be able to promote the small community of Ellendale and inject some life into it to keep it from dying. To answer the question of what I have specifically in mind I believe that it is hard to generalize and that each case that comes up must be treated differently. We have to look at each incident separately to help the town".

Rithmiller also said, I believe elected city officials are representatives of the people and need to have the understanding of the people and be able to listen to those that they represent. My opinions may not agree with everybody but I would like to hear their opinions so as to better communicate with them and understand their feelings".

"The election time is fast approaching and due to the nature of my business, I may not have time to campaign", Rithmiller said.

Monango Boy who lives in Ellendale is running for mayor.

Bertsch is new Ellendale mayor '92

Delbert Bertsch becomes mayor of Ellendale, N.D., for the next two years, after getting 209 votes to 93 for Walter Rithmiller in Tuesday's election. The top four vote-getters in a five-way race for Park Board won positions on that board. Vote totals were Rick Hack, 265; Robert Schmidt, 247; Mark Scallon, 238; Judy Bertsch, 206; and Sharon Kleppinger, 202.

Bertsch seeks the position of mayor

by Livy Hird
of The Leader

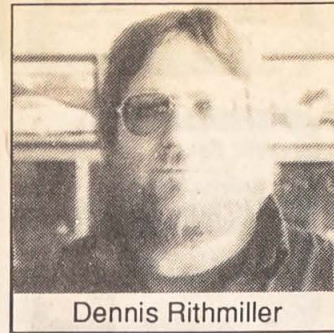

Delbert Bertsch came to Ellendale as a student at the State Normal and Industrial College and in 1962 graduated from this college which had changed its name to the Ellendale State Teachers College. He then left Ellendale, but in 1967 returned to take a teaching position at the Ellendale High School. In 1968 he received a masters degree from Northern State College.

Bertsch was the Ellendale High School Principal from 1967 until 1973 when he joined the First National Bank & Trust Co. as a loan officer.

He stated that he and his wife, Judy, have been active in community and church affairs. Bertsch said, "I am a candidate for the position of mayor because I have the time now to devote to the job since I am no longer employed at the bank. I am interested in the Ellendale community and would like to see if there are things that can be done to improve the city. I have nothing specific to offer but with my educational and financial background I believe I can be of service to Ellendale. At the present time there are problems that need to be addressed such as community development, medical services, and streets which are in need of repair".

Rithmiller's win a Caribbean Cruise

Dennis Rithmiller

by Livy Hird
of The Leader

Dennis Rithmiller and his wife, Colleen, will be leaving Ellendale on Saturday for a weeks vacation cruise to San Juan, Nassau, and St. Thomas in the Caribbean. Rithmiller, who is the Service Manager at Blumhardt Chevrolet - Pontiac, earned the free trip from Chevrolet by winning a "Service Images '91" contest. He was graded on a customer survey that was done every three months pertaining to satisfaction with warranty work that was done. The customers graded him on attitude, the vehicle being fixed right the first time, and overall service satisfaction. He competed with fourteen other service departments in a four state area to win the trip.

Correction!

In the April 9 issue of the Dickey County Leader it was stated that the term of office for mayor for the city of Monango was for two years, the correct term of office is four years.

Fiechtner and Schooley announce engagement

Charles and Dorothy Schooley of Castlewood announce the engagement of their daughter, Kay, to Mark Fiechtner, son of Ralph and Clara Fiechtner of Ellendale.

Miss Schooley is a 1984 graduate of Castlewood High School and a 1988 graduate of Augustana College at Sioux Falls with a degree in communications/business. She is employed as a territory manager at Cooks, Inc. in Watertown. Her fiance is a 1985 graduate of Ellendale High School and a 1989 graduate of Northern State University at Aberdeen, with a major in industrial technology. He is a drafter at Timmerman Woodworking in Watertown.

A Saturday, May 30, wedding is planned in the Lutheran Church of Our Redeemer at Watertown.

Ellendale woman struck by car

Ruth Deering, 62, Ellendale, N.D., was struck by a vehicle late Saturday evening as she was crossing the street in the middle of the 800 block of Eighth Ave. N.E. The driver of the vehicle was Kristie L. Schersbenske, 31, of 702 Park Village. Deering was struck by the left, front fender and rolled up onto the hood of the vehicle, receiving mild lacerations and bruises, Aberdeen police said. Deering was taken to St. Luke's Midland Regional Medical Center where she was treated and released. Jaywalking charges are pending against Deering, according to the Aberdeen Police Department.

OUR REF: JBEHAN:jj:58102-9600
SUBJECT: QUESTIONNAIRE TO: POSTAL CUSTOMER
MONANGO ND 58471

Dear Postal Customer:

As the Postal Manager responsible for all post offices in your area, I would like your opinion concerning a possible change in the way your postal service is provided. The proposed change is tentative and will not lead to a formal proposal unless it appears to benefit both your community and the Postal Service.

The postmaster at the Monango Post Office retired on December 30, 1991. A review of the business activities of the post office revealed that the office workload had dropped, and the office qualified for service only four and one half hours per day, Monday through Friday, and for one and one half hour on Saturday. Our office review revealed an average of four daily retain window transactions. This reduced workload suggests that the maintenance of an independent office at Monango may not be warranted.

Briefly, we would like to provide pickup and delivery of your mail, as well as the sale of stamps and all other customary postal services to roadside boxes. This service would be performed by a rural carrier and would involve closing our operation at the Monango Post Office.

We estimate that rural route service would cost the Postal Service substantially less than maintaining the post office in your community and would still provide the same, or better, postal service than you currently receive. Enclosed is information about some of the services available from the carrier. Retail services are also available at the Ellendale Post Office, located twelve miles away. Hours of service at this office are Monday through Friday: 8:30 a.m. to 12:15 p.m. and 1:15 to 4:30 p.m. and on Saturdays from 9:30 to 11:00 a.m.

NEW HORIZONS SOUTH UNIT CONSORTIUM NEWSLETTER

A Basis For Understanding

The New Horizons Consortium interim board recommended the formation of two school districts from the eleven original districts. The south unit consists of Ellendale, Edgeley, Jud, Fullerton, Monango, and Kennison which were all members at the onset of the consortium. The south unit will have a seven member school board with a central administration. The south school district would have elementary school plants in Edgeley and Ellendale. It would also have a new high school located in close proximity to Monango. While the new high school would be under construction, the present high schools in Edgeley and Ellendale would continue to operate.

A Yes Vote Means:

1. One school district will be formed from the former districts of Edgeley, Ellendale, Fullerton and Jud.
2. The new district will have one school board representing the former districts.
3. K-6 facilities at Edgeley and Ellendale and a 7-12 facility in the vicinity of Monango will be maintained.
4. Current facilities at Jud, Edgeley Grade School (students will be moved to present high school plant) and Ellendale High School would be closed.
5. Some remodeling would take place for Ellendale and Edgeley elementary plants.
6. The new district would have one superintendent, one business manager, and 2 1/2 building principals.

A No Vote Means:

1. Each individual district will remain open in the same manner as they currently do.
2. Increases in local taxes will continue at large rates in some school districts.
3. Each school will continue to keep its own identity.

Post office box rental is available at this location at an increased rental fee.

If a change to carrier service is implemented, customers will continue to use the name Monango in their mailing address, and it will continue to be listed in the National Five-Digit ZIP Code and Post Office Directory. However, to ensure effective and regular service, the ZIP Code will change to 58436.

I invite you to give serious thought to the possible change to rural route service. Please return your questionnaire by May 28 1993, using the enclosed pre-addressed envelope.

You may, of course, want an opportunity to discuss this form of service with us before drawing any conclusion. A postal representative will be at the Community Building on Wednesday, June 2, 1993 at 7:30 p.m., to answer questions and provide information about our service. You may want to discuss and submit your questionnaire at that time. The enclosure entitled "U.S. Postal Service Summary of Post Office Change Regulations" describes what is involved in making a formal proposal if a permanent change in postal service appears warranted.

If you have any questions, you may call Judy Johnson, whose telephone number is 436-4221.

Thank you for your assistance.

The Interim board has had a public hearing on the two district plan. They approved the plan and sent it through the county and state committee for approval. In both cases the committees at their respective levels passed the plan. The interim board is now obligated to bring the plan to a vote in each of the operating districts for the patrons to approve or disapprove the plan.

If a sufficient number of individual districts approve the plan it will go into effect on July 1, 1994. The word sufficient means that in the end the district must have 700 square miles and 600 students to legally qualify according to the North Dakota Century Code. One or two of the smaller districts could vote the plan down, but if either Edgeley or Ellendale vote no on the plan, it will not qualify according to the regulations. In the event that a sufficient number of districts do not vote in favor of the plan, then all districts would go back to their original status prior to the beginning of the consortium with the exception of those districts which have already gone through with annexation procedures. Each district will vote independently as to whether or not they would like to be a part of the operating district. This vote will take place on November 16, 1993.

A Yes Vote Means:

1. Other projected improvements will include expanded extra-curricular activities, improved teacher preparation and more efficient operation.
2. Current district valuation will be combined into a central system bringing the total valuation to $9,952,766.

A No Vote Means:

1. A positive vote on the formation of the new district and a second positive vote to build the new secondary building would ensure that the plans which have been described in this article and previous newsletters would become a reality. A negative vote would force districts to go back to the buildings which they are operating in at this point and the curriculum which the districts offer today. A negative vote would also eliminate the additional staff members which have been serving consortium school districts for the past three years unless the individual districts would add those positions to their current budgets.

A Yes Vote Means:

1. Educational leaders will need to resolve questions and concerns of local patrons.

A No Vote Means:

1. Problems such as declining enrollments, state financial support, increasing property taxes, lack of curriculum and lack of programs and services will have to be addressed in the future by each individual school district.
2. The present staff hired by the consortium would be significantly reduced, if not dissolved.

If a favorable vote would take place in November, a number of ways that we are used to doing business would need to change. For example, we would need to find new ways to bus our students and utilize family transportation systems to alleviate time spent going to and from the school sites. Also, services would need to be coordinated for students who are involved in extra-curricular activities to provide a place prior and after those kinds of activities for students. Another concern would be finding a solution to safeguarding students during winter storms or other acts of God. These challenges are just a few of the concerns that need to be discussed and solutions found.

Farm Neighbors

Husband-wife chats prove costly

By Russ Keen
American News Writer

MONANGO, N.D. — When a couple decides to share the task of making business decisions, the results can be humorous.

Gene and Brenda Radermacher recall the day when the price of wheat reached a pleasant $4.28 per bushel. Gene was on the phone with a buyer, trying to decide whether or not to sell several thousand bushels.

"I decided I should talk to Brenda," Gene says. He hung up the phone, and the spouses conferred. They talked about whether they should wait for the price to climb higher, or be content with $4.28. They decided to be content.

Ten minutes later Gene, ready to sell, called the buyer back.

"The price had dropped a penny," Gene says with a smile. "We lost more than $60. It cost $64.25 to talk with my wife for 10 minutes."

The funny moment illustrates how significant marketing decisions can be.

"Marketing is a real challenge for farmers," Brenda says. "It can be much more important than working long weeks for many months."

The Radermachers made another business decision together in November, when they sold their 40-cow dairy herd to a young man who was starting a large dairy operation in New Mexico. While the joint decision to sell wheat held some humor, the decision to sell cows was more wistful.

"I know fewer and fewer dairy farmers around here," Gene says.

"That guy who bought our cows, by the time he left to start his big dairy in New Mexico, he took almost 900 head of dairy cattle with him, from South Dakota, North Dakota and Minnesota," Brenda says. "I hate to see that much dairy leave this part of the country."

The trend is the same in Minnesota, where both Gene and Brenda have family roots.

"In Young America, Minn., the little dairy farmers are selling out, and they're going to 300- to 400-head dairy herds," Brenda says. "So it's changing all over."

Nonetheless, the Radermachers said selling out was the right business decision. And it had its rewards. Following the sale, Gene and Brenda went on a cruise to celebrate 25 years of marriage. And living without the milking schedule gives the couple more flexibility day to day.

"I just don't have to be back by 5 o'clock anymore when I go shopping," Brenda says.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

Spring is finally here! (I think?) We all look so forward to this time of year. The warmer weather, the trees and grass slowly turning green, flowers blooming, etc. It's a wonderful sight to behold after the long, cold, harsh winter we've just experienced.

But, with spring, comes another responsibility, as well. We have to endeavor to repair the damage done by time and weather, especially regarding our lawns and homes. This all takes time, money and effort, it's true. But the benefits are well worth it. We experience a keen sense of accomplishment and we carry a good feeling about ourselves when we pick up our yards, haul away the junk, and keep the lawn mowed regularly and our sidewalks swept and clean. And when our property needs paint or repairs, it's really our responsibility as home-owners to ourselves and to the community to take care of these things promptly, as needed. It is a privilege, as well, to show others the care and pride we take in keeping our property well-kempt. Even renters can share that feeling as they keep their places clean and neat, inside and the time, landlords are more than willing to let you paint or repair their property in exchange for some amount taken off the rent or something of this nature. Find out.

Let's see what we can all do so that, as we drive through out home-town, and as others from out-of-town drive through, as well, we can be proud of, not only our homes and yards, but those of our neighbors too.

Sincerely,
Jolene Savey

Dear Editor,
Ellendale could be on it's way to becoming another Monango or Frederick. We can't let this happen!

There are many committees and residents working on ways to entice business and new people to our community. SURVIVAL is the key here!

It is very difficult for a realtor to sell a house when the prospective buyer looks at the houses on either side and sees rubble on porches, yards in disarray, houses with trim that hasn't been painted in years, etc.

There are ordinances in Ellendale and our committee will be using them to clean our town up. We just recently lost a good prospect for an industry to be located in one of our large vacant buildings, because when the buyer brought his wife to view the area, she thought the town was very dirty and the Main Street too shabby. She nixed the whole deal figuring that the folks here (who would have been their 100 employee work force) didn't have enough pride to build them a decent product. Was she right? Doesn't matter now, her husband is building in northern Minnesota. WE LOST THEM! We are going to make sure this won't happen again!

We are checking every lot in town and seeing what needs painting or fixing. Check your area, does it need paint on the house, is there broken, dangerous sidewalks, rubble laying in your yard for no good reason other than the fact that you're just too lazy to clean it up? Let's ALL get it cleaned up, painted and fixed before we get cited or fined for it.

Our committee is showing no favoritism - all will be under the gun.

WE MUST SURVIVE!!

Thanks,
Pride in Ellendale Committee

Dear Editor:

Last week in a letter signed by certain members of the Pride in Ellendale Committee the fear was expressed that "Ellendale could be on its way to becoming another Monango or Frederick." I would like to know what reason there was to mention the communities of Monango and Frederick by name in a letter which was directed to the citizens of Ellendale to be about cleaning up their yards and being involved in making their community more attractive and presentable. Were the members of the committee implying that the residents of Monango or Frederick have no pride in their communities?

As a resident of Monango, I can say that the residents of Monango take a great deal of pride in their community. Certainly there are some problem areas, eye-sores if you will, but they exist in every community, and will persist in Ellendale despite the committee's threats of citations and fines. That does not mean that the community leaders of Monango are not working hard to clean up those areas. Yes, our school building is being torn down, and it looks ugly. But there was a lot of pain and swallowed pride involved to come to that decision. Perhaps we should have let the building stand, in a few years it could be a monument to the declining community, complete with broken out windows and spray-painted graffiti. Wouldn't that give the Pride in Ellendale Committee something to point out in perhaps another letter? Pride in one's community often means realizing the changes that are taking place and living with them in a positive way.

I can understand the committees frustration at having lost a business. I can understand their desire to entice new businesses and new people into the community. But what good are new businesses and new people to Ellendale when the loyal patrons from the surrounding communities have been alienated by those who seek to draw more business in? What good will new businesses be to Ellendale when those who have so loyally supported the businesses in Ellendale in the past take their business to other cities because they are finally tired to being put down by Ellendale and its leaders? Who then will support Ellendale and its businesses? There is a warning that a dog should not bite the hand that feeds it. Last week's remarks were indeed a deep bite into the hands of many who have fed the Ellendale economy for many years.

The committee stated that survival is the key. Are they so naive as to think that only Ellendale has the desire to survive the economic and demographic changes which are challenging our way of life on the prairie? Monango wants to survive.

Frederick wants to survive. So do a lot of other struggling communities. Survival will depend upon our working together to face the challenges, not in allowing the challenges to divide and conquer us one by one.

Pride at the expense of surrounding communities can be only Self-Pride in Ellendale, which seems to be the thoughts of the committee members who endorsed last week's letter. There is a saying that pride goeth before the fall. I would guess that before this is all over some will have to swallow their pride pretty hard.

Sincerely,
Reverend Kevin K. Ader

Dear Editor:
In a recent "Letter to the Editor", the Pride in Ellendale Committee made a reference to Monango and Frederick. On behalf of the Monango Community Betterment Corporation, I want to applaud The Pride in Ellendale Committee for the desire to make Ellendale's appearance more appealing to whomever.

I also invite The Pride in Ellendale Committee to tour the beautiful City of Monango with me. If The Pride in Ellendale Committee does discover an area of the City of Monango not as appealing as they would like, they are welcome to contact the individuals involved to correct the situation.

Sincerely,
June 2-1994 Dale Radermacher,
President,
Monango Community Betterment Corporation

Dear Editor:

Our Pride in Ellendale Committee is an offshoot of last year's community meeting where our citizens expressed their desires for our area. Ours, as well as ones dealing with youth entrepreneurship, building new industry, etc., were formed.

I'm very sorry if anyone misunderstood our May 19 "Letter to the Editor" in the Leader. I have no idea why or what they might have read between the lines of the letter, but simply put, we can't allow Ellendale to decrease in size, etc. (we used Frederick and Monango as examples, we could have used any town smaller than Ellendale).

We must research industry, clean up and present ourselves, develop our youth, etc.

Kathy Ashby

Mayor's Column

Delbert Bertsch
Mayor of Ellendale

June 2-1994

On behalf of the community of Ellendale I want to apologize the communities of Monango and Frederick. As was mentioned by the pastor from Monango, why bring in other towns for the problems we are facing? Presently the BUILD program is working on a good neighbor project. The purpose of this is to bring the county together as a community including everyone in the county. I know for a fact that the statement was not the feeling of everyone on that committee. Our town has had the support of your area and I hope it will continue because we need you. Once again, sorry.

Everyone once again, or almost everyone is busy mowing their lawns. Just a reminder, please don't blow grass out in the street. First of all it looks bad and secondly it will create drainage problems. Residents you can help out, if you see your neighbor or anyone putting grass in the street, please encourage them to blow it the other way. It could eliminate a lot of problems.

The new water meter project is well underway. The cooperation of the residents has been great and the crew really appreciates everyone's cooperation. There have been many favorable comments from the residents in regard to this project. If you haven't made an appointment, please call as soon as possible.

Dear Editor: May 26-94

Last week's "Letter to the Editor" expressed the idea of Ellendale becoming another Frederick or Monango. This comment was not meant to criticize, in any way, the size of those communities, the kind of people that lived there, or any other aspect of those communities. The people that live there, as well as other communities, I am sure, have pride in their communities and are very hard working, dedicated people. These communities are small in size, but still have some of the accommodations people are looking for, ie - a safe place to live, an inexpensive place to call home, and friendly people. This is what we are hopefully trying to retain here in Ellendale. We are also trying to entice new businesses or possibly expand our current businesses to help retain some of our young people. I would hope that through expansion, whether that be in Ellendale or in Monango or Frederick, or any other community in the area, as far as that goes, that we may all benefit. These imaginary lines, state lines, school district and county or city lines, that are out there need to be put aside.

Even though I did not write the original letter, I do sincerely apologize for any feelings that may have been hurt. The comments I have heard only assure that these people have pride in their community.

St. Paul's Lutheran Church to hold an old fashioned German worship service

St. Paul's Lutheran Church of Monango will hold an old fashioned German worship service on Sunday, May 29, beginning at 2 p.m. The service will follow the old German liturgy which was once common in many of the Lutheran churches in our area. Those who have knowledge of German are most welcome to come and experience a part of the heritage of our communities and of their families. Though much of the service will be conducted in German, the liturgy and hymns are familiar and can be easily followed along in English. The sermon for the afternoon will also be delivered in English for the benefit of those who are not fluent in German. Following the service, coffee and fellowship will be hosted by the congregation for our guests.

The worship service, commemorating the Feast of the Holy Trinity, is part of St. Paul's Centennial Anniversary Celebration. Other centennial events include a roast beef banquet on Friday, June 24, beginning at 6:30 p.m.; special worship services on Sunday, June 26, at 10:30 a.m. and 2 p.m.; and a potluck picnic on Sunday, June 26, beginning at noon. Tickets for the Friday evening banquet may be obtained by writing to the church Box 16, Monango, ND 58471.

The Class of 1942 Scholarship

The Class of 1942 has awarded Jennifer Frigen an academic scholarship for $250.

This is the second year in which the Class of 1942 has awarded this scholarship. This scholarship is given to an outstanding senior who has shown good citizenship, contributes to the school and to the community, demonstrates a financial need and is sincere in pursuing their education goals.

Jennifer is the daughter of Don and Carol Frigen of Monango and is planning on attending the University of North Dakota majoring in occupational therapy.

Beth Wagner receives two presidential scholarships

Beth Wagner, daughter of Fred and Marcia Wagner, Monango, has been awarded the enviable Presidential Scholarship from North Dakota State University. The Presidential Scholarship is selected by the NDSU Honors Scholarship Committee in recognition of an outstanding ACT score and an exemplary high school record.

The Presidential Scholarship is a four year, renewable scholarship in the amount of $6000. Of this, $1500 will be accredited per year for four years of consecutive undergraduate study at NDSU.

Beth has also received a $500 President's Agriculture Club Scholarship from NDSU. This scholarship is awarded to deserving freshmen students who have potential to make significant contributions in the field of agriculture. Scholastic achievement, high moral character, leadership qualities, and an interest in agriculture are considered in the selection of the recipients. Beth will receive $500 for her freshman year and a minimum of $500 for her sophomore, junior and senior years if she maintains eligibility.

She is planning a major in veterinary medicine at NDSU. Congratulations to Beth on these outstanding honors.

Monango Church to celebrate 100th Anniversary

St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church of Monango will celebrate the 100th Anniversary of the founding of the congregation with a banquet on Friday, June 24, and with festival services and a picnic lunch, between services, on Sunday, June 26.

Rev. Stephen P. Juergensen of Bethel Lutheran Church, Bismarck, ND, will be the guest preacher at the 10:30 a.m. service on Sunday, June 26. Rev. Juergensen served as pastor of St. Paul's from 1985 to 1990. His sermon theme will be "Moving from the Old to the New" based upon 2 Corinthians 5:14-21.

Guest preacher for the 2:00 p.m. service will be Rev. Theodore E. Voll of Trinity-St. James Lutheran Church, Munger, Michigan. Rev. Voll served as pastor of St. Paul's from 1975 until 1979. He will preach on Ephesians 2:19-22, "What is the Church?"

When the congregation was established in 1894, it was composed entirely of German immigrants from Russia, and their children, grandchildren, and great grandchildren compose most of the congregation today. First services were held in the homes of the members and conducted by Rev. C. Bode of Albion Township.

In 1903 the first church building was constructed three miles west of Monango, where the cemetery is now located. Reflecting contemporary beliefs, there were no lightning rods on this building. It was struck by lightning and burned completely on May 15, 1915.

The present church building was then constructed and dedicated to the glory of God on July 16, 1916. It was while this building was under construction in 1915 that the congregation voted to join the Synod of the Lutheran Church of Missouri, Ohio, and Other States.

In 1947 the church building was moved from three miles west of town to its present site in Monango. At this time the church was also remodeled and a full basement was constructed. An educational wing was constructed in 1959 and dedicated on June 19, 1960.

Since February 2, 1975, St. Paul's has united with St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church of Kulm in a dual parish agreement, with the pastor residing in Monango. Presently St. Paul's parish is being served by Rev. Kevin K. Ader.

An anniversary history booklet is being prepared and will be available at the time of the anniversary celebration. In addition, a centennial plate will also be available during the celebration.

Monango Fall Festival set for September 3 1994

The Monango Community Betterment Corporation will celebrate its annual Fall Festival on Saturday, September 3, with activities beginning at 1:00 p.m. A flea market and farmers' market (no charge for the vendors who must provide their own tables), a bake sale, a vegetable contest, a flower show, and a doll show are among the early activities. Contests to be held include horseshoe, pitchfork, golf (longest drive and closest to the pin), with a trap shoot to be held at 3:00 p.m. There is a $5.00 entry fee for the trap shoot with the entrants using their own guns and ammunition. There will be bingo from 3:30 to 4:30 and resuming again after 7:00 p.m.

Children's games will start at 4:00 p.m. in the park. The age categories are 3-5 years, 6-8 and 9-11. The contests are bubble gum blowing, ball throw, egg race, and water balloon toss. All participants will receive a prize. There will also be money in the straw for each age category.

The Monango fry bread wagon will be serving all afternoon. The turkey barbecue meal will be served from 5:30 to 8:00 p.m. Tickets for the barbecue are $5.50 in advance and $6.00 at the door with proceeds being used for park maintenance and improvements.

For more information contact Mildred Gebhardt or Doreen Brandenburger.

Good time had at Monango festival

A ball toss, water balloon toss, egg race, foot races, horseshoe games and pitchfork throw all contributed to a good time for those attending the Monango Fall Festival last Saturday. The turkey barbecue meal was as tasty as it always is. No one went away hungry. Even though it was a rather gloomy day weather wise it did not dampen the spirits of those in attendance.

"Building For Our Future"

School Bond Election
October 4, 1994

Notice: Public Meeting
Monday, Sept 19, 8:00 p.m.
School Gym

Tours of the high school building and physical education facilities at 6:30 p.m.

Cast an Informed ballot Oct. 4

Dear Editor:

In the past few weeks I have spent a fair amount of time in contact with people explaining the issue to be considered for the referendum vote on October 4. Many views and opinions have been brought forward by the people of our district. It was great to see so much interest shown in regards to our school!

It became very apparent, especially in the last couple of weeks, that the community truly understood the need to make changes to our present facilities. Many people are now in the process of weighing all the benefits and drawbacks of the plans being offered.

I have heard brief discussions about other directions our district should take. One was to vote down this plan to pursue the consortium issue. Another was to vote down this plan in favor of pursuing a less expensive version of this same basic idea.

First allow me to address the issue of building through a consortium style setup. I feel the public has spoken already, as was represented by the results of our last vote on the consortium issue. I do agree that the percentages could be different in a new vote on that issue, but could it overcome the large deficit that was represented? What group of people will step forward to invest the time and effort necessary to develop and promote that issue, as has already been done with this plan?

On the subject of a less expensive plan to be offered there are some concerns also. Many voters are not aware that the 3.45 million dollar price tag is not cast in stone. Actually the 3.45 million dollar figure could be more accurately described as a spending limit. If the plan being offered on October 4 is voted in there is a possibility that the plans offered by the architect will be cut down in price, especially when considering the input received from the community during the public presentations. The process of final design that has already been explained to the school board and the advisory committee allows for this to happen through input to the school board and the advisory committee.

If our district suffers a delay in building due to confusion and indecision, a certain amount of cost will be realized. This cost could be avoided by proceeding with the plan offered. It is time that we stop doubting the abilities of our friends and neighbors and offer support and input to them to insure that the proper final design is reached.

In closing I would like to relate an observation that has become

We attended the bond issue informational meeting on Monday evening, September 19, regarding the building of a proposed educational facility. The meeting was very emotional, to say the least, and a lot of community pride was displayed. This is commendable, but we need to take a realistic view of this. Our population continues to decline! Do we really need a new school at this time? Our responsibility as taxpayers is to provide a good education to our children and grandchildren. Do we need a new school in order to achieve this? NO! We feel our children are receiving a high quality education at the present time.

We agree that the present facility needs some upgrading in certain areas. But couldn't this be done without placing a tax burden on the backs of others, especially the small family farms. It is a fact that 76% of the cost of this will be paid by the landowner and they will be locked into the payment for 20 years under the present plan. Due to the present economy, this could be the end to some struggling young farmer, and also influence others as to their decision to return to the farm with this added tax burden. Before you vote, consider all of this very seriously and ask yourself if you are willing to vote "Yes" on this issue and create a hardship for the agricultural sector? Have all options been considered very seriously? What is the rush? Do you feel the student population will be increasing in the near future to warrant this major investment? We agree that the two factors of safety and handicap accessible need to be addressed now. But, couldn't this be accomplished with a lot less money, and without placing extra burden on the backs of others?

District voters reject school bond issue

Last Tuesday, October 4, the voters of the Ellendale school district by a vote of 673 for and 534 against, voiced disapproval of the proposed $3,450,000 issuance of bonds to build a new high school building at the present location, demolish the old high school and to remodel the existing elementary building.

Since question #1 was defeated, the results of the vote on question #2 which called for the issuance of bonds not to exceed $975,000 to demolish the old gym and to construct a new physical education facility and locker rooms at the present location were not valid.

Moose sighted near Monango

by Livy Hird
of the Leader

Last Friday Leona Meyer of Monango called the Leader office to report that she had sighted a moose in a pasture about a mile east of the farm where she lives. She asked if I would like to come up there and take a picture of it. I indicated that I would so I traveled north on Highway 281 to a road one mile north of Monango and then proceeded west. After travelling about two miles west I sighted the moose out in a sunflower field which had not been harvested as yet.

The moose happened to be out in the field about a hundred yards or more and only the top of the animal was visible since the sunflowers were from five to six feet tall. I started to walk out into the field but the dried sunflowers did not make walking very easy. Not only that but I was rather apprehensive about getting near the moose since I am not familiar with the temperament of the animal. I could see that it had an enormous rack of antlers which made it rather intimidating.

I took a couple of pictures of the moose from where I stood but about all I got was a good picture of a sunflower field with a hump of something out in the middle of it.

After waiting for a while in the field the moose started to walk north toward the road that I was near. I thought I might get a good picture of the animal then but after walking a short distance it changed its mind and turned around and went south.

I drove to the south end of the field but found that there were railroad tracks but no road at that end of the field. I waited for a while for the moose to appear but did not see it again.

Mrs. Meyer informed me that she had taken some pictures of the moose but had not developed the film as yet so she did not know how they turned out.

With the more frequent sightings of moose in the southern part of North Dakota, it makes one wonder if the moose population in this area will increase over the years. Fifty years ago the sighting of a deer in this area was rare but now it is commonplace. In fact now you have to be careful when you are driving at night that you don't collide with a deer. I would imagine a collision with a moose would be rather disastrous.

The traveling moose was seen on the David and Sue Kinzler farm near Monango last week.

Dec 30, 94 Farm co-op sells assets

By Kendra Rosencrans
American News Writer

The Maple Valley Farmers Cooperative will dissolve and sell its assets to the South Dakota Wheat Growers of Aberdeen.

The cooperative, based in Ellendale, N.D., owns elevators in Ellendale, Guelph, Monango and Kulm, N.D., and in Frederick.

"Wheat Growers have agreed to purchase the assets," said Wheat Growers spokeswoman Peggy Antanitis. "I can't give specifics because they're contingent on legalities of the offer."

Maple Valley Farmers Cooperative members met Wednesday in Ellendale and voted 130 to 70 to sell the assets. They also voted to dissolve the 13-year-old cooperative, which had 950 members.

Earlier this year, the Maple Valley Cooperative ran into financial problems when it lost a court battle with the Knight Seed company over a mill contract.

South Dakota Wheat Growers, based in Aberdeen, was founded in 1923 and has 5,628 members. It has holdings across the state and in North Dakota, including the Heartland Grain Fuels ethanol plant in Aberdeen.

"Wheat Growers have agreed to purchase the assets."

Patrons vote for dissolution of Maple Valley Farmers Co-op

by Livy Hird
of the Leader

A meeting of the patrons of the Maple Valley Farmers Co-operative was called by its board of directors to be held on Wednesday, December 28, at the Ranch Restaurant in Ellendale. It was revealed by the attorney for Bill Radke - Wheat Growers the cooperative, Ed Klinger, that the purpose of the meeting was to determine if the patrons would approve the dissolution of the cooperative and the sale of its assets to either the South Dakota Wheat Growers or Harvest States.

Klinger said that this action was prompted in part by the negative result of a lawsuit between Knight Seed Co. and Maple Valley Co-op in which the arbitrators awarded Knight Seed Co. over $1,000,000. The lawsuit stemmed from a contract made by Maple Valley Co-op to deliver millet to Knight Seed Co. at a certain price. During the term of the contract the price of millet rose so that a considerable loss would have occurred.

Klinger informed the patrons that a 75% affirmative vote was required for the dissolution of the cooperative. Maple Valley Farmers Co-operative has facilities in Ellendale, Monango, Kulm, Guelph and Frederick, SD.

Bill Radke, General Manager of the South Dakota Wheat Growers presented their proposal for the purchase of the assets of the Maple Valley Co-op. Due to the short time in which a proposal could be prepared some aspects of the transaction had not been finalized at this time. He gave a general idea of the values of the facilities which would be purchased and some of the methods that would be used in managing the operation.

Dave Swanson-Harvest States

Dave Swanson, representing Harvest States, gave a presentation of their proposal for purchasing and operating the co-operative.

After the proposals by Wheat Growers and Harvest States the patrons were asked to vote on the dissolution of the cooperative and if approved to decide between Wheat Growers and Harvest States who would be negotiated with on the purchase and operation of the cooperative.

By a margin of 203 to 10 the patrons of the Maple Valley Co-operative voted for the dissolution of the Co-op. Then by a vote of 130 to 70 the patrons chose that the sale be made to South Dakota Wheat Growers.

AAL gives over $12,000 in benefits

Aid Association for Lutherans (AAL), the nations leading fraternal benefit society, and AAL branches in Ellendale, Forbes, and Monango have raised locally over $12,000 in 1994 for needy causes. This amount has been matched by AAL.

Major projects where money was donated include the following: Mark Bobbe family, Marge Strand benefit, improvements for Christ the King Lutheran Church, local Health Fair, ENC patio fund, Close-up students, tables and videos for the Zion Lutheran church, Oak Grove and Grace Lutheran schools in Fargo, improvements of Bethlehem Lutheran Church in Forbes, Jaws of Life, Monango community gym improvements and repairs for the St. Paul Lutheran Church in Monango.

In addition, each of the branches hosted numerous educational programs throughout the year. AAL provides direct-to-member benefits (videos, booklets, educational kits, etc.) to more than 1.6 million members.

Over the last ten years, AAL has contributed more than $500 million to fraternal programs. In addition to supplying free fraternal benefits, AAL offers it's members life insurance and retirement products, and where available disability income and long term care insurance. 1995 includes auxiliary committee.

Motion by Grueneich, seconded by Maier, to approve the early retirement for July of 1995 for Betty Haussler. Assuming a roll call vote, all voted yes. Motion carried.

The athletic program was discussed. Sheets were distributed showing the cost of each sport.

Motion by Martin, seconded by Sand, to approve the open enrollment applications for the following students for 95-96 to attend school in Oakes. Applications received were:

11-8-94 for the Randy Peterson children - Bryce, Briana and Blake.

12-15-94 for the Joe Glynn children - Jeremy and Jessica.

Assuming a roll call vote, all voted yes. Motion carried.

The next board meeting will be February 13, 1995 at 7 p.m.

Dale Radermacher filed a complaint about the condition of the Monango gym after the Ellendale-Edgeley wrestling teams had used it. The Ellendale and Edgeley School Board will have a couple of members each, the superintendent's of both schools and the Monango Community Better members will meet and discuss what needs to be done.

The superintendent's evaluation forms were distributed to the board members, with March 9 at 6 p.m. set for the meeting.

Budget planning was discussed. Maple River School finances were discussed. After preliminary discussion, the first grade teaching position will not be filled at this time. The first grade will be one section with a full time adie, if necessary.

The board revisited the projected enrollments for the school's future years.

The next board meeting will be March 14, 1995 at 7 p.m.

Monango Community Betterment would like to register a complaint with the Ellendale School Board in regard to the condition of the Gymnasium in Monango after its usage for Ellendale/Edgeley wrestling practice from November 11, 1993 to February 13, 1994. MCB met with Supt. Hansen on May 16, 1994, informing him of the condition of Gymnasium and also its floor. He agreed to restore it to the condition it was in before they started using it. We trusted that the matter would be taken care of, but as of the present time nothing has been done.

The condition of the Gym floor, warping and starting to buckle in places, was due to excessive moisture, due to negligence on the part of the wrestling practice. The original agreement had been that they be responsible to watch the Propane tank and other facilities in the Gym to ensure its safety and good condition. The Propane tank was allowed to go dry, therefore water pipes froze and broke. Holes were put in the walls to locate the broken pipes and repair them. Nothing has been done to repair the holes in the wall. Also, due to a toilet left running for some time, the basement was flooded with about 6 inches of water. There are also other damages that have not been listed. The Gymnasium was left in a deplorable condition and virtually unusable.

We rented the Gymnasium in Monango to Ellendale/Edgeley wrestling team in Good Faith and Trust that it would be taken care of. We feel we were generous in only charging enough to cover the immediate expenses, so as not to overburden the School District for the Rent or Lease Fee. But since nothing has been done, up to this time, to correct this "MESS", we felt that this matter needed to be brought to the attention of the School Board and would appreciate a response to this matter.

For these reasons we feel that this Complaint should also be filed in Supt. Hansen's Personnel File.

Director Scallon reported that he had been contacted by the Monango Community Betterment requesting repair of their damaged gym floor. The Ellendale/Edgeley wrestlers had used the gym for practice during the 1993-94 school year. During that time the propane tanks ran out of LP gas and the pipes froze in the school. There was a cracked toilet which leaked and damaged the gym floor when the heat was turned back on. Supt. Irion was instructed to contact Supt. Kirk Hanson of Ellendale and jointly arrange repairing the damaged floor. Supt. Irion was also instructed to contact Cenex regarding possible insurance coverage. Feb - 1995

Just a "fan" letter to the writer of "Genders" in your recent Dickey County Leader written by Elaine.

I truly enjoyed it - brought back a lot of memories of my childhood in Monango many, many years ago of how quiet and peaceful it was compared to "hustle, bustle" of Phoenix!!

Elaine is truly a talented writer and hope to see more of her articles in future issues of the Leader

Thank you.

Millet contract lawsuit settled Jan 27-19 Maple Valley Co-op Dissolves

Jan 27-1995

ELLENDALE - Patron-members of the Maple Valley Farmers Cooperative voted to dissolve their co-op and sell its assets following a millet contract lawsuit which cost the cooperative in excess of $1 million. The decision was made at a special membership meeting of the cooperative held December 28.

The Maple Valley Cooperative, which is headquartered in Ellendale, has elevator facilities in Kulm, Monango, Guelph in North Dakota and in Frederick, South Dakota. The co-op had been formed through earlier mergers among local co-ops and had built a high through-put facility at Monango.

The Maple Valley Cooperative's board of directors recommended the dissolution and sale of the co-op following the results of litigation in which arbitrators awarded Knight Seed Company over $1 million from the co-op to cover the millet contract.

Ed Klinger, the co-op's attorney, told the annual meeting the co-op had agreed to deliver millet to Knight Seed Company at a certain price. "The price of millet, because of crop failures in 1991, 1992, and 1993 went sky-high. As a result, covering the sales that had been promised by the elevator resulted in that million dollar loss," he explained.

The loss left the cooperative without the needed capital base to continue operations, he said.

Before deciding to dissolve the co-op, patron-members heard presentations from Harvest States Cooperatives and South Dakota Wheat Growers on proposals for the purchase and proposed operation of the cooperative's facilities. Issues considered in the proposals included patron equity, continued operation of substations, outstanding liabilities, and future marketing and transportation concerns.

On the basis of the information available in the purchase proposals, patrons were asked to choose between the two firms for negotiating the sale of the co-op. The co-op's board had considered the negotiating proposals earlier. After a split vote, the board decided to bring the question to the members.

By a vote of 203 to 10, patrons voted to formally dissolve the co-op. Under state law a 75 percent affirmative vote of members present at the meeting was needed for dissolution.

The members then voted 130 to 70 in favor of selling to the South Dakota Wheat Growers.

"Both sides presented themselves well and both are strong companies," Dale Strobel, president of the board, said. "Time will tell how things will work out," he added.

Strobel said the board was concerned how patrons would react at the special meeting. "We didn't know what to expect. There were some pretty angry patrons when news got out about this, but everyone was pretty calm during the meeting. It went really well."

Monango girls win state title

Fifty years ago, March 17, 1945

The March 22, 1945 edition of the Dickey County Leader had the following front page story.

The Monango high school girls' basketball team won the Consolidated league state championship at Buffalo Saturday night, by defeating Amenia high school, 59-33 in the title game that evening. Their win took the crown out of Cass county for the first time.

The Monango team won their berth in the finals by downing Bordulac, 47-34 in the preliminary round, and disposed of Knox, their semifinal opponent, 42-16.

In addition to bringing the crown to Monango and Dickey county, Monango's star forward, Gladys Goodrich, broke the tournament record for points scored in tourney play, as she tossed in 41 field goals and 3 gift shots for a three-game total of 85 points.

The Dickey county squad had little opposition in their march to the title, as their closest game was that with Bordulac, where the victory margin was but 13 points. In the final game Monango led 11-6 at the end of the first period, and held a 27-12 advantage at half time, as they made easy work of the 59-33 win over Amenia. In this final game Gladys Goodrich scored 14 field goals and 1 free throw for 29 points, Ella Haussler got 10 field goals and 2 free throws for a total of 22 points and Mildred Beilke scored 4 field goals for 8 points. Playing in the guard positions were Barbara Brown, Verna Gebhardt and Leila Buchholz.

Three Monango girls were named on the all-tournament team— Gladys Goodrich, Mildred Beilke and Verna Gebhardt.

Many observers said that Monango's combination of Goodrich, Beilke and Ella Haussler was one of the best they had ever seen, with their passing and teamwork standing out in every contest.

(The team was coached by W. F. Brown. Other members of the team were Esther Fiechtner, Charlotte Beilke and Lenora Fiechtner.)

Monango girls championship basketball team holds reunion

On March 17th five members of the 1945 Monango Girls State Championship Basketball Team met at the Octagon in Ellendale to celebrate the 50th anniversary of the winning of the state title. Fifty years ago to the day, March 17, 1945, the Monango team became North Dakota State Champions.

Those present at the reunion were Mr. & Mrs. Vic Fiechtner (Mildred Beilke) of Mandan, ND; Mr. & Mrs. Irvin Greene (Verna Gebhardt) of Hayti, SD; Mr. & Mrs. Harry Priebe (Lenora Fiechtner) of Edgeley, ND; Mr. & Mrs. Jake Rempfer

(Ella Haussler) of Gwinner, ND; and Barbara Wald (Bobbie Brown) of Moorhead, MN. One member of the team, Gladys Goodrich Juelke is deceased. Other members of the team who were unable to attend the reunion celebration because of distance were Charlotte Beilke Ubben, Esther Fiechtner Schulz and Leila Buchholz Frigen.

The coach of the championship team was W. F. (Bat) Brown who was the Monango Farmers Union gas truck driver at the time. He was hired by the Monango School Board to be the coach for the girls team because most of the male teachers had been called into the military service. Brown had a knowledge of basketball techniques since he played basketball for the Ellendale NI and also in South Dakota. The team members said "With Bat as coach, we were taught to pass and cut like boys would play the game. These plays were something new to girls basketball in those days"

The group said that they enjoyed a wonderful evening of reminiscing about their basketball days. Letters were read from those team members that were not present.

Highway tax

funds released

State Treasurer Kathi Gilmore has released $28,612.33 in Highway Tax Distribution Funds for Dickey County for the month of May.

Gilmore said, "Dickey County received $20,877.02 while the cities in Dickey County received $7,725.31. The individual cities and the amount of revenue they received is as follows: •Ellendale - $3,623.83; •Forbes - $145.11; •Fullerton - $189.45; •Ludden - $82.63; •Monango - $106.82; and Oakes - $3,577.47. 1995

Statewide a total of $7,567,724.59 was distributed. The State Highway Department received $4,767,666.49 while the counties received $1,768,775.31. The incorporated cities received $1,031,282.79 from this distribution.

The monthly distribution is comprised of money from gas and special fuels taxes and motor vehicle registrations.

The money is distributed to the counties and cities based on a formula using population and vehicle registrations."

"The money from this distribution may only be used for expenses relating to streets and highways," Gilmore concluded.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor: APRIL 6-1995
Setting the facts straight!

In the past several weeks there has been an article written by Bob Moen for the A.P. and an opinion letter by Kelly Shockman, printed by newspapers statewide attacking the Milk Stabilization Board's existence and purpose. The purpose of the board is to ensure an adequate supply of fresh milk, provide a viable market for Grade A dairy farmer milk and protect our dairy industry from becoming a dumping ground for huge milk surpluses from other areas. In simple terms, it protects consumers, producers, distributors, retailers, and processors from harmful and unfair trade practices that unfortunately seem to arise when using a free market enterprise system involving the marketing of a perishable product like fluid milk.

While everyone is entitled to their opinion, I would think they should have a moral obligation to use factual information rather than try to mislead the public with inaccurate statements. For instance, the A.P. article indicated that the board set the minimum price for a gallon of two percent milk at $3.21 in Ellendale. In fact, the minimum established price for a gallon of two percent milk in Ellendale in February was $2.95 and now has been reduced to $2.88, not the $3.21 stated in the article.

Federal Milk Marketing Order No. 68 does not supersede the Milk Board in this state and in fact the Grade A dairy farmers receive the benefit of higher Class I prices established by the board. Class I utilization for Federal Order No. 68 may be about 16%, however, it averages 42% statewide and over 65% in the western half of the state.

North Dakota Grade A dairy farmers netted an additional $.51/cwt in fiscal year 1994 above Federal Order No. 68 prices due to premiums established by the board at public hearings. This premium in all likelihood was the difference between profit or loss for a majority of dairymen in this state.

If one wants to know what it would be like if North Dakota had no milk board, all they have to do is drive to Aberdeen, SD and witness the South Dakota Milk Board. One by one all of the small processors have been forced to sell out after losing enormous amounts of money trying to compete in a so-called wonderful free market system. And in the near future the last remaining producer-processor, Blue Valley Dairy, is going on the auction block.

Why is this occurring when everyone should be thriving in a free market system? Just walk into Econo Foods and check out the dairy case. Econo Foods is owned by Nash Finch, a huge national retailer and wholesaler, which also owns Gilette Dairy in Nebraska. Their two percent gallon of milk bottled by Gilette is priced at $1.88. But right beside their two percent half gallon of milk is $1.51. Does this make any sense? The other half of the dairy case is supplied with milk packaged by Lakeside Dairy. A gallon of their two percent milk is priced at $2.60. I guess it shouldn't come as a surprise to anyone when I tell you that at 3:30 in the afternoon when I was there, not a single gallon of Lakeside product was removed yet, in comparison, nearly half of the Gilette brand was sold. Wholesale price is the price at which milk is purchased by a retailer. It was exactly the same type of scenario that was occurring in North Dakota in the 60's when producers like my father and others across the state organized and fought hard to have the milk board established. The purpose was to put an end to the constant upheaval in the dairy industry and it appears that producers and consumers alike should be ready to defend its continued existence.

While it could be argued that consumers would benefit from the demise of the milk board in the form of lower prices by footbaling milk, loss-leaders of milk price wars instituted by outsiders in the short term, the long term impact would be devastating. Surplus milk benefit would be short lived in comparison to the devastating impact its removal would cause to the overall economy of the state in the long term.

While asking for a six cent per hundredweight increase may seem like a lot, name me another state agency that has gone for 20 years without an increase in funding. This alone should prove that it is one of the few agencies created that has been able to accomplish the purpose it was created for, efficiently and fairly for the benefit of all North Dakota. In the past, North Dakota residents have been fortunate to have had a legislature consisting of members willing to use common sense in determining the fate of the Milk Stabilization Board. For everyone's sake in North Dakota, let's pray that common sense will continue to be the method used in the future.

Klipfel - Peterson

Christine K. Klipfel and Steven R. Peterson announce their engagement.

Christine is a graduate of Ellendale High School and Interstate Business College in Fargo. Currently she is a teller at the First National Bank in Ellendale.

Steve is a graduate of Dickey Central High School currently is a farmer in the Fullerton area.

Parents of the couple are Connie and Jeff Fox, Watertown, SD, Wayne Klipfel, Monango, and Adeline Peterson, Mayville.

A May 27, 1995, wedding is planned at St. Helena's Catholic Church in Ellendale.

Monango woman Lutheran delegate 1995

The special Discipling Woman to Woman program, Bible study, mission projects selection, eight major speakers, dramatized reports, interest conferences, entertainment, tours and displays will highlight the 22nd biennial convention of the International Lutheran Woman's Missionary League. The convention will be held June 22-25, 1987, at the Tarrant County Convention Center in Fort Worth, Texas.

Joyce Gebhardt, a member of St. Paul's Lutheran Church of Monango, will be joining 6,500 convention delegates and guests. She is the vice president of the South Central Zone of the North Dakota District LWML.

The theme of the convention is "Radiant With God's Love."

Discipling Woman to Woman is the newest program of the League. One of the objectives of the program is to gain understanding and share solutions to the common challenges women encounter as they live the Christian life in various cultures. The program was initiated in 1985 when four women—two from Nigeria and two from England—visited the United States and Canada. Presently, four women—two from Korea and two from the Philippines—are visiting the United States. Their visits will conclude with their attendance at the convention. For the second phase of this program, four women from the United States will visit England this fall. They will be commissioned at the convention.

To further highlight the missionary work of the League various projects will be updated. Updating the mission project for the Lutheran Education Center on Aging, Seward, Nebraska, will be Dr. Shirley Bergman, Executive Director and Founder of the Center. The Rev. Carl Robinson, pastor of Christ Lutheran Church, Los Angeles, will share his experiences as an individual recipient of LWML financial assistance to do graduate work at Concordia Seminary, St. Louis, Missouri. Dr. Howard A. Westcott Jr., Executive Director of the LCMS Board for Missions, will update the LCMS mission activities and the LWML's involvement in the mission work.

The Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod president, Dr. Ralph A. Bohlmann, will also address the convention body. Other speakers include Dr. Jean Garton, chairman of the LCMS President's Commission on Women who will speak on "A Radiant Woman Serves."

Each morning's convention meeting will begin with Bible study. The Rev. Dennis Glick, International LWML Counselor, of Napoleon, Ohio, will lead all of the studies.

A procession of banners will open the convention at 7 p.m., Monday, June 22. A highlight of the evening will be a Festival Service with communion. Preacher for the service will be the Rev. Glenn O'Shoney, president of the LCMS Texas District and chairman of the LCMS Council of Presidents.

Following the communion service, a special reception will be held to give everyone the opportunity to meet the International officers, nominees and special guests.

For the delegates, a convention highlight on Tuesday will be the setting of a mission goal and selecting the mission projects for the next biennium from the 21 proposed projects totaling $1,187,000.

A special Mission Service Ingathering of blankets and quilts for Lutheran World Relief will be held Tuesday evening.

On Wednesday, forty-two (42) interest conferences will be offered. Among the leaders of the conferences are the Rev. Christian Zimmerman, former hostage; Dr. Florence Montz and Helen Morris, former International LWML presidents.

Two films will be premiered at the convention. One is a LCMS mission film. The production of the film was financed by the LWML. The second is a LWML promotional film. Location filming was done in Missouri, Florida, Indiana, and Texas.

The Wednesday evening entertainment program will include a Texas barbecue and music by Don Edwards, singer-composer-guitarist.

The entire programming of the convention has been planned to emphasize the theme, "Radiant With God's Love". The theme is based on Psalm 34:5a and Proverbs 4:18.

Tom Strand of Ellendale and Don Frigen of Monango named centennial ambassadors

A new collection of photographs documenting daily life in North Dakota. Suggested scenes include children playing in the yard, views of a town's Main Street, someone watching television (also shows how rooms are decorated today), friends having coffee at a cafe, farm equipment in the fields, or someone cleaning a garage. Some of the photographs will eventually be selected for a traveling photo exhibit.

Dear Esther and Virginia,

Since the Monango Post Office will be no more, this is the last time you will be able to take a letter from your box there.

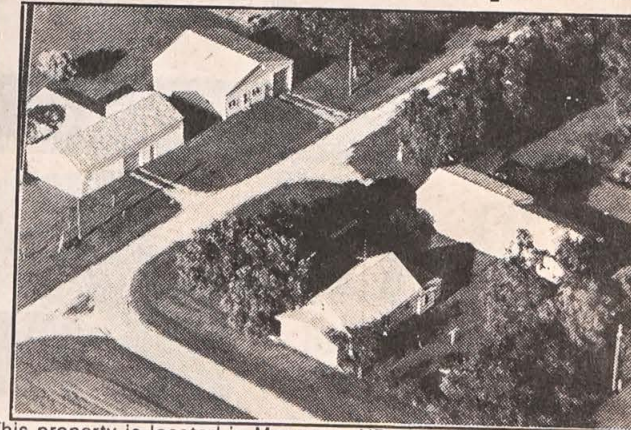

We venture through this life one step at a time and sometimes find ourselves down paths so narrow that we wonder if they are worth taking. But along every path are new sights, new experiences, and new friends. Even though the time I spent at the Monango Post Office was short, I met a whole town of friendly people. New friends that I will think of often.

Thanks for the memories.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

Our system of voting for schools and raising taxes on real estate is very unfair. I think it plainly stinks. When has such a vote continued to come up again and again until it passes? It can be voted down 10 times and on the 11th time, it may pass, then the "yes" claim victory. I feel there should be another session of voting one or two more times after the "yes" (wins) so called wins.

There are times when games are played, the winner is considered maybe three out of five or etc., but when it comes to taxing the farming community it is continued until the "yes" in favor of the taxes has one election where they come out ahead. Then all voting stops and it is considered a win. No fair. I feel our present school buildings are good enough. We need not destroy them and build new. This is wasteful, but if we can tax those who worked hard and saved a little and say it is for the children, we think we are justified. With good teachers we can relocate as well in a tent as we can in a multi-million dollar building.

I own some land. My taxes are $800 for a quarter which I consider high. The price of wheat is not much higher now than it was when you could buy a quarter of land for the $800 which is now taxes. Where is it supposed to come from?

Maple Valley Farmers Cooperative removed from Commodity Credit Corporation's list

The Maple Valley Farmers Cooperative Elevator with locations in Monango, Ellendale, Guelph and Frederick, SD has been removed from Commodity Credit Corporation's List of Approved Warehouses. This action was effective July 25, 1995.

Any grains put into storage in the Maple Valley Farmers Cooperative Elevator are ineligible for price support loans.

This removal action was taken by the CFSA Commodity Office at Kansas City, Missouri, due to the recent sale of the facility to South Dakota Wheat Growers. A Successor Agreement with South Dakota Wheat Growers is currently pending. Aug. 31 - 1995

Dear Esther,

Monango Community Betterment
 thanks you very much for the donation of $100.00 to be used in Gym Repair or Kitchen Supplies. This was very generous of you, and we thank you for your continued support in our efforts. We really appreciate it.

August 8, Terrie Murphy, Ellendale, pleaded guilty to the Class B misdemeanor charge of issuing a check without an account and was fined $500 with $500 suspended, was required to pay a $50 administrative fee, $200 restitution and $30 check costs. Murphy was placed on one year probation and was sentenced to one year in jail with all but 45 days suspended with credit for one day already served. 1995

Monango AAL Branch 2770 awarded Gold Star rating

Aug 17-1995
Members of Aid Association for Lutherans (AAL) Branch 2770, Monango, have been awarded a Gold Star rating by the fraternal benefit society in recognition of exemplary volunteer service to the community.

AAL's 8,829 branches are ranked in eight performance categories. To achieve a Gold Star rating, branches must annually sponsor at least one AAL benevolent activity (fundraiser, work project, etc.), conduct at least 12 meetings, sponsor at least one educational activity and one member awareness event and comply with AAL's attendance, voting and reporting requirements.

Officers of AAL Branch 2770 are:

AAL, a fraternal benefit society based in Appleton, Wisconsin, provides its members with life insurance and retirement products, as well as disability income and long-term care insurance in most states. Mutual funds are offered to members by AAL's wholly-owned subsidiary, AAL Capital Management Corporation. Credit union services are available to members from the AAL Member Credit Union, an affiliate of AAL.

Projects undertaken this year by Branch 2770 were: installing new rain gutters at St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Monango, helping to remodel and repair a community meeting room for the community of Monango, and raising funds for Jaws of Life equipment for the Ellendale Fire Department. The AAL home office provided funds, or matched funds, for each of these projects.

St. Jude Children's Research Hospital in Memphis, TN, has announced plans for the Monango "Wheels for Life" Bike-a-Thon to be held on September 2, 1995 at 3 p.m. at the Monango Park. Coordinator for this year's event is Mrs. Angie Smith, who encourages all residents and businesses to support this community event. Area businesses have donated prizes.

St. Jude Children's Research Hospital, founded in 1962, by the late entertainer Danny Thomas, is the largest childhood cancer research center in American in terms of the number of patients treated and treatment success. Treatment is provided at no cost to the family and all findings are shared freely with doctors and hospitals all over the world.

Thanks to St. Jude Hospital, children who have leukemia, pediatric AIDS, sickle-cell anemia, and other life-threatening diseases now have a better chance to live.

Ten-year-old Jason Ferguson of Richmond, VA, represents all the patients who have received the benefits of St. Jude's research. Jason was diagnosed with melanoma skin cancer in February, 1994. He underwent surgery and a series of chemotherapy treatments and is now cancer free. Jason feels well and loves to ride his bike. Thanks to everyone who supports events such as the "Wheels for Life", St. Jude Hospital will always be available for children like Jason.

Following the Bike-a-Thon will be Monango's Fall Festival.

Area residents support Monango "Wheels for Life"

Angie Smith, Monango, who was coordinator of the Monango "Wheels for Life", rated it as a success. "I want to thank all of the generous citizens who sponsored a participant in our Monango "Wheels for Life" event. I don't know all of you, but I want you to know that with your help fourteen people participated in raising $619.50," she said.

Smith also expressed her appreciation for those organizations and businesses who generously donated prizes. Those supplying prizes were Monango Community Betterment, Coast to Coast of Ellendale, Dakota Plains Credit Union of Ellendale, Jay's Hi-Way Furniture, Mahler's Village Variety, Ulmer's Super Valu, The Ranch House of Fullerton and First National Bank of Ellendale.

Smith said, "These funds will benefit St. Jude Children's Research Hospital, America's leading center for the study and treatment of childhood cancer. If through this program we save one child, your support will be rewarded in full. Thank you very much."

Wheat is piling up at Monango and Kulm

"In June we had all the orders for railroad cars in place," said Kelly Kingzett, manager of Wheat Growers in Ellendale. "Then the crop turned out better than was expected the way it looked this spring. On top of that the price of wheat rose 75 cents to a dollar a bushel and the farmers began unloading their grain bins. All of a sudden we had more wheat than we had space to ship it in. We have had to pile about 100,000 bushels of wheat on the ground at the Monango terminal and in Kulm we have between 40,000 and 50,000 bushels on the ground," he said.

The shortage of rail cars is a common problem in the fall. Kingzett says that you cannot blame the Soo line for the shortage since the need for the cars rose so dramatically and unexpectedly.

Cars are hard to find this year partly because Mississippi River barges are extra busy with exports. Trains that normally unloaded their freight onto barges aren't this year because barges are booked solid for their trips to Gulf of Mexico ports. Instead, trains are hauling freight themselves to the gulf, which means fewer cars are available in the Great Plains.

Cars are available but they're expensive if they weren't ordered in advance. You can pay about $500 per car over and above the normal tariff rate. Most of the time it is $75 to $150 over tariff.

The added expense comes out of the farmers pockets. Elevators absorb higher transportation costs by paying producers less.

With the elevators filled or almost filled with wheat the problem will probably continue with the approaching harvest of sunflowers and corn.

N.D. man dies of gunshot wound

David Carlson, 32, of Monango, N.D., died Monday at his home near Monango of a gunshot wound, according to Dickey County Sheriff Jim Bohannon. An autopsy was expected to be performed Wednesday in Minneapolis, Bohannon said. No further details are available while the case is under investigation, he said.

David Carlson

Monango, N.D. — The funeral for David Carlson, 32, of Monango and formerly of Langford, will be at 2 p.m. Saturday at Highland Lutheran Church near Langford.

Burial will be in the church cemetery with Franzen Funeral Chapel in Britton in charge of arrangements.

Visitation will be from noon to 9 p.m. today at the funeral chapel.

He died Monday, June 19, 1995, at his home near Monango.

David Carlson was born Oct. 19, 1962, to Kenneth and Betty (Price) Carlson in Britton. He was baptized and confirmed at Highland Lutheran Church. He attended both elementary and high school at Langford Public School. In the winter of 1982, he moved to Phoenix, where he lived for 10 years. While there, he received a degree in air-conditioning from a Phoenix college. He was employed by both Giggens and York

Air-Conditioning of Phoenix during his years in that city.

On Dec. 31, 1991, he married Sheila Richter, also of Phoenix. In 1992, they moved to Casper, Wyo., and lived for two years. They then moved to Monango, where he lived until his death. 1995

He enjoyed hunting and fishing, and especially liked making and fixing things with his hands. He also looked forward to spending time with his family.

Survivors include his wife of Monango; one son, David Martin "D.J." Carlson of Monango; his parents of Langford; two sisters, Sandra Hanson of Gillette, Wyo., and Sheryl Barvels of Crookston, Minn.; and two brothers, Douglas Carlson of Britton and Arlan Carlson of Langford.

He was preceded in death by his paternal grandparents and his maternal grandparents.

District voters reject school bond issue 1995

Last Tuesday, October 4, the voters of the Ellendale school district by a vote of 673 for and 534 against, voiced disapproval of the proposed $3,450,000 issuance of bonds to build a new high school building at the present location, demolish the old high school and to remodel the existing elementary building.

Since question #1 was defeated, the results of the vote on question #2 which called for the issuance of bonds not to exceed $975,000 to demolish the old gym and to construct a new physical education facility and locker rooms at the present location were not valid.

District voters reject school bond issue 1995

Last Tuesday, October 4, the voters of the Ellendale school district by a vote of 673 for and 534 against, voiced disapproval of the proposed $3,450,000 issuance of bonds to build a new high school building at the present location, demolish the old high school and to remodel the existing elementary building.

Since question #1 was defeated, the results of the vote on question #2 which called for the issuance of bonds not to exceed $975,000 to demolish the old gym and to construct a new physical education facility and locker rooms at the present location were not valid.

A bill was received from Dale Radermacher regarding the Monango gym. After discussion and reviewing the items, it was recommended that the Edgeley board, Ellendale board and Monango Betterment committees meet and come to an agreement for the settlement. Nov 23 - 1995

The costs for repairs to the Monango school were again addressed. The Edgeley and Ellendale schools had rented the gymnasium for wrestling practice during the winter of '92-'93. Some damages occurred when the building was without heat. The Monango Betterment Association has requested the schools to assist with repair costs. According to Ken Scallon, board member, the verbal agreement was "to put it back in the same shape." Scallon also commented that the expense was to be shared three ways.

The most recent estimated expense has increased by about $2,000. According to an independent estimate the school districts are not responsible for damages to the ceiling or the gym floor. Scallon and Thompson were appointed to serve on a committee with Ellendale board members to resolve the matter. Nov 22, 1995

Monango girls basketball team receives honors

Megan Fiechtner, senior forward of the Midkota Mustangs girls basketball team, made the winning shot in overtime to defeat the Washburn Cardinals 54-52 to take home the North Dakota Girls Class B State Basketball title trophy. The game was played at the Minot State Dome on Saturday night, November 18. Fiechtner made 26 points in that game and was chosen "Most Valuable Player" of the tournament. Her team mate and co-Miss Basketball, Nina Topp, was quoted as saying, "Megan's game was awesome".

For a group of women that attended the game that night it was particularly exciting. Not only was Megan Fiechtner a star basketball player but her grandmother was there to be honored also. Megan is the daughter of Ken and Sue Fiechtner of Glenfield, ND and the granddaughter of Lawrence and Mildred Genter, Ellendale, and Victor and Mildred Fiechtner, Mandan.

A special tribute to the 1945 Monango High School State C Girls Basketball champions was bestowed on them on their Golden Anniversary on Friday evening,

Megan Fiechtner

November 17, at the Minot Dome. Sheryl Solberg, Assistant Secretary of the North Dakota High School Activities Association, who was instrumental in getting girls basketball reinstated, presented roses with a "Touch of Gold" to the five members of the team who were present. Receiving the presentation were Mildred (Beilke) Fiechtner, Mandan, Captain and All State award recipient; Verna (Gebhardt) Greene, Haiti, SD, All State award recipient; Barbara (Brown) Wald, Moorhead, daughter of the coach W. F. "Bat" Brown; Lenora (Fiechtner) Priebe, Edgeley; and Ella (Hausssler) Rempfer, Gwinner.

Travis Qualley, Wild Rose, ND, great grandson of the coach "Bat" Brown carried out the basketball to the 1945 captain, Mildred Fiechtner.

Gladys (Goodrich) Juelke, Bismarck, now deceased, was also an All State award recipient. The other members of the championship team who were not in attendance were Esther (Fiechtner) Schulz, CA, Charlotte (Beilke) Ubben, CA, and Leila (Buchholz) Frigen, WA.

Inez Mae Zaun

Monango, N.D. — The memorial service for Inez Mae Zaun, 60, will be at 2 p.m. Wednesday at Dahlstrom Funeral Home in Oakes. The Rev. Lyle R. Miller will officiate.

She died following a long battle with cancer on Wednesday, May 24, 1995, at Oakes Good Samaritan Center.

Inez Mae Roder was born Oct. 7, 1934, to Herman and Delia (Brekey) Roder near Chester. When she was 13, her family moved from Chester to Pingree, N.D., where she finished her education, graduating from Pingree High School in 1953.

On Sept. 12, 1953, she married Lyle Edward Zaun near Fort Carson, Colo. They lived in various areas of the country due to his military career. In 1969, they retired and made their home in Augusta, Ga., where they lived until moving to Monango in 1977. Since that time they had lived in semi-retirement on a farm in the Monango area, where they enjoyed raising a garden and small farm animals. She also enjoyed working with the Boy Scouts, Cub Scouts and attending troop meetings.

Survivors include her husband of Monango; three sons, Jerry M. Zaun of North Augusta, S.C., George H. Zaun of Marion Center, Pa., and Karl T. Zaun of Monango; one daughter, Mrs. Perry (Helen) Fregien of Jud; four brothers, Carl Roder of Moorhead, Minn., Emmett Roder of Bismarck, Walter Edwin Roder of Omaha, Neb., and Albert Roder of Milnor; four sisters, Mrs. Ray (Kathlina) Reister of Huron, Mrs. Marvin (Nora Ida) Moos of Spring Green, Wis., Mrs. Eldred (Rita) Laux of Clarkfield, Minn., and Mrs. Elmer (Ramona) Middlestad of Wibaux, Mont.; and six grandchildren.

She was preceded in death by her parents and one brother.

A trio will be by Darnel Carlson, Damaris Carlson and Elizabeth Carlson.

Louise K. Hoops, 71, Monango, died May 5, 1995, at St. Luke's Midland Regional Medical Center in Aberdeen, SD. Funeral services were held Wednesday, May 10, 1995 at St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Monango with Reverend John Hill officiating. Burial was held in St. Paul's Lutheran Cemetery in Monango with Holte Funeral Homes, Inc. of Ellendale in charge of the arrangements.

Louise was born January 7, 1924 to Ferdinand Speidel and Mary Rempfer at Monango. She graduated from Monango High School and attended the State Normal and Industrial College at Ellendale where she received her teachers certificate. She taught in the Dickey County schools from 1943 to 1947. On November 9, 1947, she married Claus Hoops at Monango. She was treasurer for the Valley Township board for 18 years. She was an active member of St. Paul's Lutheran Church of Monango.

She is survived by her husband, Claus Hoops of Monango; two sons, Donald Hoops, Aberdeen, SD and Robert Hoops, Monango; one grandchild; two brothers, Gottlieb Speidel and Richard Speidel, both of Aberdeen, SD; four sisters, Mrs. George (Hulda) Cherney, Monango, Mrs. Robert (Bertha) Otterson, Fall Creek, Wisconsin, Mrs. Doyle (Emma) Peterson, and Mrs. Daniel (Elaine) Carney, both of Omaha, Nebraska.

She was preceded in death by her parents and one daughter.

Pallbearers for the service are as follows: Gary Peterson, David Carney, Thomas Carney, Daniel Carney, Mark Christianson, Kevin Kallas, Philip Cherney, Duane York.

The organist for the service was Ellen Fiechtner and St. Paul's Lutheran choir provided the special music.

EAs: The Taxpayers' Tax Experts

Q: What does the term Enrolled Agent mean?

A: "Enrolled" simply means EAs are licensed by the federal government. "Agent" means EAs are authorized to appear in place of the taxpayer at the Internal Revenue Service. Only Enrolled Agents, attorneys and CPAs may do so.

Enrollment dates back to 1884, when Congress acted to regulate persons who represented citizens in their dealings with the Treasury Department, after questionable claims had been presented for Civil War losses.

Q: What exactly do Enrolled Agents do?

A: Unlike attorneys or CPAs, Enrolled Agents specialize in taxation. Throughout the year, they advise, represent and prepare tax returns for individuals, partnerships, corporations, estates, trusts and any entities with tax-reporting requirements. In California, for example, the more than 3,700 Members of the California Society of Enrolled Agents prepare about 2,000,000 tax returns each year. Enrolled Agents' expertise in the constantly changing field of tax law enables them to be effective representatives when taxpayers are audited by the IRS.

Q: How do Enrolled Agents differ from other tax experts?

A: EAs are the only practitioners who have demonstrated competence specifically in matters of taxation. Also, they are the only representatives for taxpayers who receive that right from the U.S. Government. (CPAs and attorneys are licensed by the states.)

An individual may become an Enrolled Agent in one of two ways: The primary way is to pass a difficult, two-day examination given annually by the IRS. The test covers taxation of individuals, corporations, partnerships, estates and trusts, as well as procedure and ethics. Less than one-third of individuals taking the examination have passed, allowing them to apply for enrollment and subject themselves to a background investigation.

The other way is to have been an employee of the Internal Revenue Service for five years, regularly applying and interpreting the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code and regulations.

Q: Are there other requirements?

A: In addition to the stringent testing and application process, Enrolled Agents are required to earn 72 hours of continuing professional education, reported every three years, to maintain their status. Because of the difficulty in becoming enrolled and maintaining that enrollment, there are fewer than 35,000 Enrolled Agents in the United States.

"Gott sei des Kaisers Schutz!"

"God be the czar's shield"

The heading on a souvenir of the coronation of Russia's last czar, found by an Aberdeen couple

By Lance Nixon
American News Writer

No one is sure where the souvenir paper came from Luverne and Lucille Speidel of Aberdeen were sorting through a box of letters that contained some of his grandfather's things when they found it: A picture of a crown inset with locket-shaped portraits of Czar Nicholas II of Russia and his wife, Alexandra.

"Gott sei des Kaisers Schutz!" the words at the top of the page proclaimed — a literal German translation of the phrase in Russian, "God be the czar's shield."

Underneath the crown are the words, "Lieder zum Kronungsfeste" — "songs for the coronation" — and the date May 14, 1896. Convert that date from Czarist Russia's Julian calendar to the western Gregorian calendar and it becomes May 26, the date on which Nicholas succeeded his father, Alexander III.

It was the same Nicholas who was killed along with his family after the Bolshevik revolution of 1917, reportedly in July 1918.

The questions that came to mind for the Speidels were: What is this piece of paper? And what was it doing in a box of letters on a farm near Monango, N.D.?

So far, there are no certain answers. But it clearly has to do with the large number of ethnic Germans who left Russia for the United States about the turn of the century or before. One of them was Luverne Speidel's grandfather, Gottlieb Oster. He homesteaded at Monango after he left Neugluckstal, in south Russia, in 1894.

Bill Gard, a retired professor who taught Russian history at the University of North Dakota in Grand Forks, said there were hundreds of souvenirs and mementos in honor of the czar's coronation.

"It could be that this was printed for a church service held locally in honor of the coronation," Gard said.

Alternately, it could be simply the publication of a song that was a part of the coronation. The song is printed in German on the back side of the paper.

The fact that everything is in German suggests it was for use in one of the many German communities in Russia. But Gard said that isn't necessarily the case, since the ruling class of Russia was a cosmopolitan set in which people often spoke German or French. There was all the more reason to use German since Alexandra was German-born.

After examining a photocopy of the paper, Gard said the fine quality of the printing makes him believe it's more than the work of a local congregation.

Oster came to America some two years before the coronation, so he could not have brought the souvenir with him. But it is folded as though it might have been stuffed inside an envelope and mailed.

Luverne Speidel said a relative of his who is a genealogist believes two families, relatives of the Osters who came to America after 1896, could have brought the souvenir with them — the Bollingers or the Borths.

In any case, Gard said, the Speidels have a collector's item, valuable to people who love fine printing or to people who collect items from Czarist Russia.

"I doubt if very many of these exist," Gard said.

Delightful puzzle: Luverne and Lucille Speidel of Aberdeen wonder how this piece of paper celebrating the czar's coronation in 1896 came to be at the farm Luverne's grandfather homesteaded in North Dakota.

Discussion was held concerning repair of the Monango gym. It was moved by Rupp, seconded by Schulz and carried (all voting aye) to offer the Monango Community Betterment $1500.00 for repair of the gym from the Edgeley School District. Jan 17-1996

The above prices on 1st and 2nd coats are quotes from Mertz construction & Lumber at Ellendale.

Keeley Lumber of Aberdeen, S.D. provided a quote for the 1st coat. Kilz-a stain blocker at a cost of 17.55 per gal. and for the 2nd coat a flat white paint at a cost of $15.00 for 2 gal.

(Edgeley School Board will only settle with 1500.00 for the damage they did with the Monango gym. They don't want to meet with Monango meeting in Ellendale Tomorrow night at the Ellendale school board. December 1995)

Czar coronation paper found on Monango farm

While looking through a box of letters that had come from his grandfather's farm, Luverne and Lucille Speidel found a picture of a crown inset with locket-shaped portraits of Czar Nicholas II of Russia and his wife, Alexandra.

At the top of the page were the words "Gott sei des Kaisers Schutz!" which translated from German to English it says "God be the Czar's shield". Underneath the crown are the words "Lieder Zum Kronungsfeste" which translated says "Songs for the coronation" and another sentence which says in German "His Royal Majesty" and then the names Nicholas and Alexandra. At the bottom of the sheet of paper is the date May 14, 1896. When this date is converted from the Julian calendar to the western Gregorian calendar it becomes May 26 which is the date that Nicholas succeeded his father Alexander III. This, the same Czar Nicholas who along with his family was executed after the Bolshevik revolution of 1917. On the back of the sheet is a song written in German.

Luverne Speidel's grandfather, Gottlieb Oster, came to the United States in 1894 after leaving Neugluckstal, in south Russia and homesteaded near Monango. He was one of the many ethnic Germans who left Russia for the United States near the turn of the century.

In trying to find out what the paper was all about the Speidels contacted Bill Gard, a retired professor who taught Russian history at the University of North Dakota.

Gard said that there were hundreds of souvenirs and mementos in honor of the czar's coronation. He said that the paper could have been printed for a church service that was held in the German community to honor the coronation.

It also could have been a printing of a song that was a part of the coronation for use in one of the many German communities in Russia. Gard says that this may not necessarily be the case since the ruling class of Russia often spoke German or French and another reason it would be in German is that Alexandra was born in Germany.

Gard believes the fine quality of the printing makes it more probable that it was the work of a local congregation.

Since Oster came to the United States about two years before the coronation, he could not have brought it along with him. The paper has folds in it as though it might have been placed inside an envelope. It is believed by the Speidels that two families who were relatives of the Osters, the Bollingers and the Borths, may have brought the paper with them since they came to the United States after 1896.

Regardless of the origin of the paper it is a collector's item which is valuable to people who love fine printing or collect items from Czarist Russia, Gard said.

Monango woman sights bright unknown object in sky

Last Thursday, January 4, Esther Wolff of Monango, reported that she sighted a bright object just above the horizon shortly before 6:30 in the morning. She said, "I was in my bathroom and was looking out a window to the north when I saw this light that looked like a bright headlight of a car. The light only lasted about 30 seconds and then was gone. It was like turning a headlight on and off. It was low on the horizon and did not move. It looked to be about 3 or 4 inches in diameter and seemed to be quite close. I believe it was a meteor."

That same day Wolff said that a man had been interviewed on the 6:00 p.m. news over a Fargo TV station that had seen a bright light in the sky also when he was going to work in the morning. She wonders if this sighting by that man was the same object that she saw on that Thursday morning.

February 11, 1996 at 3:30 p.m. Mary Widmer reported a farm burglary west of Fullerton.

February 14, 1996 at 8:20 a.m. the department received a report of a two vehicle accident one and one half miles south of Monango on US 281. Two people were injured. The accident was investigated by North Dakota Highway Patrol. Careflight helicopter landed on the road for one of the injured party.

Building a "Foundation for the Future"

As the Little International approaches its 70th year, it's great knowing its organizers are maintaining a focus on the exciting and ever changing future of agriculture. Foundation for the Future is the theme of the 1996 Little International to be held February 9 & 10 at North Dakota State University's Shepperd Arena. The Little International is sponsored by NDSU's largest student organization, the Saddle and Sirloin Club. The 200 plus members are busy as two managers and 22 committees prepare for the livestock show, which includes classes of beef, sheep, dairy, and swine, and contests such as - lamb lead, ham curing, and booth displays. An annual highlight of the Little International is the naming of the 1996 Agriculturalist of the Year, an award to recognize the outstanding leadership of a North Dakota resident within the agricultural industry.

Two injured in vehicle accident

February 14, 1996 at 8:15 a.m. two people were injured in a two vehicle accident one and one half miles south of Monango on US 281.

Michelle Lagodinski, who was traveling south, lost control of her vehicle and slid into the northbound truck being driven by Danny Kempf of Forbes. Lagodinski was flown to St. Luke's Hospital in Aberdeen by Careflight helicopter. Kempf was transported to St. Luke's by ambulance.

The accident was investigated by North Dakota Highway Patrol.

70th Little International, And the winner is....

Fargo, ND - Blizzardous conditions kept spectator attendance low on February 9 & 10 at the 70th Little International held at North Dakota State University, however, this caused no lack of excitement in Shepperd Arena. Competition ran high as the contestants at this year's Little I competed for top honors in divisions such as: beef, sheep, and swine showmanship; as well as lamb lead, ham curing and the booth contest.

This year's Little I Overall Showman was Aaron Galbreath of Oakes. Aaron is a junior majoring in animal science, his parents are Craig and Mary Galbreath. Reserve Overall Showman went to Ed Barrett, he too is a junior in animal science. Ed and his parents, Mike and Dianne Barrett, are from Randolph, MN.

Beth Wagner received third place in the ham curing division at the 70th Little International at Fargo.

Amongst the evenings winners was Beth Wagner of Monango. She is a sophomore majoring in pre vet and animal science. Her parents are Fred and Marsha Wagner. Beth placed third in the ham curing division. 1996

"The Good Old Days"

Feb 15-96

When we were living in those "Good Old Days"

They didn't seem so good.

We read by the light of a kerosene lamp, and heated our homes with wood and chips (misch).

We carried water up the hill to wash with, cook and scrub.

And took our bath behind the stove

In a galvanized laundry tub.

I still can smell the ole lye soap - and feel the sting and hurt when some of it got in my eyes, but it really got the dirt.

We slept on cornhusk mattresses - sometimes four in a bed.

If you were late you got the foot, the early ones took the head.

We waded snow, ice and mud to get to the seat of learning.

With a potbellied stove that froze our back

While our fronts were nearly burning

We drank from a cup by a water pail on a bench

Where the teacher put it.

And whatever ailment any kid had the rest were sure to get it.

In winter you milked in a drafty barn

While the wind whistled through the cracks and swirling snow while you were inside.

The Little House at the end of the road was hidden with brush and weeds.

In summer heat and winter cold served the family needs.

Now you may look with envious eyes these times.

but I've been through these "Good Old Days" and once my friend is plenty.

Re: Monango Community Betterment Corporation/
Ellendale and Edgeley Schools

Dear Dale:

Enclosed you will find a document entitled Release of Liability. When reviewing this document, you will note that the Edgeley Public School District and Ellendale Public School District state that they will each pay $1,500.00 to the Monango Community Betterment Corporation as settlement for damages caused to the gymnasium, it's floor or other facilities. You will note that this document will release each school from any further claims which may be alleged against them.

I have been instructed by both school districts to inform you that this is their best and final offer of settlement. If this offer is not accepted by 12:00 o'clock noon, March 8, 1996, this offer is then withdrawn.

Should the Monango Community Betterment Corporation decide to accept this offer, I will instruct each school district to deposit $1,500.00 into my trust account. This money will be delivered to the Monango Community Betterment Corporation once the enclosed Release of Liability is delivered to me, executed in triplicate.

If you have any questions or concerns, please feel free to contact me.

AAL branch honored 1996 April

Members of Aid Association for Lutherans (AAL) Branch 2770, Monango, have been awarded a Gold Star rating by the fraternal benefit society in recognition of exemplary volunteer service to the community.

AAL's 9,152 branches are ranked in several performance categories. To achieve a Gold Star rating, branches annually must sponsor at least one AAL benevolent activity (fund-raiser, work project, etc.), conduct at least 12 meetings, sponsor at least one educational activity and one member awareness event, and comply with AAL's attendance, voting and reporting requirements.

Officers of AAL Branch 2770 are: Arlan Fiechtner, president, Monango, ND; Joyce Gebhardt, vice president, Edgeley, ND; Ellen Fiechtner, secretary, Monango, ND.

Branch 2770 is supported by AAL District Representative Ronald Kosel, FIC, Ellendale.

Branch 2770 was involved in the following four "Helping Hands" projects in 1995:

Funds were obtained from AAL to repair and paint the exterior of St. Paul's Lutheran Church of Monango, as well as to paint buildings and do cement work at the Kulm Park, amounting to $600 for each project.

They also participated in two fund raising dinners to help defray medical expenses for two individual families. In one case, $300 of locally raised funds was matched by AAL, for a total of $600. In the other case, $265 was raised and supplemented by $250 from AAL for a total of $515.

The St. Paul's Lutheran Women's Missionary League of Monango, was given $150 through the "Just Say Thanks" program of AAL, at the Congregational Christmas party, when all the ladies of the congregation were recognized for the work they have done in the church throughout the year.

AAL, a fraternal benefit society based in Appleton, WI, offers volunteer service opportunities and insurance products to its 1.7 million members nationwide.

Haussler runs in Boston Marathon

David Haussler, son of George and Betty Haussler of Ellendale, placed in the top seven percent of the runners in the 1996 Boston Marathon, the 100th anniversary of this event. Haussler ran it with a time of 3:03:13 which placed him 2,834th out of about 40,000 runners. He qualified for this event by running in the Chicago Marathon in October with a time of 2:58. May 9-96

Haussler's plans now are to run in the Bolder Boulder, the national road racing championship event (a 10K) at Boulder, CO on Memorial Day. He qualifies for next years Boston and also has expressed a desire to run in Grandma's at Duluth.

David is pharmacist and lives with his wife and son at Moline, IL. He is a graduate of Monango High School and NDSU.

George J. Cherney

Monango, N.D. — George J. Cherney, 74, Monango, died Friday, May 10, 1996, at Monango.

His funeral will be at 10:30 a.m. Wednesday at St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Monango. The Rev. Lyle Klemz will officiate.

Burial will be in St. Paul's Lutheran Cemetery, Monango, under the direction of Holte Funeral Home of Ellendale.

A prayer service will be at 7:30 tonight at the funeral home.

Visitation will be from 3 to 9 p.m. today at the funeral home, and one hour prior to the service on Wednesday at the church.

George J. Cherney was born May 16, 1921, to Philip and Mary (Michelanko) Cherney in South Heart, N.D. He grew up in Dickinson. He served in the Civilian Conservation Corps from 1938 to 1940. He served in the U.S. Air Force during World War II in Africa, Italy and Europe. After his discharge, he farmed near Forbes, New Folden, Minn., and Litchville.

He married Hulda Speidel on June 30, 1962. They moved to Monango, where he worked for Farmers Co-op Elevator from 1967 to 1983.

He was a member of American Legion Post No. 137 of Ellendale and St. Paul's Lutheran Church, where he served as a trustee and finance committee member for many years.

Survivors include his wife of Monango; one son, Philip Cherney of Devils Lake; four brothers, Ernest Cherney of Merchantville, N.J., Laudie Cherney of Courtenay, N.D., Wayne Cherney of Bettendorf, Iowa, and Emil Cherney of Idaho Falls, Idaho; and two sisters, Lillian Knopp of Ashley and Betty Christianson of Minneapolis.

He was preceded in death by his parents, one daughter and two brothers.

Casketbearers will be David Cherney, Terry Cherney, Donald Hoops, Robert Hoops, David Carney and Michael Danforth.

Organist will be Ellen Fiechtner with music by St. Paul's Choir.

Many heartfelt thanks to our relatives and friends for your thoughts and prayers, for the many cards, phone calls, food, visits and memorials we received during the sudden loss of George.

A special thanks to Pastor Lyle Klemz for his quick visit and his wonderful messages at the evening prayer service and memorial service.

We appreciated all you did for us.

God bless you all.

May Day celebration a huge success

The First Southwest Bank "Star Club" annual May Day banquet entertained over 125 members and guests at The Ranch Restaurant.

After a delicious meal, "Tiny" Gebhardt's orchestra played to a festive group and everyone really got into the sing along. Throughout the evening there were drawings for the table centerpieces and other prizes.

The First Southwest Bank "Star Club" membership is open to bank depositors 55 years of age and older. The membership enjoys gatherings like bingo and other special celebrations during the year, as well as organized trips all over the country. Many of the members are taking advantage of the two day "Life's Options" in Fargo.

Dear Editor:

On June 27 voters in the Ellendale School District will be faced with a very important decision - whether or not to pass a bond for new classrooms, demolition of existing high school, and remodeling & repairs to the elementary building. There is no question something has to be done whether or not voters are for or against the bond.

I am writing this letter not to influence voters one way or another but to help answer some of the questions which have been raised. The big question asked by most taxpayers is: "If this passes how much more will I be paying in taxes?" In an effort to assist taxpayers in figuring this out for themselves, the School Facility Advisory Committee has prepared a handout.

In this handout are the projected layout for the improved school and a simple formula individuals can use to estimate how their taxes may be impacted. This formula was designed to use a multiplier, which is applied to your actual tax for last year (minus any special assessments) rather than using the more detailed method by which tax due is actually figured.

Using this multiplier formula the amount of tax due, from your 1994 tax statement (minus any special assessment), is multiplied by the appropriate multiplier for your taxing district, which is also listed on the handout. This method is only a shortcut for estimating the amount your taxes will increase if this bond issue is approved.

The proposed increase of 47 mills will be the same in all taxing districts. Some concern has been voiced that comparing the multipliers in the information given the city multipliers are smaller than the townships, and it might look like rural areas would pay more than their share.

Because the township total mill levies are usually lower than the city levies the percentage of increase is greater in the townships than the cities. For example:

Monango had the highest total levy this past tax year - 431.73. Whitestone township had the lowest total levy - 281.33.

The owner of a home valued at $10,000 in Monango would have paid a tax of $194.28 for 1994. (Remember no special assessments are included in these figures.)

The owner of farmland in Whitestone township valued at $10,000 would have paid a tax of $140.66

If you divide 47 mills by each of the total levies you get an annual multiplier of 0.1089 for Monango and 0.1671 for Whitestone. Dividing these figures by 12 would give a monthly multiplier - 0.0091 for Monango and 0.0139 for Whitestone.

The higher multipliers for rural areas just reflects the fact that the townships had lower mill levies last year. One thing you can be assured of is that the increase would be fairly apportioned to the value of each individual property - no one would be paying more or less than their fair share based on valuation.

If you do not have one of the above-mentioned handouts and would like one please contact your Ellendale financial institution or local restaurants.

Hopefully helpful,

Gwen Tatum
Director of Tax Equalization

To The Editor,

As my brother scrupulously explained last week the present high school building could be remodeled to a "like new" condition for a saving, after interest, of two and a quarter million dollars over the new construction proposal.

A simple fact is that while Ellendale has nearly 60% of the district population it has only 20% of the tax base, and while the townships have 30% of the population, they have 75% of the tax base.

This simple fact means that the bond levy will cost $23.00 annually per person in Ellendale, and $200 per person in the townships. This disparity, while viciously unfair, would be bearable if agriculture could support its present level of property taxation. Property taxes on agricultural land in Dickey County are about $3,800 per farm and are fifteen percent of net farm income. The bond issue will add another 2.5% to that amount.

For the next three years net income from cattle will be nonexistent; and income from cash grain will be under severe pressure. While gross receipts decline, operating costs and living expenses continue to increase (Ellendale has contributed to that with a sales tax that impacts farmers at least twice as much as non-farmers.) Even under the best of circumstances there will be an increase in the rate

To the Editor:

We get a bonus if we remodel the high school. We get to keep a magnificent building.

Our Court House is on the National Registry of Historic Places. The bank exterior has been restored. We have the Coleman and Depot Museums. We are working to restore the Opera House. At the same time some want to tear down the high school even though it is structurally sound. It's so sound that demolition would cost $100,000.

Walk or drive by the building. Stop on the south side and enjoy its stunning architecture, rainbow sidewalk and front lawn. That's a picture postcard that you won't get from a new building.

Some of the classrooms look nice and some do not. Remodeling would make them like new. That's new 1990's not 1915. Except, I would hope that the beautiful wood floors would be retained in the rooms where they are in good condition.

Think about the attractive interior of Ulmer's store. Then remember that the building once housed an implement dealership and shop.

I told the School Facility Committee that in the future we would be called visionaries for preserving the high school building. In 20 years we could celebrate it's 100th birthday. That would be a day of great community pride. We would have something unique that other communities could not duplicate.

Of course, this is just a bonus. The number one reason for remodeling is that remodeling can be done for at least $2,250,000 less cost.

of farm consolidation. This should matter to non-farmers because even with TBC the very existence of Ellendale depends on agriculture.

We have an absolute obligation, regardless of cost, to provide students with a safe and adequate facility. Remodeling will do that; and we have no obligation to go further when we cannot afford it.

St. Paul's Lutheran Church of Monango receives funds

July 18-1996

St. Paul's Lutheran Church of Monango recently received $450.00 from Lutheran Brotherhood, a fraternal benefit society, through the Society's Congregational Matching Funds Program.

Lutheran Brotherhood matched the amount that the congregation raised through a general collection, which took place during Sunday services and will use the funds it raised and the matching funds from Lutheran Brotherhood for whatever is needed.

Lutheran Brotherhood, a fraternal benefit society, offers a broad range of high-quality financial products and services to Lutherans nationwide. Through its fraternal programs, Lutheran Brotherhood aids its members, their communities, and Lutheranism. Over the last ten years, Lutheran Brotherhood has contributed more than $360 million to fraternal programs.

Eva Flechtner

Funeral services for Eva Flechtner, 96, Monango, were held Thursday, August 1, 1996 at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Monango. Rev. Henry Friedrich and Rev. Lyle Klemz officiated. Burial was in St. Paul's church cemetery with Carlsen-Holte Funeral Home of Ellendale in charge of arrangements.

A prayer service was at 7:30 Wednesday at the funeral home.

Mrs. Flechtner died Sunday, July 28, 1996 at the Jamestown Hospital.

Eva Bollinger was born October 17, 1899 to Christian Sr. and Eva (Oster) Bollinger in Potsdam Township, Dickey County. She grew up northwest of Monango in Potsdam Township on the family homestead. She received her education in a country school, and worked on the family farm until her marriage.

She married John E. Flechtner on January 15, 1920 at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Monango. They lived with her parents for the first year of their marriage, and built their own farm during that time in Valley Township, Dickey County. They lived and farmed there all of their working lives, raising small grains and livestock, including one of the earlier Aberdeen Angus herds in Dickey County. They retired in 1971 from farming. Mr. Flechtner died July 1, 1982. Mrs. Flechtner continued to make her home on the farm with her son. On April 25, 1996 she became a resident of Hi-Acres Manor in Jamestown.

Eva had the gift of hospitality. She enjoyed flower gardening, crocheting and quilting.

The church played an important role in Eva's life. She was a life long member of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, a member of St. Paul's Lutheran Womens Missionary League and the American Legion Auxiliary of Ellendale.

Survivors include one son, Gottlieb Flechtner, Monango, and one brother, Christ G. (Clara) Bollinger, Edgeley, a host of nieces and nephews, and relatives and friends.

She was preceded in death by her parents, husband, two brothers and five sisters.

Elevator's future on the line

By Russ Keen
American News Writer

ELLENDALE, N.D. — The speculation over coffee in Ellendale is that the town's only grain elevator is headed for termination.

"It's a critical thing for our community," said John Martinson, grain farmer and patron of the elevator owned by South Dakota Wheat Growers. "It would mean 12 people without jobs on our Main Street, and that could end up costing us another business on Main Street."

Wheat Growers is not mentioning closure. But a spokeswoman for Wheat Growers said negotiations are in progress for possible sale of several of its facilities, including those in Ellendale, Kulm and Monango in North Dakota. Peggy Antanitis of Wheat Growers said this week that she could not give more details because it might affect negotiations.

"Nothing has been signed yet," she said.

Harvest States Cooperatives, with headquarters in St. Paul, Minn., and Farmers Union Grain Co., an independent co-op in Edgeley, N.D., are players in the possible purchases.

"The cooperative in Edgeley is working to buy," Dave Swenson of Harvest States said from St. Paul. "We are providing some liaison to help them get that done. We do business with them and affiliate with them."

Casketbearers were Gerald Bollinger and Lawrence Richter, both of Wahpeton, Delane Bollinger, Arlan Flechtner and Gene Radermacher, all of Monango, Thomas Norman, Jamestown, Victor Flechtner, Mandan, Dr. Marc Flechtner, Bismarck and Larry Thiery, Wilmar, MN.

The organist was Ellen Flechtner and soloist was Wayne Flechtner. The St. Paul's Lutheran Church Choir also sang.

Memorials may be made to Jamestown Hospital Hospice Program, 419 5th St. NE, Jamestown, ND 58452.

Martinson said, "The rumor is that Edgeley wants some of them and the doors will be locked on the rest of them."

Farmers Union Grain in Edgeley did not return phone calls.

The Ellendale elevator is more vulnerable to closure than others involved because it isn't served by rail lines, Martinson said. Besides costing Main Street jobs, shutting down the elevator would mean more expense for farmers to get their grain to other elevators.

"Absentee landlords especially don't have the trucks to haul to Monango or Aberdeen," he said. "This is a critical thing for Ellendale, and it's going to be difficult for farmers."

"This would be like the hospital closing, for farmers," said Jim Tveit, Ellendale businessman. Ellendale, a town of about 1,800, suffered a blow in December 1994 when Dickey County Memorial Hospital closed in town.

"We got back on our feet after the hospital closed," Tveit said. "But this will be like losing 100 farmers coming to town — no trucks, no activity, no nothing. For these farmers, this town has been their business place for years and years."

The elevators that might be sold, and/or closed, formed the Maple Valley Cooperative until Wheat Growers bought them in January 1995. However, the South Dakota Wheat Growers' elevator in Frederick, formerly a Maple Valley elevator, is not part of the negotiations, Antanitis said.

"Maple Valley got into financial trouble," Martinson said. "They sold millet they didn't have. The crop didn't come through. That went on for two or three years until the millet contract holder forced Maple Valley to come up with it."

Maple Valley patrons contacted Wheat Growers and Harvest States for help, Martinson said, and almost 300 patrons voted to sell the elevator to Wheat Growers in 1995 because it made the better bid.

"It was a strong decision by the Ellendale community," Martinson said. "We were proud to have South Dakota Wheat Growers in our community."

Late Friday, it was learned that rumors that the elevator would close this month made Martinson and other Maple Valley Patrons take legal action to save their elevators. As a result,

Temporary restraining order filed against SD Wheat Growers

by Livy Hird
of the Leader

In order to thwart what former members and patrons of the Maple Valley Farmers Cooperative believe is an attempt to close the elevator operations in Ellendale, a restraining order and order to show cause dated August 2, 1996, has been served on the South Dakota Wheat Growers Association.

The order states that the SD Wheat Growers Association shall not discontinue or materially change any of the business operations being conducted by the Wheat Growers during 1996 in connection with its grain handling facilities in Ellendale, Monango, Kulm, Guelph and Ludden, North Dakota and Frederick, South Dakota. It further states that Wheat Growers may not sell or lease these facilities, may not terminate or change employment of any of its employees or managers in these locations, and may not refuse to do business with the Plaintiffs.

The SD Wheat Growers Association is ordered to appear at 9:45 a.m. on August 23rd, 1996, at the Dickey County Courthouse in Ellendale to show cause why this temporary restraining order should not be made permanent.

This action came about when former members and patrons of Maple Valley Farmers Cooperative such as Tim Petersen and John Martinson of Ellendale learned during late May and early June that SD Wheat Growers had intentions of entering into an agreement with Harvest States whereby Wheat Growers would obtain the Harvest States elevator facilities in Groton, South Dakota in exchange for Maple Valley Farmers Cooperatives' elevator facilities in Ellendale, Monango, Kulm, Guelph and Ludden, North Dakota and Frederick, South Dakota.

If this happens it is believed that Harvest States will close the Ellendale Elevators and the Edgeley elevator will use the Monango loading facilities.

Since there are no railroad services in Ellendale, operating the Ellendale elevator facilities alone on a profitable basis would be highly unlikely. That is the reason the loading facilities at Monango were established originally.

Tim Petersen, John Martinson and other area farmers believe that the closing of the Ellendale elevator facilities would cause irreparable harm to the residents of Ellendale as well as to the area farmers. The loss of jobs would further damage main street businesses which over the past years have had a tough time staying profitable.

When Steve Rath, Director of Operations of the SD Wheat Growers Association, was contacted when he was in Ellendale on Monday he said, "I am not at liberty to make any statement in regard to the matter".

Community supports keeping grain elevators operating

by Livy Hird
of the Leader

Last Monday evening a meeting was held at the the Ranch Restaurant to determine what route should be taken to save the grain elevator system in Ellendale. Tim Petersen, a former member and patron of Maple Valley Farmers Cooperative, reported that there were many former members of the Cooperative present along with several representatives of Ellendale businesses. Also present at the meeting were three board members of the South Dakota Wheat Growers Association and one former board member of the Association.

Petersen said that there was an extensive discussion held on what was needed to continue the operation of the elevators in a satisfactory manner. He said there is excellent community support not only by expressing their opinions but financially to help defray some of the cost that have been incurred in trying to stop the closure of the elevators.

As a result of the meeting a steering committee of twelve people was appointed to investigate the situation and present options which may be taken to keep the business going.

The restraining order which is in effect has kept the elevators operating normally which is crucial during this harvest time.

To make the restraining order more effective, the original signers of the order are asking former patrons and members of Maple Valley Farmers Cooperative to sign a form to join in as Plaintiffs in the lawsuit entitled: Maple Valley Farmers Cooperative, John Martinson, Tim Petersen and other former members and patrons of Maple Valley Farmers cooperative, Plaintiffs, vs. South Dakota Wheat Growers Association, Defendant, bearing civil number 96-C-083.

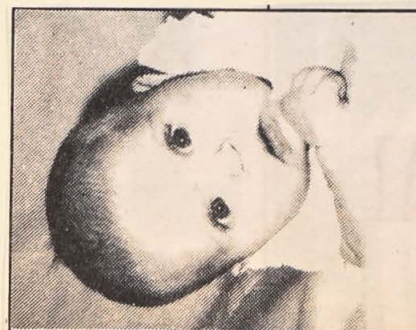

These forms may be found at the three financial institutions in Ellendale. As a former member or patron of the Maple Valley Farmers Cooperative you are urged to sign one of these forms.

Get fresh garden produce here

Farmers Market has what you need

By Kevin Michalowski
American News Writer

As the days grow shorter and the threat of the changing seasons moves ever closer, the sole benefit of autumn is arriving: the harvest.

Backyard gardeners and earth-loving entrepreneurs meet every Saturday morning on Third Avenue Southwest, just west of Main Street's Natural Abundance food store in Aberdeen, to offer their garden-fresh produce to eager buyers from 8 a.m. to noon.

"We arrived at 7 a.m. to get set up and already had people here waiting," said Lucille Speidel of Aberdeen, who was selling peas, beets and other vegetables last week.

Randy Mages, who operates The Pumpkin Ranch and Green House in Bath, estimated last week's crowd at nearly 200.

"It does get pretty busy around here, especially early in the mornings," he said. "We get a lot of senior citizens and folks who don't garden anymore looking for fresh produce."

Mages said freshness is the big draw.

"They know that this stuff was all picked this morning or last night," he said. "And we are sometimes a little bit cheaper than the supermarket."

Shoppers at the market could look over beets, onions, carrots, garlic, green beans, peas, peppers, cucumbers and more. One vendor said fresh tomatoes should be appearing on the tables soon. Offerings at the market change with the harvest. The sale begins with early-season crops like peas. Other items are brought in as they ripen.

"I come down here every week," said Bob Sommerville of Aberdeen. "I shop for vegetables for my mother-in-law. She really likes fresh peas and potatoes."

JoAnn Cunningham, assistant manager at Natural Abundance, said the market will run until vendors no longer have produce for sale.

"That's usually about October," said Cunningham. "But it changes every year."

Vendors can simply show up at the site and pay their $3 fee, used to cover advertising.

The Farmers Co-op Elevator at Monango was destroyed by fire early Sunday morning, May 15, buring the main building to the ground. An unidentified traveler passing through Monango on Highway 281 said he saw lightning strike a wire near the elevator and a ball of fire traveling along the wire to the building. About 10,000 bushels were in the main building and were destroyed. Salvage operations were started on some unburned grain on Monday. Owners have set the loss at $100,000, though grain in the firm steel bins and other buildings weren't damaged to any great extent. Whetan, who had started breaking in as new manager under Arthur Paulson on May 3, reported they were able to salvage the safe and a steel cabinet with records still in good shape. The burning building was about half of the firms capacity and contained the scale and mills. May 19-1986

What name will be on the sign of the Ellendale grain elevator complex next year?

What lies in the future for the Ellendale grain handling operations?

by Livy Hird
of the Leader

Former patrons of the Maple Valley Farmers Cooperative have formed the Maple Valley Survival Committee to attempt to keep the Ellendale and Frederick grain handling facilities from closing.

At the present time a temporary restraining order is in effect to prevent The South Dakota Wheat Growers Association from discontinuing or materially changing any of the business operations in connection with its grain handling, loading or storage facilities at Ellendale, Monango, Kulm, Guelph and Ludden, North Dakota and Frederick, South Dakota. James Zimmerman, Ellendale, said, "This restraining order was put in effect primarily to gain time to look at other options in the operation of the elevators. It will remain in effect until the District Court sets a date for a hearing."

There is also a summons and complaint filed against the South Dakota Wheat Growers Association by the Maple Valley Farmers Cooperative, John Martinson, Tim Petersen and other former members and patrons of Maple Valley Farmers Cooperative. This summons and complaint is also to prevent Wheat Growers from terminating, leasing, encumbering or otherwise materially changing its business operations in the several grain handling facilities.

Tim Petersen, Ellendale, said, "The Board of Directors of the Wheat Growers has been contacted several times in relation to the problems but to no avail." "A packet which included information about the impact the possible closing of the Ellendale grain handling operation would have on the community, letters from the Civic Association, Mayor Delbert Bertsch, Community Development Corporation and the Ellendale BNC Bank were sent to the Wheat Growers Board. Also a letter outlining what the parties concerned with the continued operation of the facilities wanted to accomplish. Six suggestions for changing the facilities to make them more efficient were also enclosed," James Zimmerman said.

Petersen and Zimmerman said that the committee met with five of the present Wheat Growers Board of Directors and two past directors at the Ramkota in Aberdeen. In addition there were five directors from Groton, SD, present who were concerned about the future of their grain handling operation in Groton which was the former James River Valley Cooperative. Harvest States owns this facility and it is alleged that they wish to trade the Groton facility to Wheat Growers for the Ellendale operation.

There is also the supposition that the Edgeley Farmers Cooperative which is affiliated with Harvest States would purchase the Kulm operation, the facility at Monango, the loading terminal south of Monango and the Ellendale and Frederick facilities. However, the Edgeley cooperative could not afford to keep the Ellendale and Frederick facilities and would be forced to sell them to another party.

A meeting between the Board of Directors of Wheat Growers and the Maple Valley Survival Committee which was scheduled to take place on August 30th did not come about. Petersen and Zimmerman said that it was originally agreed that the meeting between the two boards would be #1 on the meeting agenda however the meeting was denied by the Wheat Growers Board.

A meeting was held on September 5th with the attorney, Roger J. Minch for the Maple Valley Survival Committee to discuss the options which were available to the board. Some items that have been discussed were for the local patrons to have a financial interest in the grain handling operations in Ellendale and Frederick and have some control over the future operations of the facilities. It was determined that the patrons of these grain elevators take an active part in trying to solve the problems that now confront the operations. Signing of the restraining order petition would help the Maple Valley Survival Committee in presenting their case.

Petersen and Zimmerman said that if the committee identifies clear options for the operation of the facility they will be brought to the attention of the patrons. These options may be different from how the facility was operated in the past but these changes may have to be instituted in order to continue operating. They stated that it is vital to have access to the loading terminal in Monango.

"There are lots of bushels of grain out there in this area that should be coming to Ellendale. This is especially true for the area west of here," Zimmerman said.

"For the smaller farmer in the area who does not have large semi trucks it will be an added expense which he cannot afford. Getting his seed grain in the spring or having seed grain cleaned will become a problem and an added travel expense if there is no grain handling facility in Ellendale," Petersen said.

Maple Valley members and patrons to meet Monday, September 23rd

All former members and patrons of Maple Valley Farmers Cooperative are asked to attend a meeting on Monday September 23, 1996, at 8:00 p.m. at the basement meeting room of the Ranch Restaurant in Ellendale.

John Martinson, a member of the Maple Valley Survival Committee said, "The purpose of the meeting is to discuss the future of the Maple Valley grain handling complex. Also on the agenda will be the decision of what to do with about $50,000 which belongs to the former patrons of Maple Valley. The question will be raised on whether the former patrons and members of Maple Valley will want to pledge money or grain to defray the costs of solving the problem and establishing a new cooperative.

Martinson said, "It should also be determined how many people would be available to attend a hearing on Thursday, September 26, in Federal Court in Fargo regarding the continuance of the restraining order against South Dakota Wheat Growers. Transportation should be lined up for those that wish to attend."

"We had asked for the North Dakota Department of Agriculture to mediate the problem between Maple Valley and the South Dakota Wheat Growers but the Wheat Growers turned down the idea,"

Martinson stated.

In a letter from Roger J. Minch, attorney for Maple Valley, he stated that Wick Corwin, attorney for the South Dakota Wheat Growers, had proposed that Maple Valley be given until December 1, 1996 to pursue alternatives to the present plan instead of the January 1, 1997 date which had been proposed by Maple Valley. The reason given by Wheat growers for the December 1 date is that their fiscal year corresponds with the calendar year and they would like to have any transaction with Maple Valley and Harvest States done by the end of this fiscal year.

Corwin indicated that while negotiations continue he wants to have designated representatives from the survival committee which will communicate directly with the management of South Dakota Wheat Growers Association and not present or former board members.

He also indicated that Wheat Growers is willing to allow the survival committee, or any other entity to purchase the facilities at Ellendale, Monango and Kulm for the present book value of $1,040,000 and that the purchase has to be for cash. This proposal is subject to the consent from Harvest States.

Maple Valley might buy back its elevators

By Russ Keen
American News Writer

ELLENDALE, N.D. — Farmers who sold their elevators nearly two years ago might buy them back.

More than 800 letters went out on Wednesday inviting former members of the now-dissolved Maple Valley Farmers Cooperative to a special meeting to talk about buying back elevators once owned by Maple Valley.

The meeting is at 8 p.m. Monday at the Ranch Restaurant in Ellendale.

South Dakota Wheat Grow-

S.D. Wheat Growers is offering the elevators for sale

ers is offering to sell the elevators in Ellendale and other towns for $1.4 million in cash to the former owners, said John Martinson of rural Ellendale. He's a grain farmer, elevator patron and spokesman for the group that wants to keep the only elevator in Ellendale open for business.

When Maple Valley got into financial trouble, South Dakota Wheat Growers in January 1995 bought what were Maple Valley elevators in Ellendale, Monango, Guelph and Kulm in North Dakota and Frederick in South Dakota.

Last month, Wheat Growers said it was negotiating to sell some of the elevators. Martinson and others in Ellendale worried that Wheat Growers' plans included closing the elevator in Ellendale — a move the Ellendale group said would hurt the city's economy.

Martinson and another farmer filed a restraining order, which is now in federal court, preventing Wheat Growers from closing or selling the elevators. Depositions are being taken, and a hearing on the restraining order is set for Sept. 26 in Fargo.

Last month, the former Maple Valley group was not among the potential buyers. Now it is, with the $1.4 million offer from Wheat Growers.

"We view it as a breakthrough," Martinson said. "We want to keep the Maple Valley properties intact."

Wheat Growers is still negotiating to buy the elevator complex in Groton in exchange for elevators owned by Wheat Growers in North Dakota, Cheryl Crase, spokeswoman for Wheat Growers said Wednesday. The Groton elevator complex is owned by Harvest States Cooperatives of St. Paul, Minn.

"Because the case is in litigation, Wheat Growers is unable to comment further at this time," Crase said in a news release.

25 sign consent to join as plaintiffs in grain elevator lawsuit

At a meeting held last Monday evening in the basement meeting room of the Ranch Restaurant, 25 former members and patrons of the Maple Valley Farmers Cooperative signed a "Consent to Joinder" form prepared by the Maple Valley Survival Committee's Attorney Roger J. Minch. This form indicated that the signer wishes to be joined as a party plaintiff in the action entitled Maple Valley Farmers Cooperative, John Martinson, Tim Petersen and other former members and patrons of Maple Valley Farmers Cooperative vs. South Dakota Wheat Growers Association currently pending in the United States District Court for the District of North Dakota, Southeastern Division.

There were approximately 100 people in attendance at the meeting. James Zimmerman conducted the meeting with the help of Tim Petersen, John Martinson, Gary Lippert and Attorney Roger J. Minch. They explained what had taken place prior to this meeting and asked for ideas and suggestions on where to go from here.

Gary Lippert of the BNC National Bank explained some of the possibilities that are available for financing a purchase of the facilities.

Attorney Minch commented on the legal aspects of the restraining order and lawsuit. When asked about the costs of the legal action he stated that it would depend on how far it went. He said it could range from a few thousand dollars to a worst case scenario of $200,000.

Prior to the signing of the Consent to Joinder form it had been voted by those present by a large margin to continue the legal battle with South Dakota Wheat Growers.

To help fund the continuation of the legal action it was voted to approve the use of about $50,000 that is in an account in Aberdeen. This amount comes from Maple Valley Farmers Cooperative patrons dividends and dividends from other cooperatives.

Anyone who could was asked to attend a hearing in Federal Court in Fargo on Thursday, September 26 regarding the continuance of the restraining order against South Dakota Wheat Growers. Twelve people volunteered to attend.

Brokaw to serve in Panama 1996

Jessica Brokaw is one of the forty five members from the 191st Military Police Company, North Dakota Army National Guard, who will deploy to Ft. Clayton, Panama, on October 19th for a two week military police mission. Ft Clayton is an Army base located just outside of Panama City.

Duties will include mobile and foot patrols of various installations, traffic control, night patrols and guard duties. These duties are common MP tasks which the 191st routinely performs during annual training in the state of North Dakota. Duties will also include patrolling Howard Air Force Base as well as other Southern Command installations in the immediate area.

Of the 45 personnel going to Panama, 35 are qualified as Military Police; the other ten will be support personnel. Soldiers deploying to Panama for this mission have received briefings on Mobilization, Uniform Code of Military Justice, Reemployment Rights, Equal Employment Opportunities, Area Threats, and Area Medical Hazards. They have also participated in Spanish classes.

Jessica Brokaw is a 1995 graduate of Kulm High School and is presently working at the Dakota Inn in Jamestown in security. She is the daughter of Greg and Mary Kay Brokaw of Ashley.

Radermachers receive award

Dale and Bev Radermacher, Monango, were among 60 North Dakota and western Minnesota farmers honored during Harvest Bowl '96 on October 25-26 at North Dakota State University. NDSU President Thomas Plough was on hand to present the awards.

The Radermachers operate a dairy, corn, alfalfa and small grain farm. Dale is president of the Monango Betterment Corporation, manager of the Monango/Fullerton softball team, association director of Royal Farms Trucking, member of the Township board, past school board member and also is a 4-H leader.

Harvest Bowl '96 is the 23rd annual salute to outstanding agriculturists. The purpose of Harvest Bowl is to recognize agriculture's impact on the region, to promote the agricultural industry and to award outstanding individuals for their agricultural achievements.

NDSU alumni, county agents and residents choose award recipients based on their success as farmers and their active support of NDSU, extension work and community projects.

Federal Judge rules against continuing restraining order

Several members of the Maple Valley Survival Committee and other interested parties traveled to Fargo on Thursday, September 26 and again on Tuesday, October 1 to find out what the federal judge's ruling would be on the restraining order which the Maple Valley Survival Committee has against South Dakota Wheat Growers. The trip on Thursday proved fruitless since the judge had other commitments and could not spend enough time on determining if the restraining order should remain in effect.

James Zimmerman, one of the members of the Maple Valley Survival Committee said, "The group returned to Fargo on Tuesday and the judge ruled that there was no basis under law for continuing the restraining order. He said that the parties involved should try to settle their differences."

"The lawsuit still remains in effect. We haven't gotten together since October 1 so nothing further has been decided. I hope that some agreement can be reached so that we have something to say about what happens in the future," Zimmerman said.

The lawsuit which is referred to asks the court to keep South Dakota Wheat Growers from terminating, leasing, encumbering or otherwise changing its business operations in Ellendale, Monango, Kulm, Guelph and Ludden, North Dakota and Frederick, South Dakota. If they do not keep operating it asks for compensation to the plaintiffs.

Beth Wagner chairperson of Agriculturist of Year committee

Beth Wagner

Planning for the 71st Annual Little International show is underway. It's great knowing that its organizers are maintaining a focus on the exciting and ever-changing future of agriculture. United We Stand is the theme for this year's 1997 Little International to be held February 7 and 8 at North Dakota State University's Shepperd Arena.

The Little International is sponsored by the Saddle and Sirloin Club, NDSU's largest student organization. The members are busy as two managers and 24 committees prepare for the livestock show, which includes classes of beef, dairy, sheep, and swine, and contests such as lamb lead, ham curing, booth displays, and new this year, the memorized public speaking contest.

The highlight of the Little International is the naming of the 1997 Agriculturist of the Year, an award to recognize an outstanding leader in North Dakota agriculture.

This year's Agriculturist of the Year committee chairperson is Beth Wagner, daughter of Fred and Marcia Wagner of Monango. Wagner is a junior majoring in Animal Science (Pre-veterinary medicine). Some of her other activities include Honor Commission Secretary, 1996 Senior Meats Judging Team, Judging club Secretary-Treasurer and member of Pre-Vet Club.

Maple Valley Complex Meeting

The former members and patrons of the former Maple Valley Complex will be meeting on December 10, 1996 at 7:30 pm at the Ranch Restaurant in Ellendale, ND.

The purpose of this meeting is to discuss developments in the acquisition that is going to take place at the Ellendale Elevator facilities. We will also receive information on types of co-operative structures for new business and discuss options with a delegation from Edgeley Farmers Union Grain Co-operative. They will be requesting our support in their acquisition of parts of the former Maple Valley Complex. Dec 5-96

(December 12, 19, 26)

At a meeting held at the Ranch in Ellendale on December 11, Ellendale area farmers and former patrons of the Maple Valley Farmers Cooperative met with the Edgeley Farmers Union Grain Co. Board of Directors and managers to discuss the acquisition of the Ellendale elevator complex by the Edgeley Farmers Union Grain Co.

Farmers Union Grain Co. of Edgeley had recently been offered the opportunity to purchase elevators at Monango, Ellendale and Kulm from South Dakota Wheat Growers. The Edgeley Grain Co. board had investigated the opportunity and had secured funding through Harvest States to acquire the facilities at the three locations but no operational funds for the Ellendale facility. Because of this it would be necessary to re-sell the Ellendale property.

The Edgeley Farmers Union Grain Co. board made an offer to the Ellendale farmer-producers that were present at the meeting for the purchase of the Ellendale facilities. The offer consisted of a $75,000 cash payment on December 31, 1996, plus $40,000 spread over 5 years at the current interest rate with a one-cent per bushel rebate for grain moved through the Farmers Union Grain Co. terminals and a second mortgage on the property.

There were many questions by the Maple Valley Survival Committee members and other interested Ellendale area farmers.

Some questions were about the actual value of the Ellendale facility, whether it would remain operational until the facility was sold, whether there was enough time allowed to raise money for the purchase of the facility, whether there would be enough money available to keep the elevator complex operating and where the money would come from for the purchase.

After adjourning to discuss the Ellendale producers' concerns, the Edgeley Farmers Union Grain Co. board presented a second offer of $80,000 to purchase the facility with a $15,000 option to purchase paid by December 31, 1996 which is non-refundable but would be applied to the purchase price. The balance would be due by March 1, 1997. They also requested the right of first refusal on buying it back. A fixed asset list will be provided.

The Farmers Union Grain Co. of Edgeley will hold a special stockholders' meeting on December 17 to discuss the purchase of the elevators and the re-sale of the Ellendale facility.

On December 12 the Maple Valley Survival Committee sent a letter to Tony Johannesen, manager of the Farmers Union Grain Co. of Edgeley, to confirm the mutual understandings between the Farmers Union Grain Co. of Edgeley and the Maple Valley Survival Committee and former patrons of Maple Valley Farmers Elevator of Ellendale.

In this letter the latest offer of the Edgeley group at the December 10 meeting was reiterated. It also states that upon confirmation of the agreement the pending lawsuit against South Dakota Wheat Growers Association by former members and patrons of the former Maple Valley Farmers Elevator will be dismissed.

A projected estimated operational statement for the Ellendale elevator grain, feed and bird seed operation was prepared for the Survival Committee and received on December 4. The projections were for a five-year period and estimated a satisfactory net profit each year.

It has been proposed by the Maple Valley Survival Committee that a new organization named the Coutau Hills Seeds, L.L.C. be formed. It would become the owner of the former Maple Valley Farmers Cooperative elevator facilities in Ellendale. The new company would be a limited liability company. Anyone would be eligible to invest in the company if they desired.

A limited liability company shields its members (owners) from personal liability for obligations of the LLC, whether the obligation arose from a contract entered into on behalf of the LLC or resulted from tort liability for an accident. This limited liability is like that of a corporate shareholder or limited partner, but unlike that faced by a general partner or sole proprietor. Only the business assets of the LLC are "at risk," not the personal assets of the LLC member. Therefore, an LLC member's liability is limited to that member's investment in the LLC or the amount that member has agreed to contribute to the LLC.

If the Farmers Union Grain Co. of Edgeley agrees to the terms of the sale of the Ellendale elevator complex and these terms are accepted, a considerable amount of money will have to be obtained by the new company in a short period of time. It is estimated that $35,000 would be needed immediately and a total of $180,000 to $200,000 in the near future.

John Martinson of the Maple Valley Survival Committee said, "It is essential that everyone who is interested in the survival of the Ellendale elevator operation and for the good of the Ellendale community should invest in the proposed new company. It is open to everyone who is interested to invest to save an essential Ellendale business."

Anyone who is interested in this investment should contact any one of the following: John Martinson at 783-4433, Tim Petersen at 349-3491 or James Zimmerman at 349-4301.

DICKEY: Grain elevators sold

Stockholders in the Farmers Union Grain Co. have approved a proposal to buy three grain elevators. Tony Johannesen, FUGC manager, said the company is buying elevators in Kulm, Monango and Ellendale from the South Dakota Wheat Growers Association. The book value of the three elevators in June was $972,000. But Johannesen said the price may be lower by the time his company takes them over. "We plan to take over the elevators on March 1, so the book value of the elevators should be lower," he said.

Double standard?

To the editor — I'm puzzled! Does Northern have different rules for different people? An administration official submitted false travel vouchers and got suspended with pay.

Beth Wagner admitted to Veterinary Medicine College

Iowa State University recently chose 100 students for admission to the College of Veterinary Medicine from over 1,700 applicants. Among those selected was Beth Ellen Wagner of Monango. ISU, the oldest land grant university in the United States, includes one of only 26 colleges of veterinary medicine in the country.

While completing pre-veterinary requirements at North Dakota State University, Wagner majored in Animal Science. At NDSU she was involved in the Saddle & Sirloin Club, the Honor Commission, Libra Honor Society, the Judging Club and competed on the 1996 Senior Meats Judging Team.

Wagner is the daughter of Fred and Marcia Wagner of Monango and is the grand-daughter of Elsie Wagner of Ellendale

Farmers Union Grain Co. buys elevators

APRIL 30 1997
Farmers Union Grain Company of Edgeley has recently purchased several area elevators. On March 18th they purchased the Kulm, Ellendale and Monango elevators from South Dakota Wheat Growers. They have since sold the Ellendale elevator and are operating the elevators at Kulm and Monango.

Farmers Union Grain Company is a locally owned and operated business that was started in 1939 in Edgeley. In 1991 the Peavey elevator in Edgeley was also purchased. Along with their grain operations they also have a feed and certified seed cleaning plant and also offer fertilizer sales and custom applications. They currently employ 8 people in the grain company in Edgeley.

In 1990 they leased the Jud elevator and are presently operating there with one person employed in Jud. The Monango elevator has 2 employees and also has an anhydrous plant.

Tony Johannesen, manager of Farmers Union Grain Co., said the employees and service will stay the same at the Kulm elevator. Dave Hauff and Ron Random, manager, are the employees at the Kulm elevator.

Johannesen is from South Dakota and has been with Farmers Union Grain in Edgeley for 13 years. Johannesen said they will be doing some work on the unloading system at Kulm but will be making no other changes at this time. He also wanted to welcome everyone to come in and do business with them. They are glad that they have the opportunity to be involved in Kulm and operate the elevator here. The elevator plans to have an open house in Kulm sometime in the near future, possibly June or July.

A little over two years ago on December 28, 1994, the patrons of the Maple Valley Farmers Cooperative voted to dissolve the cooperative and sell the assets to the South Dakota Wheat Growers. Monango 1997

We would like to thank all of our family and friends for the lovely cards and gifts for our 25th wedding anniversary. A special thanks to all who came to our open house and helped to make it such a memorable occasion.

Former area resident still active at 97

Reprinted from the Plentywood, MT, newspaper. Article by J. J. French. Submitted by Doris Steltzer.

What were you doing in the year 1900? Amazingly, some people can answer that question, and one of those people is Lydia Clancy. Lydia (Kreis) Clancy was born on July 21, 1899 in Russia and emigrated to America in 1900. After arriving at Ellis Island, new York, her parents traveled to Kulm, ND. There her parents built their first house.

Sod was the primary resource used for building those days and so, Lydia's first home was a dirt-floored sod house. Lydia remembers her mother adding a new layer of dirt to the floor every Saturday. "She would spread it, wet it, and press it," noted Lydia.

Being the eldest child, Lydia stayed home and helped raise her 10 siblings instead of attending school. Today, only two of Lydia's siblings are still living.

In 1916 Lydia met the love of her life, George Clancy. They were married three years later in Aberdeen, SD and then moved to Monango, where Lydia became a farmer's wife.

George was a "thresher-man" and for 18 years Lydia was the soul cook for the thrashing crew. She cooked meals five meals a day with coffee breaks in between.

This feat is even more amazing when a person realizes that there were no microwaves, ovens, or portable stoves back then.

Lydia couldn't read so all of the recipes were stored in her memory.

After the fall threshing was finished, Lydia helped her husband with the cattle. She can remember George riding with the cattle in a box car all the way to Chicago to make sure they didn't lose any weight and stayed healthy.

Lydia even made it through the war era. She can remember the food coupons for sugar and flour, gas and tires were purchased with tokens.

In 1945 Lydia and George received electricity and in 1950 they received a sewer system. In 1956 they got their first television set and when asked about television programs today, all Lydia could say was "Oh, my!". Being as Lydia is a very modest person she is abhorred by the "junk" on today's TV. She just basically sticks to the news and baseball games. Lydia loves to watch the World Series and tries to watch it every year even though her favorite team is no longer around, the Brooklyn Dodgers.

When Lydia and George were ready to retire, they moved to Ellendale.

Lydia's husband died in 1972 at which time she came to Plentywood, MT, to live with her daughter, Doris Steltzer. In 1979 she moved to the Pioneer Manor and in 1996 to LaCasa.

Her hobbies include crocheting and fishing. The year 1995 marked the year of Lydia's 200th afghan, made for the Kreis family reunion. When asked why she likes to go fishing she replies, "Just because I like to see that bobber go down."

Even in her old age, Lydia is an individual. She does not rely on any medication at all. This is because is is in absolute perfect health. Lydia's senses are all finely tuned and operating perfectly, unlike some senior citizens who lose their hearing or memory. Truly, Lydia Clancy is a person to admire.

A 100th birthday was held - 1997

The family of Katherine Mintz gathered to celebrate her 100th birthday on Monday, September 15th at Aberdeen, SD. At the event were: her son and daughter-in-law, Edwin and Verona Mintz of Aberdeen, SD; daughter and son-in-law, Esther and Clarence Blecka of Grand Forks, ND; daughters, Alma Utecht, Louise Wonacott and Lenora Buel all of Richland, WA, and granddaughter, Jane Plumhoff of Mpls. MN.

Mrs. Mintz has been a life long resident of Monango and Ellendale and recently become a resident of Bethesda Nursing Home in Aberdeen.

The family also noted the 50th wedding anniversaries of Edwin and Verona Mintz and Clarence and Esther Blecka at a dinner on September 13th.

Mr. and Mrs. Mintz

Verona and Edwin Mintz, Aberdeen, will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary on Sunday, Oct. 19. They were honored on several previous occasions with family and friends.

*Oct 18-97
Monango Boy*

Katherine Mintz

Funeral service for Katherine Mintz were held October 30, 1997 at the Zion Lutheran church in Ellendale with Pastor Dennis B. O'Neill officiating. Burial was in the Ellendale City Cemetery.

Katherine Mintz, the daughter of Gustave and Anna Marie (Gebhardt) Fiechtner was born on September 15, 1897. She attended rural schools in Dickey County. On June 4, 1911, she was confirmed at St. Paul's Lutheran Church near Monango by Reverend Paul Kluender. On November 24, 1921, Katherine was united in marriage to William Mintz at Monango. Katherine and William farmed west of Monango. To this union six children were born. On March 16, 1954, William died and Katherine continued to live in Monango until 1968 when she moved to Ellendale, ND. In 1989, Katherine moved to the Golden Rule Rest Home in Ellendale. In December 1995, she moved to the Evergreen Place in Ellendale and in July 1997 Katherine moved to the Bethesda Home of Aberdeen, in Aberdeen, SD.

Katherine is survived by her son and daughter-in-law; Ed and Verona Mintz of Aberdeen, SD; four daughters and two sons-in-law; Alma Utecht, Louise Wonacott and Lenora and David Buel all of Richland, WA. Esther and Clarence Blecha of Grand Forks, ND; one brother Christoph Fiechtner of Ellendale, ND; 12 grandchildren; nine great grandchildren; and two great-great grandchildren.

Katherine was preceded in death by her husband, one daughter Marie Schlenker, four brothers: Karl, Waide, Fred and Henry; and three sisters: Christina Fiegen, Mary Bollinger, and Clara Kosbau.

Walds purchases trailer court

Dawn and Carey Wald became new owners of the trailer court on October 11, 1997

by Nancy J. Genter

As of October 11, 1997, Carey and Dawn Wald became the new owners of the former D & J Trailer Court. They purchased the property from Dick and Sue Paul of Aberdeen, SD, who previously purchased it from Jerry Mangin. Up to this time, the Walds had managed the court since August of 1990. They have currently changed the name of the court to Westside Mobile Court.

When asked what prompted their decision to purchase the property, the Walds stated, "It will be very beneficial to the residents of the mobile home court to have owners that actually live here. Improvements need to be done and it's easier when the owner lives right in the court. Just dealing with every day occurrences is easier when you're around every day."

For the convenience of everyone already living in the court, the Walds have already graveled the drive-ways. Plans for other improvements are already being made, such as a playground/park area. However, with winter coming upon us very quickly, this plan will have to wait until spring. The Walds are assuring all the residents that improvements will be made, but it will take time.

The sizes of the lots in the court are 50' x 120' and match the codes and management of the City of Ellendale. The court has the advantages of country living while still within the city limits. Therefore, everyone has the advantages of Dickey Rural Water, and Cable TV. The lot rent includes water, sewer and garbage. The area is well lit up at night. Being that the lots are so big, there is plenty of room for a garden space if desired. The Walds also stated that if the residents wish, they may also build a garage or storage shed. The Walds will be doing all of the maintenance work in the court. Snow removal is done by the city. Campers are also welcome in the park. Hook-ups for the campers include water, electricity, sewer and garbage.

The Walds stated they will be offering competitive rates and be accommodating to the individual needs of the people already living in the court and to anyone wishing to move in. Trailer rentals are also available. If there is not a mobile home available that meets your needs, the Walds will be very happy to assist you. Just give them a call at 701-349-3234 for more information.

Carey Wald is currently employed at the Monango Terminal of Edgeley Grain Company and Dawn is self-employed. She owns and manages Dawn's Daycare out of her home. Another advantage for residents of the court.

So, for country living in the city, try the Westside Mobile Court.

Decorative wood is their business

Redfield area firm specializes in many hand-carved designs

By Mandy Carlson

REDFIELD — A new Redfield area business offers a variety of options for interior decorating.

Markley Millwork Inc., located 11 miles southwest of Redfield near Cottonwood Lake on state Highway 26, features custom woodwork for cabinets, desks, ceilings (crown moldings), countertops and fireplaces.

If customers plan to restore older homes or buildings, Markley Millwork can duplicate historic designs for building restorations. The company makes hand-carved doors, spindles, columns and railings.

Gary Markley, who with his wife Kimberly, owns and manages Markley Millwork also owns Markley Construction. Difficulty in finding patterns for old woodwork designs when restoring old homes prompted him to create his own.

"Our books and designs can be seen in local lumberyards, architectural plans and in other stores in many Western and Midwestern states," says

As stated before, Ellendale's "third" railroad was purchased by the Minneapolis and Pacific (Soo Line), but the new owners did not choose the Dakota Midland's old route.

The Soo Line pushed from Hankinson into Oakes and then continued west in 1887 to near where the Milwaukee's tracks lay across the county north and south. Here construction stopped for a number of years and a station called Boynton became the terminus. Boynton was located about a mile east of the present Monango crossing.

Created by the Soo Line construction were the town of Fullerton and the flag stop at Clement. Later Norway Spur and a Baldwin elevator were made freight stops. The Soo went through the new settlement of Yorktown, but the Soo made Fullerton the station and Yorktown joined the ranks of forgotten towns.

Monango, reportedly named after one of the Soo Line officials, should have been on the railroad, but the company apparently felt that Monango was too high in its terms (most railroads wanted to control town-sites) and the line passed a mile to the south.

A few years later, the Soo continued on to Merricourt and then up into the hills to the new town of Kulm.

Britton woman still hospitalized after accident

A Britton woman remains hospitalized in Britton after a Dec. 19 accident.

According to Marshall County Sheriff Dale Elsen, an eastbound car driven by Kenneth Kellogg, 57, of Monango, N.D., struck a cow on state Highway 10 at 6:58 p.m., completely disabling the car's electrical system — including its lights.

Elsen said Kellogg and his wife Rachel, 56, left their vehicle and were attempting to get help from a passing motorist when a car driven by Mary Moerke, 53, struck the disabled car.

Moerke sustained minor injuries, Elsen said. Hospital officials refused to release information on her condition.

Rachel Kellogg was treated for minor injuries and released.

The cow was later destroyed, according to Elsen.

There were no arrests.

Harold Freeman Knox 1996

Funeral services for Harold Freeman Knox, 71, Monango, were held Friday, October 4, 1996, at Hoven Funeral Chapel in Ellendale with Reverend David Andrews officiating. Burial was held in the Monango Cemetery, Monango, with Hoven Funeral Chapel of Ellendale in charge of the arrangements.

Harold Freeman Knox, the son of Freeman L. and Lena (Wagner) Knox, was born March 10, 1925, in Tioga. He was raised and educated in the Monango area. Following his high school education, Harold farmed with his father. In the fall of 1964, Harold moved to Garden City, Kansas, where he was employed as a carpenter. In 1976, Harold returned to Monango where he continued to work as a carpenter until his retirement in 1994. After retirement, he spent his time working with his hobbies. Harold died October 2, 1996, at the Oakes Community Hospital in Oakes. He was a loving, happy person, always willing to help with carpentry projects of those who requested his assistance. His hobbies were polishing rocks, hunting, and fishing. He also enjoyed playing pool in area tournaments and cooking with his own recipes.

Grateful to have shared in his life are his two brothers and sisters-in-law: William and Verda Mae Knox of Madison, SD, Clyde and Bertha Knox of Monango; five sisters and three brothers-in-law, Elma and John Gayman of Ellendale, Rosella Billey of Ellendale, Lillian Keller of Jamestown, Viola and Robert Hall of Plentywood, MT, and Delores and Edgar Otterstetter of Holcomb, KS.

Harold was preceded in death by his parents and one brother.

The organist for the service was Gladys Schock and the soloist was Della Pomplun.

Book brings out humor in 'Growing Up Lutheran'

The duo who brought us that definitive work on Lutherans and Catholics "They Glorified Mary, We Glorified Rice," has created another evocative, humorous and dead-on book about the sights, smells, thoughts, struggles and minutiae of growing up in the 1950s and 1960s as Scandinavian Lutherans.

Janet Martin grew up in Hillsboro and Suzann Nelson's husband in Portland, N.D. "Growing up Lutheran" is a wonder of detail, pulling up instant recall of the way of life for Lutheran kids in those decades — the Cradle Roll, Vacation Bible School, church camps, confirmation, youth leagues and church picnics. Hundreds of details interwoven with photographs from the era resurrect with perfect pitch the feelings and attitudes of the time.

Under a list of "Words that Scare the B'jeebers out of Little Lutherans" Martin and Nelson list, among others, "Belie, malice, tribulation, enmity, reviling, serpents, wormwood and the Gall, stricken, smitten and afflicted."

Abundance in the details brings back the girls' pedal pushers, carving Bibles from Ivory soap, S & L stores, Confirmation Day terrors, "sitting in the balcony," kittenball, "Turning" — marrying outside the faith, Lutheran funerals, weddings and celebrations, Ladies Aid, Mission Festivals, ushering and a host of other memory-grabbers. Chapters end with the statement, borrowed from Luther's Catechism, "this is most certainly true."

The book even delicately paints the distinctions among Scandinavian Lutherans.

"It seemed that Swedish-American Lutheran pastors were New Testament types and that Norwegian Lutheran pastors were Old Testament types. Swedish pastors smiled some, but then so did their people.

Norwegian pastors took their work and life much more seriously, but then so did their congregants. At Bible Camp, kids even learned about some German Lutheran pastors who had been known to show up at VFWs for wedding dances."

And then there were the sensitive moral issues. For the "cleanliness is next to godliness" women of the Lutheran Ladies Aid, the issue occasionally arose, for example, "If a Lutheran lady is known to have gray-tinged wash hanging on her line every Monday morning, and she offers to take home the dishtowels (from the church) to wash, how do you handle this issue in a Christian way?"

The book even describes the subtle differences among the six different types of ladies' aprons — serving, anniversary, wedding, catch-all, everyday and dishtowel.

For Midwestern Lutherans of a certain age, it's a time machine.

Martin and Nelson are also authors of 1994's "Cream Peas on Toast," and Martin is the author of "Lutheran Church Basement Women: Lutefisk, Lefse, Lunch and Jell-O," with Al Todnen.

Genter receives NREMT-P certification

by Nancy J. Genter

David S. Genter recently received notification that he has successfully passed the written and practical exams for National Registry Emergency Medical Technician-Paramedic (NREMT-P).

On February 17, 1997, Genter entered the paramedic program at St. Alexius Medical Center in Bismarck. This is a comprehensive nine-month program consisting of six divisions in the Didactic Program: Pre-hospital Environment; Preparatory; Trauma; Medical; OB/GYN-Neonatal/Pediatrics; Behavioral; and a Clinical Program which consists of 600 hours in the following areas: Laboratory, Bismarck Fire Department, Bismarck Police Department, Burleigh County Sheriffs Department, Communication Center, Emergency Room, Ambulance Ride-Along, Anesthesia Department, Pre-Op, Same Day Surgery, Respiratory Care, Telemetry, Intensive care Unit, Pediatrics, Obstetrics, NICU, Psychiatric Unit and the Morgue. Genter also was required to write two case studies to complete the course.

The training he received was very intense as St. Alexius prides themselves on having "A higher standard."

In addition, Genter is also certified in the following areas: CPR Instructor, Prehospital Trauma Life Support (PHTLS), Advanced Cardiac Life Support (ACLS), Pediatric Advanced Life Support (PALS), Carbusters (Extrication), Coaching Emergency Vehicle Operator Course (CEVO), 12 Lead ECG. He is also certified to instruct classes in emergency medicine to the level of his training.

In November of 1997, Genter graduated second in his class from ST. Alexius Medical Center. He received the "Paramedic Student of the Year Runner-Up" award and received a Taber's Medical Dictionary Cyclopedia for his efforts. He also had the privilege of giving a speech on behalf of his class for the Preceptor of the Year awards.

Genter stated, "All the intense study that I have gone through in the last nine months has been worth it, I have enjoyed it immensely. I went into the field of emergency medicine initially to help my family. With no hospital in town, it was a serious concern. However, the more I became involved, the more I wanted to help others. I feel I have received the best training I could possibly get and I received it a top quality facility. I feel I am confident and qualified to offer pre-hospital care to anyone that needs it.

Congratulations to David Genter.

One of a Kind: Three of a Kind

Feb 26 - 1998

Fred and Mark Wagner hold triplet calves born on the Wagner farm Wednesday, Feb. 18th. They were born to a two-year-old Simetal Red Angus Cross heifer. The calves weighed 50, 54, and 56 pounds. The Wagners farm east of Monango.

Ex-Monango Woman, Missing 6 Weeks, Laid To Rest

A committal service in the Ellendale cemetery Tuesday afternoon closed one chapter in the tragic story of a former Monango woman who had been the object of an intensive area-wide search for six weeks.

Only members of the immediate family were present when the body of Mrs. Edna Mickelson, 56, was laid to rest in the local cemetery beside those of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. (Julie) Roy O'Neal, long-time Monango residents.

A memorial service for Mrs. Mickelson was held earlier Tuesday afternoon at the Emanuel Lutheran church near DeLamere, with Rev. John Johanson officiating. The Holte funeral home was in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Mickelson, mother of two, a divorcee and postmaster at DeLamere for 24 years, disappeared Apr. 18. Search parties of up to about 200 persons on foot, horseback, in jeeps, cars, trucks and even helicopters and airplanes had since combed the area in efforts to find her.

Her body was discovered Friday morning in a field about two miles northwest of Wyndmere in Richland county. Officials believe the body had been wholly or partially submerged in water at the time of the search and that the water later dried up. Preliminary examination showed no evidence of violent death, but a full pathologist's report had not been made to authorities.

A 35-year-old transient, who had been living in rural Wyndmere and who is believed to be the last person to see Mrs. Mickelson alive, has been questioned extensively about the case and is still in the Sargent county jail at Forman on a bad check charge.

Mrs. Mickelson, who had been married twice, was born June 1, 1907, at Monango, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy O'Neal.

Survivors include a son by her first marriage, James R. Hendricks of Minneapolis, and a son and daughter by her second marriage, William and Melinda Rae of DeLamere; and three brothers, Lillis and Clifford of Wenatchee, Wash., and James of Milwaukee, Wis.

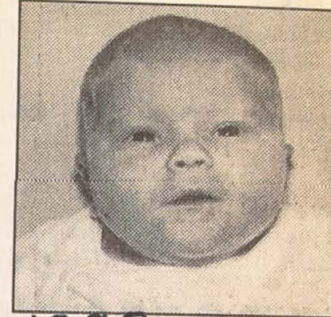

Melinda, 12, and William, 15, will return to Wenatchee to make their home with Lillis O'Neal.

Birth Announcement

Jeff and Sharon (Gebhardt) Langley of Tacoma, WA, are proud to announce the birth of their daughter, Michelle Jeannette, born January 19, 1998.

Michelle weighed 9 lbs. 9 oz. and was 21 inches in length.

Grandparents are Mr. Norman Langely of Kokomo, Indiana, Mrs. Jerrie McCoy of Peru, Indiana, the late Jeannette Gebhardt and Mr. John L. Gebhardt of Ellendale.

Cattle producers have triple calving surprise

By JANELL FEIRING-HAUCK
Special to the Farm Forum

MONANGO, N.D. - They may not be one in a million but they are one in 100,000. That is according to the beef cattle specialists at North Dakota State University. It is a rare case. In fact, so rare that Dr. Jim Bain, DVM of Frederick, said he has only seen it twice in his 23 years of being in the veterinarian business.

What we are talking about is a set of triplets born on Feb. 18 to a Simmental-Red Angus cross heifer at the Fred Wagner farm near Monango, N.D.

Greg Lardy, NDSU beef cattle specialist said a set of triplets is rare in cows but even rarer in heifers because of their uterus size. This particular heifer was carrying a full load. The two bull calves and one heifer calf weighed in at 56, 54, and 50 pounds.

The Wagners who have been

the cattle business for many years have never had a set of triplets before. "We pulled the first two calves because they were coming at once. And then a couple of hours later, we noticed she was having another one," said Mark Wagner. Since triplets are a burden for a heifer to care for, the Wagners have drafted two of the twins onto a cow, who has a surplus milk supply. "She seems to like the calves and is mothering them well," he said.

"Who knows what caused this heifer to have three eggs fertilized. Maybe it was an act of God, the weather, or feed," said Mark.

The calving season has been going good for the Wagners. Although Mark said the weather could be better. Instead of dealing with snow like last year, this year the problem is mud. "We like to calve in February when the ground is frozen," he said, "So far we have been dealing with March-like weather."

According to Dr. Bain, those cattle producers who are already calving are finding the mud problem to be a difficult one. He said only about 10 percent of his clientele is calving. The average producer in this area begins calving around March 20th.

With the calving season underway or about to begin for some producers, Lardy had these five management tips. First of all, have and maintain a sound nutritional program. Going into calving, the cows should have a body condition score of five or better. Insufficient nutrition precalving can lead to a newborn that is slower to get up. Therefore, they may fail to obtain sufficient amount of colostrum and will be at an increased risk for infectious disease. He warned producers to pay specific attention to the first calf heifers.

Next, reduce the risk of disease contamination. This basically deals with barn and lot control. Producers should keep lots dry and as mud free as possible. If the cows have to walk around in muddy lots, they are going to need more feed and the odds increase dramatically for the calves to develop some type of health problems. Exposure to calf scours can be decreased by calving and raising calves in dry, clean areas. The cow and calf should be moved to clean pasture as soon as possible after calving.

Thirdly, make sure the calf receives an adequate amount of good colostrum. The calf must nurse as soon as possible (within two to four hours) after birth. Fourthly, vaccinate the cowherd precalving for scours if it is a problem.

And lastly reduce calving difficulty. Producers should intervene after two to three hours or as soon as the cervix is fully dilated, if the cow is not making any progress. Research from Miles City indicate cows and heifers will have a better conception rate on the first service if dystocia problems are reduced.

"Being prepared is always a good management program," said Lardy. Have the facilities ready. That is the calving pens set up and the nurse pens bedded with straw. Also, have any calving equipment ready that you might need. Such as the calf puller, chains, colostrum on hand, etc.

He went on to point out that after calving management is just as important, especially in terms of nutrition.

Lactation demands an increase in nutrient requirements. The first calf heifers are harder to manage after calving. "Proper nutrition is very critical," Lardy said. Producers should keep the heifers separate and feed accordingly. This will help get the heifers rebred on time.

Despite the mud, Dr. Bain said producer attitudes are much better compared to last year. It has been a easy winter to get things done. And hopefully, the weather will cooperate during the calving season.

An open house honoring Warren and Esther Markuson on their 50th Wedding Anniversary will be held from 2 to 5 p.m. on Sunday, June 7th at the Zion Lutheran Church hosted by their children and grandchildren. Program at 2:30 p.m. No gifts please.

Marlene Joy Petersen

Marlene Joy Petersen, Ellendale, died March 7, 1998. Funeral services were held March 11, 1998, in St. Helena's Catholic Church in Ellendale with Pastor Dennis Fledderjohann and Father Gary Luiten officiating. Burial was held in the Ellendale City Cemetery with Hoven Funeral Chapel of Ellendale in charge of the arrangements.

Marlene Joy Petersen was born November 25, 1934 in Edgeley. She was the daughter of Melvin and Edna (Nelson) Olson. Marlene attended elementary school near Berlin. Later Marlene's family moved to Ellendale where she finished her elementary education and graduated from Ellendale High School in 1951. Following her high school education, Marlene went to Sioux Valley Hospital in Sioux Falls, SD, for her nurses training. Following graduation from nurses training, she returned to Ellendale. On October 15, 1955, Marlene married Bill Petersen in Ellendale. After their marriage they lived southwest of Monango where they farmed and raised three children. In 1980, Marlene and Bill moved to Ellendale where she resumed her nursing career at the Ellendale Community Health Center. In 1994, Bill died and Marlene resided in Ellendale until her death at Hillcrest HealthCare center in Minneapolis, MN, on March 7, 1998.

Marlene was an active member of the First Baptist Church and the community of Ellendale. She was an avid sewer, enjoyed gardening, and spending time with her friends, family, children and grandchildren.

Grateful to have shared in her life are her one son and daughter-in-law, Kim and Sandy Petersen of Brighton, CO; two daughters and sons-in-law, Gail and Jeff Horner of Eden Prairie, MN, Lorri and John Niemeyer of Cortland, NE; one brother, Dennis Olson of Shell Beach, CA; four sisters and brothers-in-law, Renee and Fred Bellum of Columbus, NE, Betty and Loren Tiegs of Ottumwa, IA, June and Larry Jantze of Coppell, TX, Beano and Mick Thorpe of Ellendale; five grandchildren, Megan and Joshua Petersen of Brighton, CO, Alison and Jenna Horner of Eden Prairie, MN, and Cyle Niemeyer of Cortland, NE.

She was preceded in death by her husband, Bill, and her parents, Melvin and Edna.

Casketbearers for the service were Marlene's nephews.

The eulogist for the service was Lorri Niemeyer.

Ella Monteith, 82, Aberdeen, SD, died Monday, April 20, 1998, at Sioux Valley Hospital, Sioux Falls, SD.

Memorial services were held at 2 p.m., Saturday, April 25, 1998, at Miller-Huebl Funeral Home, Aberdeen, SD, with Reverend James E. Clarke officiating. Burial was held at Riverside Cemetery.

Ella Edith Monteith was born January 20, 1916 to John A. and Ruth (Beaver) Goodrich at Monango. She graduated from Monango High School in 1934 and attended Ellendale Normal and Industrial College for one year. She married Harry Feather on September 16, 1936 at Aberdeen, SD. They farmed in the Monango area until 1952 when they moved to Aberdeen and owned and operated a grocery store, Feather's Market. In 1958 they sold the store. In 1956, she became office manager and bookkeeper at Chaffins Self Service, a position she held for 17 years. In 1972 she became office manager and bookkeeper at Malchows. Harry died March 26, 1967. She married Donald Monteith on June 12, 1976, at Milbank, SD. They made their home in Ellendale until 1991 when he retired and they moved to Aberdeen, SD, where they have since lived.

She was a member of the First Presbyterian Church and former deacon member of the Royal Neighbors of America for over 60 years.

Survivors include her husband, Donald E. Monteith of Aberdeen, SD; one daughter, Sandra (Gerald)

Becker of Sioux Falls, SD; one brother, Clifford D. Goodrich of Edgeley; one sister, Dorothy Nelson of Edgeley; three grandchildren six great-grandchildren; and many nieces and nephews.

She was preceded in death by her parents, first husband, three brothers and three sisters.

Honorary casketbearers were all great grandchildren, Nicole Herrmann, Lacy Herrmann, Tiara Herrmann, Summer Herrmann, Joshua Herrmann, and Brittany Herrmann.

Active casketbearers were grandchildren and spouses: Crystal Herrmann, Janelle Herrmann, Richard Herrmann, Jeffrey Walberg, and Heather Walberg.

The organist for the service was Terry Cones.

She said such things as, "If you kids don't quit fighting in the back seat, you're ALL going to stay in the car when we get to town."

"Behave yourself or you'll eat your supper standing up. I don't remember ever getting a spanking. Apparently the threat was sufficient."

"Yo should be ashamed of yourself for talking like that."

"Pretty is as pretty does."

When I sewed a denim jacket and one side of the collar was a half inch longer than the other side, she said, "That looks terrible. You have to do it over again until you get it right."

I threw the jacket in the corner and said, "I'm not ripping it out," but a week later I retrieved it, did it right and felt proud to wear it with a perfect collar. I doubt that Mother thought then that I would become a professional seamstress!

Years later when I told her about how naughty and disrespectful I had been to her, she said, "I don't remember that."

She graciously developed a selective memory.

My mother has been dead for over four years but I still want to call her to talk things over or to ask her opinion on decisions I need to make.

I want to ask her how she froze the corn that tasted like fresh-from-the-garden corn in January or how she made the boiled butterscotch frosting so it didn't sugar.

When I'm sick in bed, I wish she could come and make me a cup of hot tea and toast and touch my forehead to make me feel better like she did when I was a child.

I once said to her, "Mother, you've done so much for me, how can I ever repay you?"

She said, "Of course you can never repay me. Children aren't supposed to repay their parents. Just pass it on to the next generation."

What a great philosophy!

A Mother's Day Tribute

Many times throughout the year I think of my mother, but I think of her especially during May, the month in which we honor mothers.

My mother was a multi-talented lady. She was a shepherdess, a farmer/rancher's wife, a homemaker, a dedicated mother, and a 4-H leader. If there was a church or community activity, she was there helping in her quiet, unpretentious way, wherever help was needed.

As a child, I took her for granted as children will do, but at some point, probably when I had children of my own, I realized what a wonderful role model she was for us.

I think of her when I see a rainbow or a spectacular show of northern lights. She made a big deal out of beauty in nature. She would say, "Kids, come quick!" and as we hurried to see what she was excited about, she exclaimed, "Look at God's beautiful rainbow. Do you really think there's a pot of gold at the end of it?"

I sometimes thought, "A rainbow? Big deal! You called us out here to look at that?"

Now I appreciate the rainbows in my life.

Housecleaning was not a priority for Mother. She often said, "I find more interesting things to do with my time than clean house."

In the middle of a mess, she would say, "Kids, put the fish poles in the pickup and let's go catch us a little fish for our supper."

There was always room at the table for another plate. The first question guests were asked was, "Have you had your dinner?"

Sometimes all four of us kids invited our friends to our house. They were always welcome and they still remember the good times and the good food they had when they visited us.

Mother practiced the fine art of detachment before it was given a name or became a "parenting skill." If we were all fighting over the sewing machine and begging for help with our projects she went out to the garden or the barn and let us figure things out for ourselves.

She often said things which, according to modern-day child psychologists, destroy children's self-concepts and do permanent damage to impressionable psyches. Mother didn't know what "positive self-image" meant, she just wanted her children to behave themselves.

St. Paul's Lutheran Church receives funds

St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Monango, ND, recently received $450.00 from Lutheran Brotherhood, a fraternal benefit society, through the Society's Congregational Matching Funds program.

Lutheran Brotherhood matched the amount that the congregation raised through a general collection, which took place on April 5th and April 12th.

St. Paul's Lutheran Church will use the funds it raised and the matching funds from Lutheran Brotherhood for general purposes.

Lutheran Brotherhood, a fraternal benefit society, offers a broad range of high quality financial products and services to Lutherans nationwide. Through its fraternal programs, Lutheran Brotherhood aids its members, their communities, and Lutheranism.

Over the last 10 years, Lutheran brotherhood has allocated more than $440 million to fraternal programs.

Rev. Lyle Klemz and Deloris Ulmer have leading roles in Lehr's Centennial Play.

Lehr Centennial play poignant

LAUREL MEHRER

"When I read the story line I just fell in love with it," Randy Mundt said of the script, written by playwright Ev Miller of Bismarck, for Lehr's Centennial Play. "It not only relates local events, but national and international events as well. I like the way the story is told."

The story, Final Snow, revolves around Frank and Ruth Keller's remembrances of 60-years of marriage, local happenings and world events that affected their lives. The Kellers do not represent a specific Lehr family.

Rev. Lyle Klemz and Deloris Ulmer play the parts of Frank and Ruth as they sit on the porch of their Lehr home in April of 1998. Mundt and Cindy Essig are Frank and Ruth in their younger days.

Mundt describes Frank as a combination of several people from Lehr from a historical perspective. "And he's very proud of his hometown," he said. "It's a little bit of a sad story--things are tougher today for these small towns than they were 60 years ago. It's funny, too--like life."

Other characters in the drama are Ruth's parents, Bill and Louise Stanton, played by Todd Schnabel and Terry Entzie. "Louise comes from Fargo. She's city folk," Entzie said. "She's a mother who expects things to go her way." Frank's parents, Martin and Verna, are played by Bradley Dewald and Laurie Tommerdahl. Jason Nagel and Abby Ruff act the parts of Frank, Jr. and Cassie, the Keller children.

The cast, under the direction of Barbara Litsey, assisted by Entzie, has put in many hours of rehearsal morning and reconstructed again for the play that evening.

"The cast has been wonderful--very dedicated, good about getting to all the practices, helpful with suggestions and costumes," Litsey said. "It's just the technical end that's been hectic."

Entzie found the togetherness of the cast rewarding. "Finding new friends, getting to know people better...it's been a fun experience to see people bloom into these parts," he said. "Everybody is helping everybody. I like that."

Mundt and Entzie were in high school drama productions, while Ulmer says her only acting experience was with little parts in church plays. Memorizing has been her biggest challenge. "It's been a fun thing, but I'm worried that I'll mess up for everybody," she said.

time since mid-May. "The greatest challenge has been finding places to practice because Fargo Assembly has taken over the school," Litsey said. Since recently being able to practice with sets on the school stage, both Litsey and Entzie dread having to take the sets apart to accommodate the alumni events scheduled for the day of the first show. All of the props will have to be taken down in the Mundt said he surprised himself by still having the ability to memorize, but says a couple of scenes where he is supposed to be intimate with young Ruth pose a difficulty for him. "That's hard for someone who's been married to the same woman for 22 years!" he said, adding that it's getting easier--but it's still acting.

While the cast appreciate each other and their directors, Litsey and Entzie praise the cast and all the volunteer help that goes on behind the scenes.

"I really admire the people of Lehr for attempting to do this because here are so very few people to do so many things for the Centennial," Litsey said, adding that she has been very fortunate to work with a dedicated group of people.

Final Snow will be held in the Lehr High School gymnasium Saturday, June 27 at 7:30 p. m. and Sunday, June 28 at 2:30 and 7:30 p. m.

No trace had been found up to Tuesday of the 1947 Ford V-8 belonging to Rev. FE Brauer of Monango which was stolen last Tuesday night from the spot near his residence where it was parked, according to WB Oliver, Dickey County Sheriff. A car stolen that same evening in Aberdeen was abandoned south of Monango, and it is believed that the same person may have taken the Brauer car.

St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church of Monango will celebrate the 75th anniversary of the dedication of its first church building with festival services on Sunday, July 16, 1978. - 1998

On Sunday afternoon a good crowd attended the official ribbon cutting ceremony at the new "Bellon Memorial Park" three miles North of Lehr on Highway 30. Rev. Lyle Klemz said the prayer and Mayor Anthony Dewald cut the ribbon. The group sang "America the Beautiful" then retired to the Lehr Community Center for a potluck picnic supper. Mr. John Bellon, a former resident and former postmaster of Lehr donated some of his land for the park.

Aug 26-1948 The new cinder block store building which has been in process of construction in Monango since May, is virtually completed, and the grand opening of the new business has been set for this weekend, Kenneth Smith, who has been directing the construction, said Tuesday morning. This fine new building in Monango is owned by the Ole Smith family, a cooperative venture in which the boys, Kenneth, Kermit and Eugene did much of the work. The store will be a Red Owl agency and include a complete line of groceries and some dry goods, fresh meats and frozen foods, and will also contain an ice cream bar...

Buildings were collapsed, twisted, removed from their foundations, sections blown away, windows broken, animals and poultry killed, farm equipment damaged and one man injured in a tonado which, at about 7 o'clock Saturday evening followed a jigsaw path across Dickey County from the vicinity west of Forbes to the LaMoure County line, following somewhat the path of the storm a year ago. The temperature Saturday had reached a new high for the summer as the mercury climbed to 107.

The heaviest damage was done northeast of Monango where farm building were badly damaged. On the Hoberman farm, occupied by Robert Gregory, the 64x44 foot barn with 16 foot lean-to on the east, had both ends in the loft swept away, leaving only the rafters and shingles.

The building, which had been in excellent condition, was also twisted and torn, and the damage is estimated at three-fourths of the value, according to Mr. Oberman.

Southeast of Monango, the barn on the Keller corner was picked off its foundation and thrown in pieces up against the house. CH Olson, who occupies the building, had just driven his car into the garage when the storm struck, and when the building began to move, he crawled under the car to escape injury.

On the farm occupied by HM Ochiltree, a newly built granary was detached from a sheep shed, the lumber broken into kindling wood and the pieces scattered for several rods east and north of the farm buildings. A cook shack which was used during the summer for sleeping quaters was also collapsed and the pieces and contents blown across the prairie, and farm machinery was wrecked. Lamps on the tables and mirrors were shaken from the walls in the house. Mr. and Mrs. Ochiltree were in Ellendale at the time of the storm.

In helping his twin sons in out of the storm, Alois Smutney, who lives northeast of Monango, was picked up by the wind and as a result suffered a broken arm. He was brought to Ellendale to have the injured member set.

A barn on the Albert Brandneburger farm and the garage on the EM Brauer farm south of Monango were blown down and much machinery destroyed and grain and hay stacks carried away. In Albion township, northwest of Ellendale, the new Christ Lutheran Church which is being erected this summer and which is completely enclosed, was twisted, the upper section now leaning to the east about eight inches, although the lower section remained solid on its foundation. A garage on the Will Retzlaff farm was among the buildings lowered in this section.

Veteran gardeners: Luverne and Lucille Speidel of Aberdeen, who spend three days a week tending their two-acre garden near Monango, N.D., are regular vendors at the Aberdeen Farmers' Market. One of their recent customers was Jake Salo, right.

Get there early

By Lance Nixon
American News Writer

First hour at Farmers' Market usually the busiest time

So you didn't get around to planting a garden as you'd planned this spring?

No problem. A lot of veteran gardeners did. And a few of them make up a group of regular vendors who show up each Saturday at the Aberdeen Farmers' Market, selling nearly every vegetable and fruit that grows under the hot Dakota sun. The market is open from roughly 8 a.m. to noon on the sidewalk along the Dacotah Bank parking lot on Third Avenue Southwest, between Main and First streets. Regular customers hustle to get there, rain or shine.

"I do my gardening here Saturday," says Lee Nitschke of Aberdeen. Her purchases last week included the Swiss chard that Luverne and Lucille Speidel of Aberdeen were selling.

She wasn't alone, even on a day when a downpour kept some of the regulars away until mid-morning.

"We usually come down on a Saturday," said Idella Fried of Aberdeen. "We don't have our own garden so we like to pick up our week's produce."

A word to the wise: Get there early.

"We get started early in the morning and there are people waiting for us to get it off the truck," said Sandy Davis, a regular vendor. "The first hour is by far the busiest."

The Speidels say the market was begun several years ago by the Natural Abundance food store, which used to occupy nearby quarters. The market has continued in its current location although Natural Abundance has since moved farther north on Main Street.

There are usually at least half a dozen vendors, and sometimes nearly twice that many. And if you're in the mood for conversation as well as cucumbers, people like the Speidels or the Davises can tell you what sort of a year this is for various produce. Hard rains earlier this year knocked the blossoms off tomatoes, cutting down yields, for example.

And the Speidels - who spend three days a week tending their two-acre garden near Monango, N.D. - still have not figured out what to do about the deer that eats their gladiolas.

Anyone who's interested in selling vegetables at the market can call Luverne and Lucille Speidel at (605) 225-9704, or Sandy and Dale Davis at (605) 229-5788. Better yet, come see them at the Farmers' Market.

Jacob F. Rempfer

Jacob F. Rempfer, 79, Gwinner, died September 27, 1998 at the Lisbon Medical Center in Lisbon. Funeral services were held Thursday, October 1 at Zion Lutheran Church in Gwinner with Reverend Kirk Douglas officiating. Burial was held in St. Paul's Lutheran Cemetery in Monango with Armstrong Chapel of Gwinner in charge of the arrangements.

Jacob F. Rempfer was born May 2, 1919 to Christian and Katherine (Gebhardt) Rempfer. He attended rural school at Monango and Monango High School. He graduated from the Normal and Industrial School in Ellendale. Jacob served in the Army Air Corp from 1942-1945. On June 13, 1948, he married Ella Haussler at Gwinner. They lived in Fullerton for four years where he was a teacher, and in Dawson for one year where he also taught school. They then moved to Monango in 1952 where he farmed and taught school for six years until 1962. He then taught in Milnor for one year. They moved to Gwinner in 1963 where he taught for 11 years and operated the Tastee Freez for six years. He was a member of the Zion Lutheran Church in Gwinner.

He is survived by his wife, Ella Haussler; one son, Michael of Bismarck; two daughters, Cheryl (Chris) Tesar of Columbia Falls, MT, Dawn (Harvey) Kruckenberg of Fargo; four grandchildren; two sisters, Elizabeth Fiechtner of Oakes and Bertha Lindke of New Ulm, MN.

Pallbearers for the service were Ralph Fiechtner, Harold Asche, Leslie Johnson, Chris Speidel, Norval Berg, Manny Hegle.

Honorary casketbearers were his grandchildren; Rich Beaver, Lloyd Aderman, Wendel Jones, Frank Gebhardt, Roger Bischoff.

The organist for the service was LaVonne Nelson.

A Soo-Line railway employee, Lyle McLaughlin, 46, was killed just before noon Friday in a switching accident south of Monango. Before the mishap, McLaughlin had signaled an engine and three cars forward off a side track onto the main track. He then threw the switch, but apparently it was not in the proper position and the engine and cars moved right back onto the side track. McLaughlin, who was working on the side track, apparently without watching the train, was run over by the retreating cars. Six wheels passed over his body and he died instantly.

OCT 29 Neal Schlosser 98

Neal Schlosser: I have had experience working on Potsdam Township Board for the past 10 years. I have been involved with road repairs such as graveling, culvert work, and snow removal.
On the township level, I am fully aware of how the government works. Working at State Legislative sessions gave me good insight in how government operates, how it intertwines with the public, and how it handles the issues that involve us. After operating my farm and ranch business for the past 20 years and recently finishing Farm Management and Business classes, I have a good understanding of cash flows, budgeting, and marketing. This knowledge will help me to be effective in managing county government. My understanding of modern technology gives me good insight in the way that we communicate and the way that we can gain information. This will be helpful in the way I will make decisions.

Feature Family of the Week

Dennis & Colleen

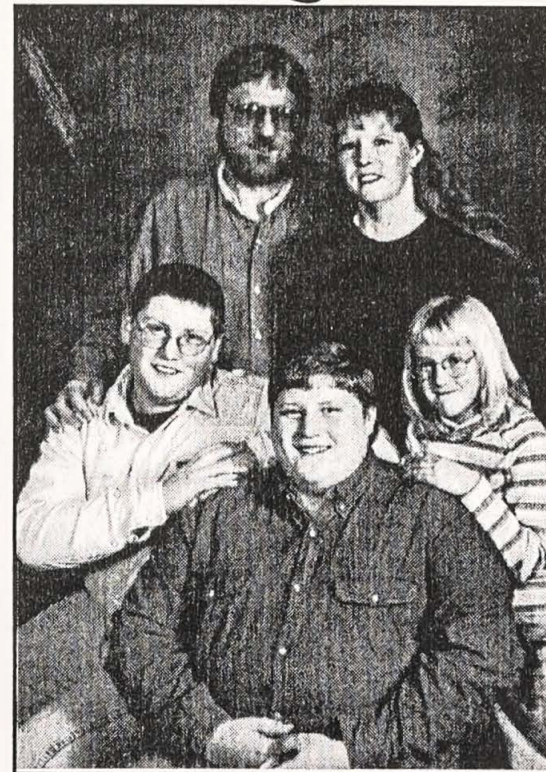

Rithmiller

Andy

Dean

Kayleen

History

Dennis and Colleen were married on March 15, 1980 at the Brown County Court House in Aberdeen, S.D.

On March 18, 1981 they were blessed with the birth of their first son, Andy, now a senior at Ellendale High School. The date of June 26, 1983 marked the birth of their second son, Dean, now a sophomore at Ellendale High School. Finally on November 25, 1988 the cries of their daughter, Kayleen, were heard. Kayleen is now in the fourth grade here at the Ellendale school.

Dennis: "Growing up on the farm."

What is your best memory since you got married?

Colleen: "The seven day cruise that we took in March of 1992. I enjoyed watching Dennis fly for the first time and really enjoyed all of the places that we got to see and visit."

Dennis: "When we went on the cruise that I won from Chevrolet."

(Warranty cards were sent out by Chevrolet and through comments that were made about Dennis, he was awarded the cruise)

What are some of your pet peeves?

Colleen: "When people ask me legal questions. Please, see an attorney."

Dennis: "Getting calls on the weekends or evenings by telemarketers."

Favorites:

Television Show:

Colleen: "E.R., The Nanny, and Walker"

Dennis: "Drew Carey Show"

Movies:

Colleen: "Titanic"

Dennis: "Armageddon"

Food:

Colleen: "All of mom's cooking."

Dennis: "Kase Kneppfla"

Hobbies:

Colleen: "Reading, motor bikes, camping, and wildflowers"

Dennis: "Motorcycling and tinkering with lawn mowers."

Neal Schlosser: Any natural disasters that occur in our county will certainly affect our county infrastructure and therefore alter the county budgeting. Shifts in State and Federal funding will trickle down to affect Dickey County financing. New mandates handed down by the State or Federal government will also affect county finances. Possible changes in the attributes of Dickey County residents will force the commissioners to examine possible changes that need to be made in the budget—it always ends up being a struggle to find a balance. The Development of Industry will depend upon our ability to bring back some of the labor force that has left the area and the restrictions we will place upon a particular industry. As industry moves this way, we should consider lowering taxes for everyone not just a few. 98

Neal Schlosser: The commissioners need to continue the upkeep of our county infrastructure to ensure its quality for the future. We are heavily dependent on our roads, the lifeline to agricultural businesses and other businesses in the communities of Dickey County. The commissioners will need to assure that the county has effective law enforcement to keep its residents safe and secure. Furthermore the commissioners will need to be diligent in their work with county department budgets and operations. We should try to avoid raising property taxes in the county if at all possible. I feel it should be a priority of the commissioners to always keep in mind a long-term plan instead of "quick fixes" to problems facing Dickey County.

Neal Schlosser: The commission oversees all of county budgets and departments, Social Services, and the county infrastructure such as roads, culverts, and bridges. The commission makes sure that all departments are running smoothly, efficiently, and effectively. The commission also listens to county residents concerns about services under the commission's control. As a county resident I feel the commissioners should be honest, respectful, fair, open minded, and willing to listen to the public. I feel that I possess these qualities and would be an effective commissioner if elected.

Where are you employed and for how long?

Colleen: "At the Dickey County Sheriff's Office and have since January 1991."

Dennis: "Blumhardt Chevrolet for 24 years."

Where were you born?

Colleen: "In Montevideo, Minnesota but we moved around until I was in the seventh grade. I consider Buxton, North Dakota my hometown."

Dennis: "On a farm west of Monango."

What type of education do you have?

Colleen: "I'm a 1977 graduate of Central Valley School, then in 1978 I attended East Grand Forks Tech."

Dennis: "Monango High School and two years at North Dakota State School of Science in Wahpeton, North Dakota."

Do you do any volunteer work and why?

Colleen: "I was voted onto the Dakota Plains Credit Union's board and I'm on the ambulance board. I'm also, in the Fireman's Auxiliary because at the time that I joined I wasn't doing too much in the community and I felt that it was a good organization."

Dennis: "I'm on the Ellendale Fire Department, I joined because my wife made me."

How long have you lived in the Ellendale community and what brought you here?

Rithmiller Tax, I applied and got the job."

Dennis: "I have lived here since 1978 because I was hired right out of school."

Colleen: "I'm a secretary/dispatcher and a jailer when it's needed."

Dennis: "I'm the shop foreman and a mechanic."

Tell us the best part of your job.

Colleen: "I like dealing with the public, most of the time."

Dennis: "I enjoy dealing with the people I've met and made friends with over the years."

Explain to us the hardest part of your job.

Colleen: "When I have to call an officer out after they have worked the night before."

Dennis: "Trying to keep up with the paperwork and changes that General Motors has made to their vehicles over the years."

What would you like to see as an outlook for Ellendale?

Colleen: "I would like to see more young people move to Ellendale and make it their home. This town is such a wonderful place for kids."

Dennis: "I would like to see more industry and young people in this town."

What is your goal in life?

Colleen: "Just to make it through Kayleen's teen years."

Dennis: "I want to finish working on my house, that way my wife will leave me alone."

What is your best memory of your childhood?

Colleen: "The time my Dad took me fishing into northern Canada. We had a flat tire and the motel that we stayed in had floors that moved up and down when the wind blew. It was a great weekend."

Neal Schlosser: I have a strong belief in the values of our country, values of the past and those that we carry into the future. After being involved with all aspects of Dickey County for a lifetime, I feel confident that I can appreciate the concerns of the county residents. I believe that my past experiences have empowered me to be a qualified and effective Dickey County commissioner. OCT 29-98

The new auditorium recently completed by Keystone school district at Monango, will be dedicated with appropriate ceremonies next Sunday, Sept. 25. The new auditorium at Monango is said by competent observers to be one of the best in the state, and the good people of Monango are justly proud of it. Sept 24-1998

A new home moved into Kulm Saturday will house the Henry Woehl's next year. The home was built in Monango and trucked in to the foundation on Saturday and should be ready to move into next March. The Woehls farm will be taken over by their son Raymond. The dwelling is two bedrooms and the Woehls expect to finish a third in the basement. DEC 13-1962

G.G. "Tiny" Gebhardt: I have served for twenty years on various boards and committees, I feel those experiences have been very educational, interesting and give the background and experience necessary to serve on the commission. Currently I serve on the SFA Board, Potsdam Township Board, St. Paul's Lutheran Church Board, Dakota Plains Credit Union Board, I'm chairman of the Dickey County

Oct 29 G.G. "Tiny" Gebhardt 98

Township Association and serve on the Prince of Peace Care Center Advisory Board. I recently retired from a successful farming operation and have the time to devote to this position. I'll be there for the meetings and I'll do the job, whatever it takes. I'm also familiar with the roads throughout the county as I've hauled gravel for the county.

G.G. "Tiny" Gebhardt: I want people to know that I will listen to concerns large or small, all requests, suggestions and comments will be taken up for discussion and sensible decisions made. I am a common sense guy. I work for the individual, it makes my day if I can help someone out, if I can make a difference. I plan to hit every door before this campaign is over and it has been a learning experience. There's situations in this county that we have no idea are right under our nose. If elected, the hard part will be wanting to help everyone. 98

G.G. "Tiny" Gebhardt: The role of the commission is get "the biggest bang for the buck" - use tax dollars wisely to service the area like it needs to be. Commissioners need to use common sense judgment and make no snap decisions. 98

G.G. "Tiny" Gebhardt: Priority number one is listening to the public, going to bat for people who contact you. Taking their concerns up the line to be discussed by the board, getting results through group decision. Number two is maintaining our roads and bridges, they need to be safe and passable for rural people to get their product to market, for school transportation, and for the health and fire safety of our citizens.

G.G. "Tiny" Gebhardt: Dollars and need, necessity and benefit may be factors in what gets done first. Things that can wait may have to be delayed until the budget can afford it. 98

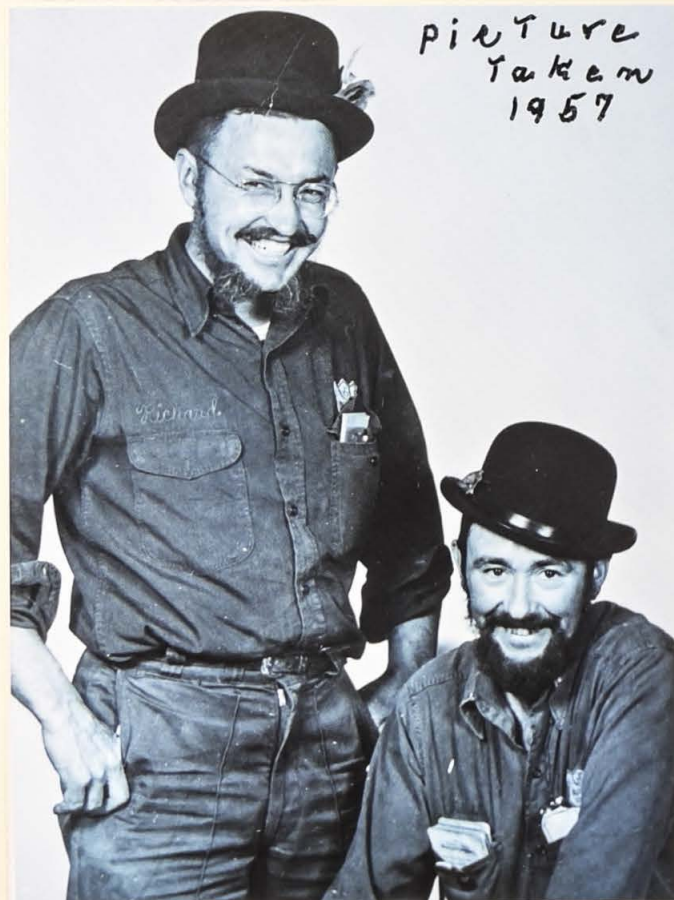

A card party and pie social will be held to the Monango high school gymnasium Saturday evening at eight o'clock, sponsored by the Keystone-Valley Farmers Union local for the benefit of the Ellendale Credit Union. - NOV. 18-48 - 1998

WILLIS BRADY

A FRIEND of MANKIND
AND MINE

August 24, 1975

Mankind has lost another friend.
His passing seemed so cruel.
At first, we're sorry for his lonesome wife
It's hard to understand the life
That Willis Brady had
Should be taken from this land.

When I stepped out this morning, as I've often done
To see the clear blue sky and gaze awhile,
Before the day begun.
Not a cloud was out this morning to, over cast the view,
The great white milky way was clear
And both the dippers too.

Then, it seemed a new star appeared from way beyond the blue
And as I stood and gazed awhile
Despite the morning chill
This one seemed to smile back at me
As though it could be Will.

I'm sure we all believe he's up there,
God grant this be the case.
Where ever Will is to be T'will be a better place!

RICHARD WOLF

Just a couple of lines of thoughts from friends
That gathered here.
To let you know we think of you and pass
Along some cheer.

Don't know just what caused this accident to up-end
A bee hive man.
Was it the change of pace, the slippery ice
Or the fish for the pan?

Perhaps the pace of a honey man
Should be as the Season goes.
Consider the time of the year, the age of the man
And go as the honey flows.

We truly hope for a rapid return.
You're sure on the mend.
By for now, we'll see you soon
Yours truly, a bee keepers friend.

Fourteen persons luckily escaped serious injury in a three-car pileup near Monango Sunday morning--which also involved a fourth car. The mishap occurred about 8:30 a.m. on a county road seven miles west of Monango. The crash occurred when a car driven by Wayne Steinwand of Merricourt plowed into the rear of a parked car driven by Edwin H. Holzworth of Jamestown, sending it into another parked car driven by Richard Franklin of Forbes. The fourth car, driven by Mrs. Doris Gatz of Monango, was passing the two parked cars at a very slow speed, when her car was struck...

The main purpose of the change is to shorten the road by six or seven miles...The 30,000 North Dakota wheat growers who have applied for crop insurance under the program of the Federal Crop Insurance corporation can guarantee themselves a 1939 crop of approximately fourteen and one half million bushels of wheat...

Christoph T. Fiechtner

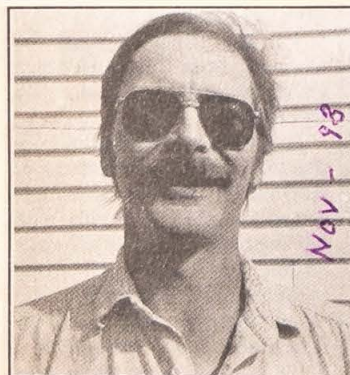

Christoph T. Fiechtner, 97, Ellendale, died October 5, 1998. Funeral services were held Friday, October 9, 1998, at St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Monango with Pastor Lyle Klemz officiating. Burial was held in St. Paul's Lutheran Cemetery in Monango with Hoven Funeral Chapel of Ellendale in charge of arrangements.

Christoph T. Fiechtner, the son of Gustav and Anna Marie (Gebhardt) Fiechtner, was born September 15, 1901, southwest of Monango, on a farm homesteaded by his father. He attended rural schools in Dickey County. After his formal education, he began farming west of Monango. On January 12, 1930, Christoph married Magdalena Dickoff of Zeeland. Together they made their home northwest of Monango where they continued to farm. In 1970, Magdalena died. In 1994, he moved to Prince of Peace Care Center in Ellendale, where he resided until his death on October 5, 1998. Christoph was a devout Lutheran and a member of the Lutheran Layman's League. His greatest enjoyment was to have his children come to visit him. He also enjoyed playing cards.

Grateful to have shared in his life are his one son and daughter-in-law, Raymond and Joyce Fiechtner of Laurel, MT; two daughters and one son-in-law, Leona and Clinton Hawkinson and Darlene Lewis, both of Memphis, TN; eight grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Christoph was preceded in death by his parents, wife, four brothers and four sisters.

TRIBUNE STAFF

Nov - 1998
Monango Boy

Ashley Medical Center is continuing its commitment to the community with the recent addition of a new paramedic to the existing hospital's professional staff.

Dave Genter NREMT-P, of Ellendale, North Dakota, has accepted the position to compliment the hospital's existing paramedic staff. Dave, a graduate of the St. Alexius Medical Center's Nationally Registered Paramedic school, is a fellow classmate of Sherri Matott, the current paramedic at the hospital.

"Dave is an excellent paramedic," said Matott. "He's really dedicated at this demanding occupation and always performs like a true professional. I'm looking forward to working with him again."

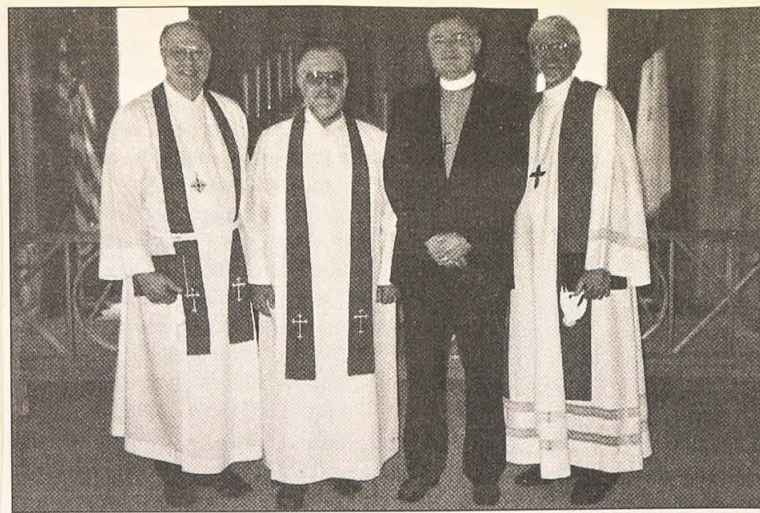

Dave, a national registered paramedic, has served as a volunteer with the Ellendale ambulance service is also a certified EMT/extraction instructor and will coordinate with Matott on teaching the current scheduled EMT- Basic courses being taught free of charge to community members at the hospital on Tuesday's and Friday evenings and the upcoming scheduled EMT-Intermediate class.

The two paramedics will be responsible for the coordination of cardiac/pulmonary rehabilitation program along with blood gas interpretation, 12 lead EKG, emergency room assistance with intubation, community EMS coordination and public awareness and education as well as serving as volunteers with the Ashley Ambulance Service.

"I'm looking forward to the opportunity to compliment the existing staff here at the hospital and working with the ambulance service," said Genter. "I feel we're an important part of the service to the community that can make the difference between life and death in emergency situations. A paramedic can offer advanced trauma skills at the scene and enroute to the hospital that can save a person's life. We're here for them."

Genter, with his wife Nancy and son Jeremy, is planning on relocating to Ashley as soon as possible to allow Dave the access to serve the community systematically with the existing ambulance squad members.

"It's been hectic for the first few days, but I'm looking towards an exciting and rewarding experience here," he said. "I seriously enjoy my work in emergency pre-hospital medicine and hope to develop my professional skills with the opportunities offered here."

Last summer the members and friends of Grace, Lehr, celebrated 90 years of ministry in their midst. Present for the anniversary celebration and services were, from left, Rev. Ronald Yungman, Lakefield, Minn., former pastor; Rev. Lyle Klems, current interim pastor; Rev. Terril Bramstadt, Madison, Minn., former pastor; and North Dakota District President Norman Sincebaugh, Fargo. Nov-98

Chari: "I really like the people that I work with, so I guess that's the best part of my job."

Explain to us the hardest part of your job.

Chari: "I guess the hardest part of my job is dealing with some of the people that just won't listen to what I'm trying to tell them."

Kevin: "It doesn't take long to figure out the hardest part of my job. The fact that I have to milk twice a day 365 days a year is not that much fun at all."

What would you like to see as an outlook for Ellendale?

Chari: "My outlook for Ellendale is good, but the town needs to have some kind of incentive for young people to come back and stay. I do truly believe that it is a wonderful place to raise kids."

Kevin: "My outlook for Ellendale doesn't go much further than my children, because I believe it's a good place to raise them."

What is your goal in life?

Chari: "My goal is to raise my kids with strong values and to teach them to believe in themselves and their abilities."

Kevin: "I hope to be financially secure enough to help both of our children attain their goals and to have enough security for our retirement."

What is your best memory of your childhood?

History

Kevin and Charlene (Chari) Kinzler were married on October 27, 1990 at the St. Helena's Catholic Church in Ellendale, ND. On December 11, 1991 their family began to grow with the birth of their first child, Kassandra (Kasie) Marie. Today she attends Ellendale Elementary School and is in the first grade. Their second child, Cody John, brightened their lives when he arrived on June 15, 1994. Currently he is attending preschool.

Chari: "I have great memories of all of the trips that we took in the summer months."

Kevin: "Riding dirt bike and waterskiing are the best memories that I have."

What is your best memory since you got married?

Chari: "Having two healthy children and starting my family is the best."

Kevin: "I agree with Chari, having two wonderful children is the best."

What are some of your pet peeves?

Chari: "I really dislike it when people think that they're better than everyone else."

It's Amazing

Sept 24-98

The talent in this small town and surrounding communities is amazing. It is also amazing to see what can be done with this talent when people are willing to work together and tackle a project in an interesting way.

Saturday night I attended a fundraiser for a defibrillator for the Ellendale Ambulance Service. There was something for everyone in the line-up of entertainment from oratory offerings and cowboy poetry to instrumental and vocal selections. Each presentation was special and well done.

The donations and pie sale proceeds totaled over $2,000 with matching funds of up to $2,700 available from Aid Association for Lutherans and Lutheran Brotherhood. That's amazing. Forgive my overuse of the word "amazing" but it seems to be the best word choice next to "awesome."

We don't always realize just how valuable our specialized services are in a rural area until something happens to someone who is close to us. Last week it happened in our family.

My brother, Curtis Mills, works on the Rademacher farm northeast of Monango. He was eating his lunch in the Quonset when there was an explosion, apparently from a propane leak. Curt was seriously burned on his upper body. By the grace of God, he was able to walk up to the house. Also, by the grace of God, Marie was home and remained calm in the face of this crisis. She dialed 911 to request an ambulance and got instructions for the immediate treatment of the burns. When the Edgeley ambulance crew arrived they took over in a most efficient and professional manner. The Dickey County Sheriff was also dispatched to assist.

Curt was taken to the Oakes Community Hospital until the helicopter from Sioux Falls arrived to airlift him to the burn center in St. Paul.

So three small towns were involved in helping my brother. We are thankful that we have caring people who are willing to donate their time and resources to helping others. We are thankful for the quick response of ambulance personnel, for all the work that volunteers did to get 911 services up and operational, for the technological advances in burn treatment methods, and for the special people who are willing and able to work in burn units. We are thankful, too, for those people who are not directly involved in providing these services, but are willing to give financially.

When someone so close to us comes so close to losing his life, we realize just how much the support of family, friends, and community means to us. We are reminded that life is so fragile, so precious. We are reminded again that in the bad times as well as the good times, God is with us and He uses special people to perform special services in our small towns.

A Time to Live

Lawrence Mills girl

and a

Time to Die

Monango girl

The last large leaf fell from the poplar tree and was whisked across the backyard by the brisk autumn wind. The leaf had lived its life of beauty. Its days for providing shade and oxygen to creature on earth were over and it was ready to return to the soil.

In the span of one month I attended funerals and prayer services for parents of three of my closest friends.

I listened to stories of lives lived in commitment and dedication, stories of people who cared for and loved families, friends, and neighbors. Stories were told of people who showed tremendous strength of character by taking charge in times of adversity or need. There were stories of supportive people who worked quietly in the background without drawing attention to themselves.

I wondered how such quiet, unassuming people could mean so much to so many. They touched lives wherever they were and whatever they did.

It is comforting to go to funerals for Christians whose faith was evident not only in words but also in loving and caring deeds.

The heart will be lonely but the head knows that they are in a better place and will not have to endure another one, cold winter of pain and suffering and day-to-day struggles. Even though we will miss them terribly, we can't wish for them to remain here when, like the autumn leaves, their lives of service on earth are over. The tears shed are for ourselves, to acknowledge the emptiness we feel but our mourning turns into dancing as we rest in the assurance of eternal life in the arms of Jesus.

My mother's funeral five years ago was a celebration of her life. It was a celebration of her love for people, her love for Jesus, and her love of music, laughter, and dancing. She danced her way through life and we could picture her dancing her way into Heaven much like Miriam, the sister of Moses. Miriam played her tambourines and led the dancing to celebrate the Israelites' successful crossing of the Red Sea.

I wonder if, at the end of my life on earth, I will be whisked away like the poplar leaf in my backyard with no trace, no memory, no mark that I had made a difference. Will there be a celebration of my life at my funeral? Will anyone have good memories or funny stories to share? Have I done anything worth remembering?

By the grace of God, there will be a celebration!

August and Matilda Wiederrich were very fortunate to have Matilda's cousin, Valentina Horner geb Sauer and her husband Bernd Horner of Frieberg, Germany visit them this past month. They arrived on Friday, January 1, just missing the bad weather that was to follow. The Horners own a winery and orchard which has been in their family for 300 years. They grow grapes, cherries, plums, etc., and make white, rose' and red wines. They came especially to visit with the Wiederrichs. It had been 10 years since they had last visited the US. They stated they very much enjoyed the snow and the weather here in North Dakota.

Family retraces escape from West Russia

by Jeanette Robb Ruenz

How easy it is for some people to return to their birth place or to the house they lived in as a child. It may be within a county, or within a state, or to a near-by state. But for Brunno Kinzler, a Monango, North Dakota farmer, to see the house in which he was born, meant a journey half-way around the world to a country called Poland.

Kinzler said he had one dream in life - to see the place where he was born. This he did and much more when he and his brother Bert, Aunt Erna and two cousins traveled to Germany and Poland this last October to visit relatives and to seek out the home places they'd been forced to leave.

They spent time visiting with the people who now live in the house once occupied by the Kinzlers. Another heartwarming event was when an elderly gentleman recognized Aunt Erna as a former school-mate. He was a great source of information and was able to answer many questions.

Kinzler relates the following story of his family's escape from West Prussia.

John and Marie Kinzler and son Berthold were living on a farm in West Prussia in the early 1940's. It was here at Refelde that the second son, Brunno, was born.

Kinzler was drafted into the German Army in 1943 and fought on the German-Russian front. It was during a Christmas furlough the next year that plans were made as to where the family should go if they had to flee. Little did his wife and her two young children realize that within a year they and several family members would be hurrying to Germany. They knew the fighting was very close to their farm as they could hear the shooting.

On January 12, 1945 under Grandpa Kinzler's guidance, they fled with four wagons, 11 horses, a few personal belongings and some food. They joined a wagon train of ten wagons, traveling by night so they wouldn't be seen by the Russian airplanes. Many times when the going would have been easier on the main roads, the German army refused to let them travel there because it would have interfered with their retreat. Sleeping in the wagons was not pleasant with the temperatures between -10° and -30°.

They needed to cross the Weichsel River but found that all the bridges were destroyed. They finally located a spot downstream where it appeared some of the German army vehicles had crossed.

There were sticks in the ice and they assumed it would be the safest place for them to cross. Many of the wagons fell through the ice and the people and horses were drowned. Fortunately the Kinzler families made it safely across.

On their 1000 km journey they sometimes slept in barns or took refuge in abandoned farm houses. Occasionally they found cows to be milked and a stove on which to cook a good meal.

It had been decided to meet at Mrs. Kinzler's uncle's place in northern Germany. Seven people lived in one room for a year, enduring many hardships, but thankful to be safe. Brunno's father found them there after he was released from an American Prisoner of War Camp.

In Germany Mr. Kinzler soon realized his dream of owning his own farm would never be. Hoping to make a better future for his family, he sought sponsorship through the Church World Service to come to the United States. Brunno recalls that all they brought with them was what would fit into one trunk.

October 1951 found Mr. and Mrs. Kinzler, Bert, Brunno and Helmut in New Mexico. The hot climate of the south was not to their liking or to Mr. Kinzler's health. Fortunately, Mrs. Kinzler had kept contact with a relative near Kulm and in the spring the family would make the final trek that would bring them to North Dakota. They traveled by taxi with all their belongings in a one-wheel trailer. "It was quite a trip with six people in that car," laughed Brunno.

For five years they lived in the Kulm area and in January 1957 the family made one more move to a farm two miles east of Monango. Today you will find the third generation of Kinzlers there.

Leona Elizabeth Meyer

Leona Elizabeth Meyer, 80, Ellendale, died February 11, 1999. Funeral services were held Monday, February 15, 1999 at Zion Lutheran Church in Ellendale with Pastor Dennis B. O'Neill officiating. Burial was held in the Ellendale City Cemetery in Ellendale with Hoven Funeral Chapel of Ellendale in charge of the arrangements.

Leona Elizabeth Meyer, the daughter of Henry and Paulina (Wiederrich) Steinwand, was born November 28, 1918, in Hamburg Township between Merricourt and Monango. On November 30, 1918, she was baptized by Pastor O. Stadler. On March 25, 1934, she was confirmed by Pastor J. Schmidt. Leona attended rural school in Hamburg Township. After her education, she helped her parents farm. On August 4, 1943, she married William Frederick Meyer at St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Monango by Pastor F. E. Brauer. In 1944, Bill and Leona began farming on the Steinwand family farm. In 1989, they retired from farming and continued to live on the family farm. In the fall of 1998, Leona and Bill moved to Ellendale where they resided until Leona's death on February 11, 1999 at Avera St. Luke's Hospital in Aberdeen, SD.

Leona was a member of the St. Paul's Lutheran Church and the Lutheran Women's Missionary League in Monango. She was active in the Dickey County Social Service Board, the Farmers Union and in various political activities. Leona was also a charter member of the Monodak Homemakers Club and the Germans from Russia Heritage Society. She enjoyed collecting and recording family history, gardening, and crafts.

Grateful to have shared in her life is her husband, William Meyer of Ellendale; two sisters and one brother-in-law, Esther and Robert Bergman of West Covina, CA.

Leah Merrick of Rapid City, SD; eight nephews and seven nieces.

She was preceded in death by her parents and two sisters, Ida Fregien and Erna Rempfer.

Casketbearers for the service were: Scott Wolff, David Kinzler, James Deering, Kenneth Wolff, Bruno Kinzler, Spencer Deering.

The organist for the service was Janet O'Neill and the soloist was Allan Miller. The congregation also sang.

Bruno Kinzler to speak at Genealogy Club meeting

By Jeanette Robb-Ruenz

The Dickey County Genealogy Club will meet Monday, March 22, at 7 p.m. at the Senior Center in Ellendale. A special evening is planned for this month. Bruno Kinzler will share a video of his trip to Poland last October. Included in his presentation will be footage of a museum in southern Germany. It was from this area that many Germans immigrated to South Russia. Some of the buildings he visited date back to the 1200-1500's.

Everyone is welcome to attend. Even if you are not interested in family history, plan to attend this meeting and hear Kinzler's narration of his trip to the place where he was born.

As usual, information and suggestions will be available for those just starting to trace their family history or for those whose research is already begun. The two previous meetings have proved very resourceful for those in attendance. Plan now to join us on Monday, March 22, at the Senior Center, Hwy 281 South in Ellendale.

LuRae Janke assumes position of branch manager - Dakota Plains Credit Union

By John Beckius, Dickey County Leader

On Friday, March 26, 1999, LuRae Janke was officially installed as branch manager of Dakota Plains Credit Union, Ellendale Branch. She replaces Cay Durheim who was branch manager previously. Janke has worked for the credit union since July 1995. She has seen continued growth of the credit union during her years of employment there, and she hopes to keep the trend going in that direction in the future.

The Dakota Plains Credit Union - Ellendale Branch also employs Helen Roeszler and Valerie Gunther who are both devoted workers. Also, Lori Brokaw works part-time when she is home from college. The credit union provides competitive services and has a variety of products for the community of Ellendale.

Janke is the wife of Jimmy Janke, who is employed by Gary Reinke. Both live in Ellendale. They have three children, Amanda, Amber, and Justin, who attend Ellendale Public School. They are members of Zion Lutheran Church in Ellendale.

The community wishes continued good luck with Janke's future with the Dakota Plains Credit Union.

Remembering on Mother's Day what Aunt Leona gave

There is one fewer card to send this year on Mother's Day.

For many years, each Mother's Day, I sent a card to my Aunt Leona. It wasn't just that she was my godmother, a sponsor at my baptism. It was for many reasons.

She traveled often in a day when many women didn't drive. She worked in politics when it was still wholly a man's game. She didn't have children in a time when no one could understand that choice. She worked outdoors as a full farmer with Uncle Bill, but kept her long fingernails.

She was a beauty. In her youth, a heart-shaped face and a mass of curly dark hair. She was a passionate Democrat in a Republican community. She loved her flower garden above most anything else.

When I was little, she and Uncle Bill went to California to work each winter. As we lived under bleak winter skies, I pictured her in some kind of 1950s Technicolor dude ranch, under some happy California sun and sky in one of those B movie

Tribune reporter and real-life mom

Westerns I loved.

One spring she brought back a small cedar jewelry box for me, one of those with a sightseers' Knott's Berry Farm-type autograph written on the top, the varnished gold and bronze swirl of cedar wood. I think I've lost it, but I kept it for more than 40 years. It still smelled sweet the last time I saw it. She made me feel remembered.

When I was 15, she bought me a pair of pearl earrings for my confirmation. They have the antique — pre-pierced ears era — fastenings, a tiny screw that tightens at the back of your ear lobe. Little girls had necklaces, but only women wore earrings. I still have them in their original box in my bureau drawer. She made me feel grown-up.

When I was 16, she threw me the only surprise party I'd ever had. She and my mother and my high school friends somehow lured me to the school's basement lunchroom — I was clueless — to find the whole high school of 40 people ready to dance and eat cake.

Aunt Leona was a perfectionist. When she made cakes — wedding cakes, anniversary cakes — they were masterpieces. For this 16th birthday, she made me cake — a pre-Barbie Barbie-like doll with dark hair like mine was set into the middle of a lavender-frosted hoop skirt, all flowered and frilled. She made me feel special.

She once made me a "money tree." She took a bare branch and wrapped coins in silver and gold foil and hung them from the tree. She made me feel rich.

When I was pregnant with my first child, she made me a mobile, a dozen pastel fish carefully woven from colored ribbon and balanced to perfection. I still have them.

Her needlework hangs on my walls — a long bellpull of a lady in a formal garden and an abstract in cream and silver thread. She made me feel worth the effort.

She once came to visit and brought a torte — whipped cream and apricot filling. She left the plastic covered cake pan — I used it for more than 20 years, though it was cracked.

When my mother was dying, she came. She took the night watch, I the day. At the end, she was there with me for the last hours, holding mother's hand until it was

A few years ago, she asked, what did I want of hers? She liked things taken care of. Well, I said, I love the ceramic canisters — a Dutch boy and two Dutch girls — that is my first memory of her kitchen.

Hmm, interesting — they were a wedding gift from your mother, she said. They are in my kitchen now. Every time I see them, I think of her. I feel connected to her.

I have two of her work shirts and a sweater in my closet.

I wear her wedding and engagement band on my left hand. I look at my hands and see hers.

What did I want of hers? My mother's sister. My lifelong friend. My fervent supporter. Unfailing caretaker. Kindred spirit.

What did I want of hers? Just what she gave me.

I had been at peace at both my parents' funerals. I cried like a child at hers.

Happy Mother's Day, Leona.

Wiedderich family holds reunion

JEANETTE ROBB-RUENZ
Dickey County Leader

A one-lane country road with grass growing between the wheel tracks seemed to set the scene for this article. Very possible there wasn't a trail such as this when John and Elizabeth Wiedderich arrived in North Dakota in 1899. Like so many German-Russian people, they came to begin a new life in the prairie state.

Thus it was 100 years later that the descendants of John and Elizabeth, and those of his brothers and sisters gathered in Edgeley for a reunion. One hundred and two members of the Wiedderich families spent Sunday, June 13th visiting, remembering, sharing history and information, and enjoy a meal which included home-made sausage and kuchen.

Memorabilia on display included old photos and two family Bibles. Grandma Elizabeth's punch bowl which was always used at family celebrations was once again put to use.

The families had traveled from California, Oregon, Washington, Colorado, Arizona, Iowa, Wisconsin, South Dakota and North Dakota.

An "open-mike" forum gave everyone the opportunity to share memories. August Wiedderich, who lives north of Monango, had been appointed historian. Family members agree he resembles his grandfather, John. He shared several stories and recollections. Others took a turn with introductions and comments. Many pictures were taken to preserve the event. Dean Washborn of Colorado had done extensive research on the family tree and shared his findings.

John is the only brother to homestead in North Dakota. The rest of the brothers and sisters settled in South Dakota. Ten of his children lived to adulthood and married and all remained in Dickey County.

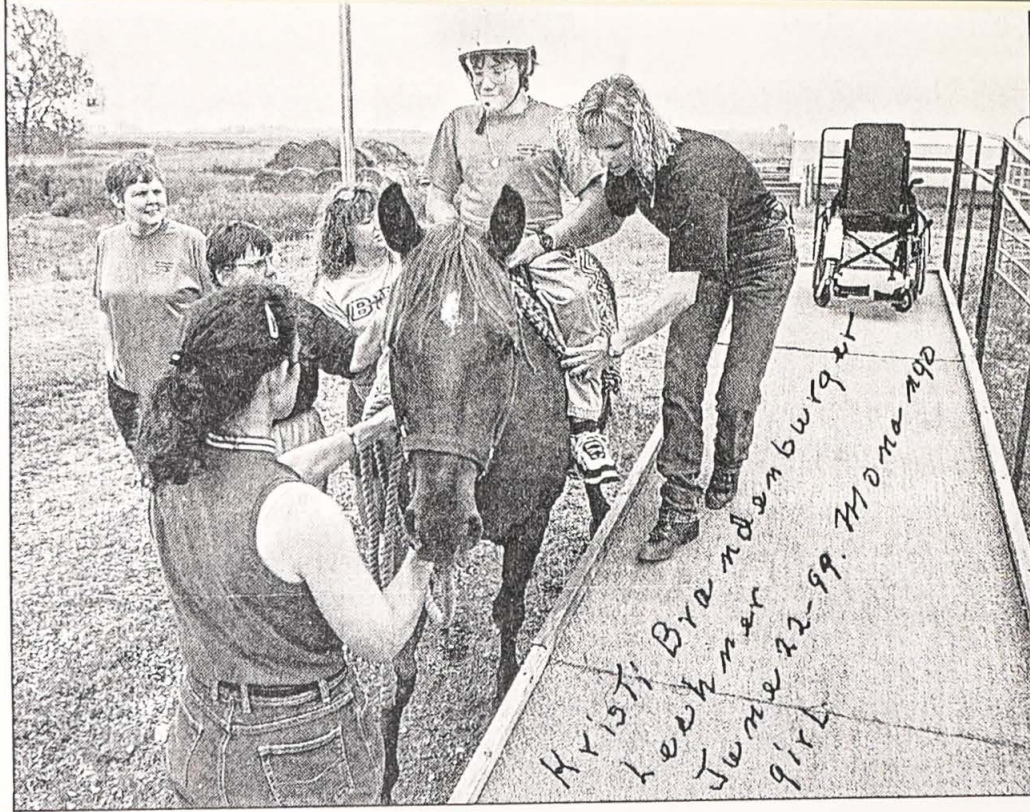

August has in his possession his grandfather's citizenship papers. It was given to him by Mark Blumer, who found it in the Blumer Law Office. It is dated November 4, 1904. Two friends, Joseph Freigan and Christ Biederstadt were the witnesses for John Wiedderich in the special November District, Dickey County, State of North Dakota. They attested to the fact that "Mr. Wiedderich had resided within the limits and under the jurisdiction of the United States for five years past, and for one year past within the state of North Dakota; and that during the same period he had behaved himself as a man of good moral character, attached to the principles of the Constitution of the United States and well disposed to the good order and happiness of the same..." The certificate was signed by Judge W.S. Lauder. It is a rare piece of documentation that is treasured by the family.

July 21 199 at Hi Acres Manor in Jamestown, ND.

Hulda Rempfer was born
December 25, 1910, in Jud, ND, the daughter of John and Mary (Strobel) Rempfer. She grew up on the family farm near Jud, ND, attending rural schools. She married Martin Goehner on September 16, 1928 in Kulm, ND. After their marriage they farmed in German Township, Dickey County,
11 miles south of Kulm until 1957.
They moved to Jamestown, ND, she worked for the North Dakota
State Hospital for eleven years.
Mr. Goehner passed away in 1967.
Hulda married Emil Retzlaff on November 23, 1968. They made their home on a farm south of

A big thank you to the Edgeley, Ellendale and Fullerton Fire Departments for their quick response. We appreciate all their hard work to get the fire under control. Also to the Fullerton Elevator, Robert Brandenburger and all others who helped in any way. Thanks so much. Sept 16-99

Gene, Brenda, Jeff, Wade and Sandy Radermacher

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

Ellendale recently lost one of its most beloved citizens. A man who has been a friend of the Ellendale, Forbes, Monango, and Fullerton communities for most of this century. We all too often talk about leaders, role models and hero's very loosely. Seldom do people truly live up to these standards in this day and age. I think I speak for every student who ever came in contact with Virgil Newman. He was a true leader, role model and hero.

The statement I am about to make has been expressed many times about many others. Never has it been more true. I never ever heard a bad word about Mr. Newman. An educator who is respected by all the students he or she comes in contact with is rare indeed. His contributions to the community and those of us who were his students is immeasurable.

My memory takes me back to a chilly day in November of 1963. We were discussing current events in Mr. Newman's history class when we heard a knock on the door. The Principal Robert Hanson called Mr. Newman out in the hall and closed the door. It was exactly 1:20 in the afternoon. Mr. Newman came back and his demeanor had obviously changed. He made a short announcement that President Kennedy had been assassinated in Dallas, Texas. School was dismissed and we could go home. None of us 15 and 16 year-old kids realized that we would remember those few short minutes for the rest of our lives. Thus Mr. Newman was forever tied to our memories.

Even without that tragedy we all would have remembered Mr. Newman. He had a way of controlling students with a simple stern look and an occasional snap of the fingers. Not an easy thing to do. Other teachers raised their voices, kept you after school, threw you against the wall, or marched you up to the principal's office. They still never had half the control that Mr. Newman had. I grew to appreciate the difficulty of what he accomplished when I student taught in Mobridge, SD. I tried to model myself after him but by the third week I had lost control and could not get it back. Teachers earn their salaries a hundred times over. I knew that I had to find another profession.

I think Mr. Newman was able to keep that control because for some reason none of us wanted to disappoint him. Much as we never wanted to disappoint our fathers. We all knew without a doubt that all he wanted was what was best for us. He had our respect and we listened and we learned. He had a profound influence on my life. My thoughts are with his family, friends and the community.

the fire down by the time Ellendale arrived. At the time of the fire, the barn was unoccupied. The east one-quarter of the roof and attic was removed on the milking barn. The left structure with some roof and smoldering was intact. At the owner's request, the remaining parts of the barn left standing were bulldozed down when the embers cooled.

Carol C. Wiederrich

Carol C. Wiederrich, Portland, OR, died September 27, 1999, at the age of 82 at a care home in Portland. At her request, no services were held, disposition was by cremation. Private committal was held in Monango, ND.

Carol C. Wiederrich was born on March 16, 1917 in Spencer, Iowa, the daughter of William and Jennie Brown. As a child, Carol moved to Des Moines, Iowa, where she attended high school. She began working in retail sales and lived in Glenwood and Hot Springs, Arkansas, for three years. In 1945 she moved to Monango, ND, living there until 1953.

She then moved to Portland and cared for her home and family. In the late 1970's, she went to work for Made in Oregon stores, working at the Portland Airport location and then at the Lloyd Center, retiring in the early 80s.

As hobbies, Carol enjoyed knitting and crocheting and she was a big fan of Portland Trail Blazers. She kept all the stats and watched every game. During her younger years, she was a member of the Women of Elks in Gresham, OR, and enjoyed growing flowers and gardening.

Carol is survived by her son, David of Gresham, OR; two brothers, Lyle Johns of Murray, Iowa and Cecil Johns (address unknown); two grandchildren, Jake and Collette Wiederrich, both of Gresham, OR.

Carol's family ask that contributions be made to Providence Portland Medical Foundation; PO Box 3335, Portland, OR 97208-9796 for Hospice.

While living in Monango, Carol lived next door to the mother of Karen Herzog. Carol had left such an impression on Karen as a child, that Karen wrote the following article after she had grown and was working for the Mandan News. The article is titled:

The Kindness of Strangers

In "A Streetcar Named Desire," Tennessee Williams wrote the poignant line for Blanche DuBois, "I have always depended upon the kindness of strangers."

I wonder if my mother's friend and next door neighbor, Carol, felt like a stranger when she first came to North Dakota with her husband.

Carol was from the south, from Arkansas, and she had the twang to prove it. That alone would have made her an exotic in the small-town North Dakota of the 40s and 50s. Carol's speech was strung with southern idioms. To this day, I sometimes hear myself say "awnry" for 'onery.' Y'all come her rat naow' was how she beckoned you.

Edwin Wiederrich
Lived where Art
Hartman are

Those days, there was no air conditioning, so on the hottest days of July and August, sensible North Dakota housewives would close up their shades from early morning on, and humming fans cooled the dim rooms of their houses. They opened the doors as little as possible, set ice cubes in front of the fans, and tried to cook early in the morning during the cooler part of the day.

Coming over to visit Carol on those hot summer days, Mom said, she would find her canning, all four burners on, boiling water and jars and juice, happy as a clam in the heat that wilted the winter-tough Dakotans.

It is a beautiful sunny June morning. When I wake up, my mother is already up. I can hear her and Carol murmuring in the kitchen. They are sitting at the kitchen table, drinking coffee under squares of sunshine. When I get up, I run out to the kitchen in my pajamas and up and onto Carol's warm, welcoming lap. Without breaking of the woman-to-woman talk, she makes just the right space for me to curl up, and makes me feel grown up and special by letting me drink coffee, diluted with lots of cream. And I feel totally safe and utterly happy. That is my most perfect childhood memory-to be a sleepy four-year-old, to sit drowsy and safe in a protective lap and let the grown up words take care of everything, drifting back and forth over my head.

Carol wasn't able to have children. And she loved kids, and kids knew it. She had a very tough life before she married and came to our community, but she was the warmest most comfortable person I can remember.

My mother also remember her that way, as the person who would do anything for you. Carol's house was an oasis of warmth for us in some very grief-filled and struggling times in mother's life. Carol never walked away, never turned her back, cared abundantly, offered the shirt off her back. She was more than a lifesaver, she was a lifegiver.

Other people I remember had gifts for making money common sense, extraordinary intelligence, etc. But Carol had a gift for kindness. That talent is not rare, but it's not as common as you might think either. All talents are valuable, but the capacity for love is beyond price.

It's been very many years since I've seen Carol. She lives in Oregon, and she has an adopted son and grandchildren. It's most likely that I will never see her again. But she gave me a gift that has warmed me over and over for my whole life. Every time I add cream to my coffee, I remember a Southern drawl, a warm lap and the thrill of drinking grownup coffee, and a rare, perfect, golden childhood morning.

Monango resident cooks on Prairie Public

Luella Zinter, Monango, cooks with host Becky Jons in "Prairie Public Cooks "S is for Soups and Stews," October 16th on Prairie Public TV.

People across the prairie region will be serving Borscht thanks to Monango resident Luella Zinter. Zinter demonstrated her special recipe and gave cooking pointers on Prairie Public's cooking show Prairie Public Cooks.

The Prairie Public Cooks episode "S is for Soups and Stews" aired Saturday, October 16. It featured guest cooks from North Dakota, Minnesota and Canada, cooking their best soup or stew recipes.

Zinter was one of seven people chosen to appear on the episode. Approximately 75 people from across Prairie Public's viewing area entered their recipes. In addition to Zinter, Marcia Harris and Tim Fought, Bismarck; Amy Sand, Ellendale; and Marlys Legler, Jamestown; Frankie Hanley, Barnesville, MN; and Chef Joe Wjakowski, from the Winnipeg, Manitoba, Hotel Fort Garry, whipped up their favorite soups and stew recipes on the program.

"S is for Soups and Stews" is the second episode of Prairie Public Cooks. In May, Prairie Public premiered this special series with "P is for Pasta." The third Prairie Public Cooks is planned for April 2000 and focuses on "D is for Desserts."

Prairie Public Cooks "S is for Soups and Stews" will repeat on Prairie Public in December.

For 35 years, Prairie Public Television has supported the prairie community through broadcast and technological services. Prairie Public Television is seen on KFME/13/Fargo, KGFE/2/Grand Forks, KBME/3/Bismarck, KSRE/6/Minot, KDSE/9/Dickinson, KWSE/4/Williston, KJRE/19/Ellendale, and Winnipeg Cable Channel 3. Potluck for Germans from Russia Heritage Society

Nov 26-99

The Aberdeen Chapter of the Germans from Russia Heritage Society will have a Christmas potluck social and meeting at 6:30 p.m. Dec. 6 at the Aberdeen Area Senior Center, 1303 Seventh Ave. S.E.

Tiny Gebhardt will provide entertainment. Members and guests are asked to bring their families and a dish to pass, their own silverware and dishes. Coffee will be provided. The public is invited.

A meeting on reorganization will be held Monday afternoon, Dec. 5 at 1:30 o'clock in the Monango school gymnasium. County Superintendent Miss Mary Kelsh announced this week.

Dec 2-1999

The county land sale for the property in Monango was voided and the money was returned to Carl Zahn. This was done on advice from States Attorney Steph McLean. The land should not have been put up for sale as the fifth year taxes had been paid, according to McLean, and the only proper thing to do was rescind the sale.

PRETTY WEDDING

Charles D. Hathaway and Miss Belle Northrop Married at Monango Last Evening.

The marriage of Mr. Charles D. Hathaway and Miss Belle Northrop took place last evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Northrop, at Monango. The wedding party took their places, to the strains of the march played by Mrs. W. A. Caldwell, in front of the large south window of the drawing room under an arch tastefully arranged and beautiful. Mr. Richard Newton acted as best man and the bride was supported by her sister, Miss Beth. After the brief but impressive ceremony of the Presbyterian church, performed by Rev. H. J. T. Stirling of Ellendale, the guests to the number of about one hundred thronged to congratulate the bride and groom, after which a splendid repast was served and the young couple left for their home at Merricourt, amidst a shower of good wishes, rice and old shoes.

The contracting parties are very prominent young people of the county, the bride having been one of our best school teachers, and the groom has charge of the elevator at Merricourt. The Leader joins with their large circle of friends in extending congratulations.

Those attending the wedding from Ellendale were: Geo. H. Keyes and wife, F. L. Walker and wife, Mrs. Laue, Mrs. G. W. Irwin and daughter, Miss Mattie Irwin.
